YMCA Group Starts Drive For Members

Enthusiasm filled Salem YMCA at an early hour Monday, as 38 volunteer members started the YM's annual membership campaign.

Among the enthusiasts was Robert O Smith, membership chairman for the YMCA board of directors, who presided.

When he urged the campaigners to pick plenty of prospects from the cards posted on the wall, just about everybody responded, including the surprised worker who found the name Robert O. Smith and signed up the presiding officer on the spot.

Smith's membership had just expired.

Otherwise the campaigners were doing their recruiting outside the YMCA and preparing to report their progress at another 7:15 a.m. breakfast meeting Thursday. Leslie Nelson is drive chairman.

10 Firms Enter Bids on Forest Spray Jobs

The Oregon Department Of Finance opened bids Monday for aerial spraying of more than 295,000 acres of Northwest Oregon Forests. There were 10 bidders.

State Industry Accident Claim Total Increases

Claims filed with the State Industrial Accident Commission for 1951 increaed 13 ½ per cent over the total for 1950, the commission reported Monday.

Employment showed an increase of 9 per cent and the number of firms covered under The Workmen's Compensation Act was up nearly 4 per cent as compared with 1950 figures.

A slight decrease was registered in the number of fatal accident claims with 150 workmen killed last year as against 155 in 1950.

The Lumbering Industry (Logging, Sawmilling and Log Hauling) continued to lead the Industrial Accident field with 7,067,358 man days. This industry contributed 22 per cent of all reported accidents and 49 per cent of the fatalities. There were 68 fatal logging accidents last year, compared to 90 in 1950.

Twenty-eight workmen were killed in contract construction and 5 in building construction.

Other fatal accidents include trade 7, mining 6, utilities and government 5 each, transportation and agriculture 3 each, manufacturing 4, garage and forestry 1 each.

Employment in all construction was up approximately 17 per cent in 1951. The combined construction industry produced approximately 15 per cent of all claims filed with the commission.

Activities of Salem Service Men Reported

Promotions or new assignments for three Salem service men were announced Monday by the Army and Air Force.

The advancements went to James L. Foster, now a sergeant first class, and Floyd L. Herring, a new sergeant.

Foster, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Foster, 2885 Mountain View Dr., is serving with the 7th Infantry Division in the Korean fighting. He attended Salem High School and was employed as a welder before enlisting in October, 1950, and is now assigned to a medical company.

Herring, in the Army for three years, is the son of Mrs. Roxie Herring, 1655 N. Church St. He is a mechanic with the 507th Engineer Heavy Shop Company at Hanau, Germany.

The new assignment was for Cpl. Albert A. Jairl, son of Mrs. J. A. Breckheimer, 1811 N. 4th St., just arrived in Japan with the First Cavalry Division after nearly a year's combat duty in Korea.

Production Drops 16.9 Per Cent At Mt. Angel Co-op Creamery

By LILLIE L. MADSEN
Farm Editor, The Statesman

MOUNT ANGEL—Production at Mt. Angel Co-operative Creamery dropped 16.9 per cent this year. Total volume for 1951 was $1,814,671 as compared to $1,903,327 in 1950.

Expenses, however, were down only 7.8 per cent, and dollar volume was down 4.1 per cent.

These figures were shown in the report made by the manager, Frank Hettwer, at the annual membership meeting held at St. Mary's school Monday.

Hettwer explained that certain expenses remain the same, that "it costs just as much to bring in on the truck, to empty and to test a quarter of a can of milk as a full one."

There are, he added, only 19 less members than a year ago. Membership as of Jan. 1, 1951 was 1,943. The drop in volume is caused, he said, by the smaller number of cows owned and milked by each member.

"People just aren't milking as many cows," George Kruse, president, stated. "If we had more volume we could pay more per hundred pounds of milk. But dairymen are finding that industry pays more at less hours of work. Somehow, we must find a means of swinging the pendulum the other way."

Reports showed further that factory cost in producing a pound of butter this past year was 19.78 cents and of this 10.18 cents went for labor. These costs, Manager Hettwer explained are in addition to the expenses at the farm incured in the production of the milk itself.

During 1951, butter sales were $537,058 as compared to $566,510 in 1950. Cheese sales, however, increased from $497,136 in 1950, to $508,799 in 1951. Grade A milk sales showed a drop from $376,416 in 1950, to $365,929 this past year.

This past year considerable money was spent in buildings and improvement which will not be necessary for this coming year, Mr. Hettwer stated, adding that "I see no large expenses coming up for the next year."

The old 1946 reserve of $25,000 will be refunded this year together with the 1946 interest certificates amounting to $58,918 for which refunding authorization was given at the last yearly meeting. Monday, the membership voted authorization for refunding the 1947 certificates, amounting to $49,302.

John D. Lienhart Jr., Woodburn, was named director to fill out the unexpired term of the late C. E. Eastman, former president of the cooperative. Others re-elected to the board were George H. Kruse, Ed Ebner and Alois Kirsch, all of Mt. Angel. Oscar R. Overlund, Silverton, is the only hold-over director.

At a directors' organization meeting held following the close of the membership meeting, George Kruse, vice president, and serving as president since Mr. Eastman's death early in 1951, was named president, and Oscar Overlund, the new vice president. Frank Hettwer was retained as secretary-manager.

Dr. Martin Keeps Exchange Club Post

Reappointment of Dr. George B. Martin to serve a second term as governor of the Oregon Exchange Clubs in this district was announced Monday.

Martin is head of the education department at Willamette University and secretary of the Salem Exchange Club.

Belgrano Sees Continued High Business Level

A continuing high level of business in Salem this year was predicted Monday by Frank Belgrano, president of First National Bank of Portland.

Barring general war or total peace, said the banker, payrolls and retail and agricultural income should continue as strong as the past year. Belgrano addressed more than 200 members of Salem Chamber of Commerce at a Senator Hotel luncheon.

But profits in Salem and elsewhere may be lower this year, declared Belgrano, because of the heavy federal taxes which he described as "oppressive."

He said even the recent government announcements of impending materials shortages had not stimulated sales of automobiles, appliances and other durable goods and it would appear unlikely that in face of business competition that the entire load of higher costs could be passed on to consumers.

Belgrano predicted that this election year would see another round of wage increases and continuing inflation.

Livestockmen Asked to Back Reappraisal

MCMINNVILLE (AP)—A proposal to reappraise all property in Oregon went before the Western Oregon Livestock Association annual meeting here Monday.

The resolution, which went to the tax and legislation committee for a later report, suggested that ranchers were carrying more than their share of the tax burden.

Timberland and perhaps other property could stand higher taxes, speakers said. The proposal calls for reappraisal to correct inequalites.

Archie Riekkola, Astoria, said the public is unfriendly toward stockmen now because of meat prices, but he defended the stockmen's position.

He cited figures that he said proved a pound of round steak is cheaper now than in 1929 in terms of real buying power.

C. A. Stearns, Portland OPS meat price specialist, is scheduled to discuss price ceiling Tuesday.

Man Bound Over to County Grand Jury

Elmo C. Lowe, 396 S. 21st St., was bound over to the grand jury Monday on a charge of obtaining money by false pretenses. He was held in Marion County jail in lieu of $2,000 bail.

Lowe pleaded innocent and waived preliminary examination on the charge, involving alleged passing of a worthless $50 check at Dickson's Market last June 23.

What makes Olympia so satisfying?

"It's the Water"

Olympia's rich, satisfying flavor is attributed to the rare artesian water from our own wells at Tumwater, Washington. This water improves every process of brewing. It extracts hidden flavors from hops and grains. It creates more active fermentation, giving sparkling life to the beer, and assures constant purity. Enjoy Olympia ...
