Here Sunday | Church Leader School Begins Tuesday Night

Final plans for the Standard Leadership Training School for church school workers were detailed Friday by Dr. Arthur H. Maynard, serving as dean. The school, beginning Tuesday night, is open to those interested from Salem and the surrounding area.

Sponsor is Salem Ministerial Association, with some 25 churches. Two classes, at 7:30 and 8:40, will be conducted each Tuesday night for six weeks at First Presbyterian Church. Enrollees participating may, take one or two courses of the seven offered for $1 each. A worship period is planned for 8:20 p.m.

The early classes will be three on the teaching of primary, junior and intermediate children, respectively, and one on "Christianity at Work in Salem." In the only change from the earlier-announced faculty, this will be conducted by the Rev. Harold W. Black of West Salem Methodist Church, with community leaders to be called on for information and guidance.

The second session will have classes on the New Testament, auconstruction program of First dio-visual aids and Sunday School
