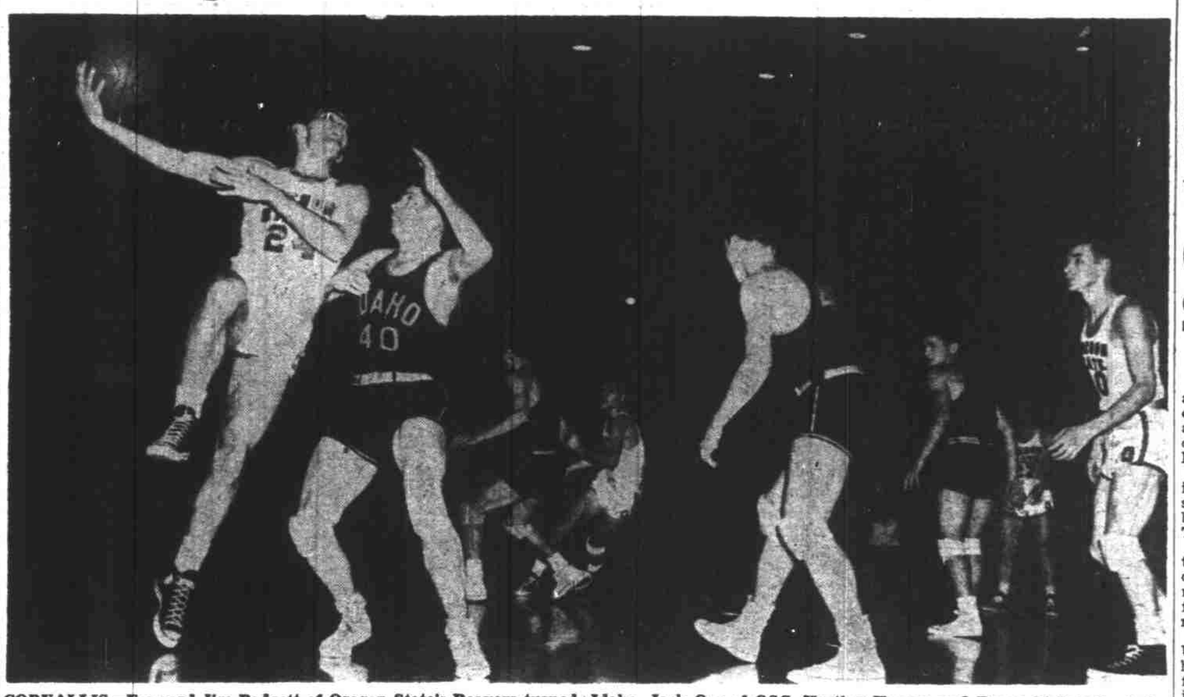
Vandals Rack 46-43 Win Over Bevos

Padgett Hooks for '2' in Basket Clash With Idaho



CORVALLIS—Forward Jim Padgett of Oregon State's Beavers turned loose this hook shot for two points in the Tuesday game with Idaho here, firing over the guard of Captain Sam Jenkins (40) of the Vandals. Other players shown in the photo are (l-r) Bill Mather of Idaho, Jack Orr of OSC, Hartley Kruger and Bruce McIntosh of the Vandals and Ron Fundingsland and Tex Whiteman of the Beavers. Idaho won Tuesday night 46-43 after bowing 53-49 on Monday night. (Statesman Sports photo).

Viks Earn 72-47 Win Over Indians

Hazel, Bishop Lead Hauks to Win

LEBANON (Special)–Harold Hauk's Salem High School Vikings gained ample revenge for an earlier loss Tuesday night as they swarmed over the Lebanon Warriors 72-47. In the preliminary tilt the Viking Jayvees snared their 16th consecutive victory, whipping the Warrior Jayvees club 63-33.

Bob Hazel, starting his first ball game in some three weeks, was the big point man for the Salems in their vengeance-seeking mix with Lebanon. Bob whirled in 11 baskets and a gifter for a big 23 markers, but close behind was Center Jack Bishop with 18 off nine buckets.

The Hauk club, warm from the start—and much, much more torrid than in their losing mix with Central Catholic last week — steamed out to a 17-8 first-quarter margin and there was little doubt of the outcome after that. At the end of the first half, the Hauk crew was in front by 19 points—at 38-19 and at the third period buzzer it was 58-31 for the Capitol City quint.

The Warriors, who were badly hurt by the inability of their key man, John Stolsig to hit the bucket,did lead in the very early moments. At the 2:10 point in the initial quarter the Viks' Bishop whirled in a close-in basket to give the visiting club a 5-4 margin and they never were headed after that.

The Salems took 82 shots at the bucket and hit a very respectable 33 of 'em, while the Warriors, bothered all evening by a tough SHS defense, had only 39 tries at the hoop. Of these a good 17 were dead hits.

Taking up the slack for Stolsig was Guard Mike Klavano who holed out nine buckets and four charity points for 22 markers, one under the total made by Hazel.

The Vikings, with the Big Six crown already wrapped up, play host to Eugene's Axemen Friday night in a loop scrap.

Card Quintet Grabs 49-39 Win Over SBA

By CHARLES IRELAND
Sports Writer, The Statesman

Virgil Weber led his Sacred Heart mates to a smashing 49-39 upset victory over Salem Academy's green-clad Crusaders Tuesday night.

The defeat was a staggering one for the west-side five. It knocked them out of a mathematical chance to share the Capitol League crown.

Weber counted 24 points to outdistance other scorers. The Crusaders' Bob Johnson matched shots with him in the first two quarters, but faded in the last half under the pressure of four fouls. He scored 12 points, 11 in the first half.

Salem Academy jumped to an early lead on two baskets by Don Friesen, a Dallas lad. The score was tied at 5-all, 8-all, then Sacred Heart grabbed an 11-9 lead at the quarter. But Salem Academy spurted late in the second quarter to hold a 24-20 halftime edge.

Vance Cooney sparked a third-quarter drive that put the Cardinals ahead to stay. He scored four goals during the period, three of them from behind the key. Sacred Heart led by 5 to 10 points throughout the final quarter.

No Confirmation From Officials

Rumor-Mill Has Ogdahl Taking Cat Grid Post

The rumor winds are blowing up Willamette University way concerning a possible change in the school's grid coaching setup.

But Willamette officials have no comment.

The grapevine bristled Tuesday with talk that Teddy Ogdahl, mentor at Portland's Grant High School and a former Bearcat Little All-America backfielder, is in line for the position as head football coach at the local school.

As the rumors would have it, Chester Stackhouse, athletic director and grid skipper for the past three years, has asked to be relieved of the football post so he can devote full time to the athletic directorship and to his duties as track coach.

Neither Stackhouse nor President G. Herbert Smith would confirm the talk and in Portland Ogdahl stated that he had not been approached concerning the post, though he would be interested if and when overtures came along.

Ogdahl has built an outstanding record since taking over the Grant job, winning the state high school crowns in 1949 and 1950 and losing out by the margin of a couple of first downs to Grants Pass in the 1952 finals.

Tuesday results: At Oregon State 43, Idaho 46.

Oregon State had taken a 42-42 lead on Bob Edwards' free throw with about one minute to play before Kruger, who scored 22 points, tipped in a rebound for the winning basket. Melton followed with another field goal to clinch it for Idaho.

Slow Game

It was a slow, seesaw game all the way. Idaho came from behind to grab an 11-9 first quarter lead on a basket by Kruger and Bruce McIntosh's free toss.

But the Vandals went scoreless in the first five minutes of the second period while Danny Johnston potted two field goals and Jim Padgett a free throw to put the Beavers ahead, 15-11. The teams then traded baskets, and Oregon State led at the intermission, 26-22.

Kruger and Dwight Morrison sparked an Idaho rally that tied it at 27-27 midway in the third. Tom Flynn's basket gave the Vandals a 35-33 advantage at the end of the period.

Oregon State moved ahead again briefly, but Kruger's basket knotted the score at 37-37 with six minutes left. Jim Nau, whose 10 points in the second half kept the Beavers in the game, hit two field goals in a rally that put Oregon State ahead, 42-41.

But after Stu Dollinger of Idaho and Edwards had traded free throws, Kruger and Melton came through with the winning baskets.

Johnston was the game's second high scorer with 13 points.

Winter Games Opening Near, Snow Scarce

By TED SMITS

OSLO (AP)–Perspiring Norwegian soldiers put the Olympic ski courses into fair shape Tuesday and the winter games will open on schedule Thursday despite the lack of good snow.

The Oslo weather bureau, in its night forecast, predicted a storm enroute from Iceland would bring snow by Wednesday night. That would solve everything.

One slight change was made in the program because of dangerous conditions. The downhill ski race for women was postponed from Saturday to Sunday to give more time to fix the slope.

As a precautionary measure, the United States Army brought a helicopter here from Germany to fly any injured skiers from Norefjell 70 miles to Oslo. There have been some hard spills because of rocks sticking up through the thin snow cover.

Reinforcements were called in to speed the work of bringing in snow. Two hundred infantrymen will be added tomorrow to the crew of 300 working on "Operation Snow Shovel."

American bobsledders just about gave up hope that any major

Gorky Clan Cops Rubber Win In Mat Mix With Parks Boys

The whiskered Gorkys, Soldat and Ivan, copped the rubber match in their series with the Parks boys Tuesday night at the Armory, coming through in the final fall when Big Soldat applied his pet wolfleap on Bill Parks.

The third battle between the rival duets was another action-packed thriller inwhich the Parks Brothers gained the opening fall in 14 minutes. Both Herb and Bill took turns applying toe holds on Ivan. The Gorkys evened the count nine minutes later when Ivan put a clinching body slam on Herb after both Ivan and Soldat had rammed the elder Parks into a ring corner.

With the crowd in a turmoil in No. 3, the Parks team appeared enroute to the win as they managed to bump the Gorky noggins together in a wild bit of action. All four gladiators were in the ring, going at it pell mell. When order was finally restored, Bill Parks missed a flying drop kick that could have ended the brawl. Instead he fell prey to Saldat's wolfleap and that was the finis.

There was considerable delay at the outset of the match when the Gorkys refused to go on if Buck Weaver ac
