Four Corners, The Four Corners Home Extension Unit will meet January 15 at 1:30 p. m. in the Community hall. The topic, "Step Saving Kitchens," will be presented by the Extension Agent. Hostesses will be Mrs. Waldo Miller, Mrs. L. C. Mitchell, Mrs. Rex Morris, Mrs. Larry Wagner.

Mrs. Stuart Compton will be hostess to the Sigma Kappa alumnae at her home, 1105 Columbia St., Thursday night at 8 o'clock.

Seen and Heard..

By JERYME ENGLISH

A SPRING STORY . . . It's Leap Year and fashions will accent femininity . . . Little waistlines, big sleeves and bows, and lingerie trappings doing their utmost to make women look appealing for the spring of 1952 . . . The skirts the thing in suits . . . The skirts nearly every kind of silhouette is included . . . flattery, rippled, flared, pleated, straight and narrow . . . Suits also give a strong resemblance to two-piece dresses . . . Many are made with dress length sleeves . . . Better stretch your crinolines . . . as they will be worn over everything, except the very straight skirt . . . the silhouette is smooth and fitted over the hips and from there the skirts get wider and wider . . .

More of same . . . Also noteworthy for spring are capes, dresses with a Spencer jacket, boxy cutaway jackets, boleros . . . Skirts are lined as well as jackets and coats . . . Linings of coats matching a suit and jacket linings matching blouses . . . hemlines are stiffened . . . checks are popular . . . bows are worn with everything, especially with collarless suits and coats . . . pins of all sizes adorning lapels . . . Pins in pairs, one for each lapel . . . on either side of a collar . . . Prints are to be worn now under the fur coat and way into the spring season . . . predominating are the two-toned prints . . . many made as ensembles . . . here again prints used as linings to match the dress . . . Practically vanished is the basic black dress or suit for spring . . . greys, blues, pinks, dashes of brown and a wide field of greens leading the color parade.

HONOR GUEST . . . at a delightful, informal buffet supper party on Thursday night, was Sharon Currier, attractive blonde singer . . . Mr. and Mrs. Harold Shogren hosts for the affair at their North 23rd street home following the young singer's concert at the high school auditorium . . . A group of Sharon's friends invited to the party . . . including her parents, the Sam H. Ruhls and sister, Virginia . . . For the benefit concert, sponsored by the Salem Lions Club, Sharon wore an emerald green net ballerina frock adorned with pale pink petals on the side of the skirt and pink satin slippers . . . At another recent gathering, where Sharon sang informally for a group of friends, she wore a most becoming concert gown of black velvet with deep lace insertion on the bodice and lace panel extending from the waistline to the hemline in front . . . a pearl necklace and bracelet . . . Sharon will soon be off to New York City to continue her voice training and attend school . . . and we wish lots of luck to the promising young artist . . .

CHANGE OF ADDRESS . . . for the Myers twins, Jeanne and Janice . . . Lt. (jg) and Mrs. Henry Johnson (Jeanne) and daughter, Deborah, are now in Chula Vista, Calif. . . . Lt. Johnson is stationed nearby at San Diego on a submarine . . . Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Myers (Janice) and daughter, Christine, have moved in Eugene to a new house on Jefferson street.

MOTHERS MARCH . . . on-polo to be held for the second consecutive year on Thursday night, Jan. 31 . . . Mrs. Grant Rogers, who so capably managed the successful march last year, is again heading the march . . . She has already recruited nearly a thousand women to work as colonels, captains, lieutenants and workers . . . The women will ring doorbells for just one hour between 7 and 8 o'clock on the 31st . . .

WEDDING ECHOES . . . Outstanding the decor for the beautiful mid-winter nuptials of Patricia Larson and Donald Reger a week ago today at the First Congregational Church . . . Ice blue predominating . . . blue tapers and masses of white chrysanthemums at the altar . . . Oh and ah for the beautifully frocked bridesmaids in ice blue satin and net and carrying muffs . . . and for brunette Mary Lee Griner the flower girl . . . and the bride so radiant in her satin and lace gown . . . the newlyweds all smiles as they walked up the aisle . . .

At the reception . . . the couple greeting their guests in the church parlors . . . The bride's parents, the W. W. Larsons, who moved to Portland this past year, welcoming their Salem friends . . . A large contingent of the young set on hand for the occasion including many of the groom's friends down from Portland . . . The Donald Plympton (Wilda Jerman) here from Oregon City . . . one pew filled with a group of handsome men friends of the groom, all from Portland . . .

En famille . . . many children accompanying their parents to the afternoon wedding and for several it was their first "big" wedding . . . Mr. and Mrs. Henry Simmons and Doug . . . Mrs. Simmons wearing a pretentious bon bon pink coat in hat to match . . . her classic style brown sheer wool dress adorned with cascade pleating . . . Mr. and Mrs. Barney Van Osenoord and Vickie . . . Mr. and Mrs. Harris Lietz and Bobby . . . With the Merrill Ohlings was their son-in-law, Donald Wells . . . the latter's wife, Sara Ann, one of the bridesmaids . . . Dr. and Mrs. Wolcott E. Buren and son, Dick, who is transferring to Willamette University this term from the University of Oregon . . .

Among others of the young marrieds . . . the John Mauldings . . . Gerald and Beverly Bull . . . the latter singing for the nuptials . . . and the Norman Manns . . . Representing the Spinsters, of which Pat was a member, Charlotte Alexander, Grace Shields and Evelyn Johnson . . . all taking part in the rice throwing as the newlyweds dashed to their car . . . Nancy Montgomery, an airline stewardess, flew in from Seattle for the wedding . . . and looking smart in a beige coat with brown trim and brown chapeau . . . busy reminiscing with her friends and hearing all the "news" . . .
