CHICAGO (AP)—Sen. Morse (R-Ore.) said Tuesday night President Truman's proposed 85-billion dollar budget is impractical, unnecessary and inflationary.

In a speech prepared for delivery to the Chicago Council on Foreign Relations, Morse said the budget "is impractical from many standpoints."

"First," he said, "it cannot be spent economically during the next year. It will in and of itself produce waste and inefficiency in administration."

"Second, it is not needed as of now. Sure, I know that if the goods were available we could use 85-billion dollars worth, but they are not available. The attempt to spend that much money will only result in contracting for a lot of goods and services that will not serve any vitally needed purpose. Let us spend less but produce the most vitally needed goods such as planes and new atomic weapons."

"Third, an 85-billion dollar budget will increase inflation pressures."

Morse, who often has voted with the administration, said Congress "should not approve a budget beyond 70 billions."

He contended savings can be made in both the civilian and military portions of the budget.

He urged a "sound economic program as part of our foreign policy," emphasizing a "point four program based upon a line of credit leaning policy."

"For many years to come it will be necessary to have an economic aid program to foreign countries to some extent," he said. "However, it should be granted on a project-to-project basis."

Following a 45-minute hearing, Joe Marsh's application for a package beer license was taken under advisement Tuesday by Marion County Court.

Marsh had applied for a license for his grocery store at Drake's Crossing on the Silver Falls Highway.

Fifteen of the persons at the hearing favored granting the license, while 10 were opposed. Petitions which have been filed with the court in the matter showed 93 names favoring and 75 opposed.

In 1949 New York and Texas were the only states in the United States that had more than 500 hospitals each.

Senators Query Dulles on Japan Treaty Issues

WASHINGTON (AP)—John Foster Dulles assured Senators Tuesday that Japan, the only nation ever subjected to atomic attack, would have little chance or desire to produce atomic weapons.

The Japanese are fully aware of the horrors of atomic warfare, Dulles said, and would be eager to endorse a worldwide system of control over atomic weapons.

Testifying before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee Dulles also made these points:

1. Some Pacific nations have shown a "reluctance" to line up with the United States in a Pacific counterpart of the North Atlantic Alliance for the defense of Western Europe.

Partly for that reason—and because of strategic problems no plans are being made now for a master Pacific Defense Pact.

2. Japan has agreed, in a binding exchange of notes with the United States, to make facilities available to United Nations forces in the event of trouble in the Japanese area.

Dulles, Republican advisor to the State Department, gave his views as the Senate Committee continued hearings on the proposed Japanese peace treaty and three separate security pacts involving the United States, Japan, the Philippines, Australia and New Zealand.

Dulles is generally regarded as the chief architect of the Japanese peace treaty, which is subject to Senate ratification.

Senators questioned Dulles closely on the possibility that Japan might set up an atomic program once her sovereignty has been restored.

Plane Mishaps Widow Tacoma Woman Twice

TACOMA (AP)—Mrs. Stanley Lankiewicz Jr., has lost two flying warrior husbands.

Word that the body of husky, 230-pound Capt. Lankiewicz had been found near the scene of the B-17 crash in the Olympic mountains stunned the widow Monday.

"My first husband," she said, "was a World War II bombardier who was killed in the South Pacific."

Mrs. Lankiewicz is the mother of three children. A fourth is expected in April.

Lankiewicz was the navigator on the ill-fated B-17.

Taft Favors Decentralized Farm Controls

MONROE, Wis. (AP)—Sen. Taft said Tuesday that agriculture production controls, when necessary, should be carried out by farmers themselves and not vested in Washington.

"In an emergency it may be absolutely necessary to impose production controls, but when it is done, it ought to be kept as far away as possible from Washington and in the hands of the farmers themselves," Taft said in a political speech.

A mild chorus of boos greeted Taft when he walked into the Chevrolet assembly plant at Janesville earlier Tuesday.

One workman declined an introduction to the Republican presidential aspirant.

"Not for me," he said, turning his back, when a shop steward asked if he'd like to meet the Ohio senator.

Tunisia Riots Boost Known Deaths to 28

TUNIS, Tunisia (AP)—Rioting at the Port of Sousse Tuesday boosted to 28 the known death toll in a week of clashes between independence-seeking Nationalists and police of this French North African Protectorate.

Col. Norbert Durand, Arabic-speaking French military commander of the Sousse region, and nine Tunisians fell at that city of 25,000 on the Gulf of Hammamet 70 miles southeast of Tunis.

French sources gave this account of the outburst:

Durand tried to calm a crowd of demonstrators bent on attacking the European quarter. He had almost succeeded when two revolver bullets dropped him to the ground. Tunisians then rushed on the Colonel with clubs. Police and troops fired.

In Paris, the French National Assembly endorsed Premier Edgar Faure's new cabinet by an unusually heavy vote within a few hours after the news arrived.

Faure won support for a middle of the road policy in Tunisia, 396 to 220. He said French officials will resume talks with Tunisian leaders with a view to granting them more home rule, but "there will be no abandonment, no departure by France from Tunisia."

Iran Refuses To Accredite British Envoy

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—Iran Tuesday slammed the door in the face of Robert Hankey, former private secretary to British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, and refused to accept him as Britain's ambassador.

The rejection was announced on a national "patriotic" holiday called by nationalistic Moslems to celebrate another blow at the British—the closing Monday of all nine British consulates in this country.

Premier Mo'hammed Mossadegh's government was expected to use the latest anti-British gesture as a propaganda weapon in the elections which began in Tehran Tuesday and will continue Wednesday and Thursday. Tehran is choosing 12 of the 136 members of the lower House of Parliament.

Hankey was the first secretary of the British embassy here during World War II.

One source said the Iranian government wants a "real newcomer" at the British embassy. But the government offered no reasons for the rejection in its brief note to the embassy.

The turndown by one country of the nomination for ambassador is unusual.

Death Penalty Decreed in Tacoma Case

TACOMA (AP)—A Superior Court jury decreed the death penalty Tuesday for Bill Smith Jr., 26-year-old Burlingame, Calif., car-thief.

The jury of seven women and five men convicted him of first degree murder for the 1948 killing of Noreen McNicholas. The jury deliberated about eight hours.

Defense Attorney Earl D. Mann and Richard Hodge indicated they would probably appeal the verdict.

The 17-year-old girl was killed in a park outside Tacoma. The key state witness, Ella Mae Cooper, testified that she saw the killing. Smith, Noreen and Ella Mae were all students in a beauty school at the time.

Smith denied the charge from the witness stand during the two-week trial.

Smith was charged with the slaying after being arrested in California. He was picked up after Miss Cooper became hysterical on a visit to the park and blurted out a story of having seen Noreen killed there more than two years earlier.
