Missionaries 73-61 in the opening clash of their basketball series in the WU gym. The six foot, six inch Logue, enjoying his finest night in four seasons of basketecing for Coach Johnny Lewis, tied the school scoring record established only last week by Teammate Ted Loder in a Lewis & Clark game here.

Already the No. 1 pointsman of the Northwest Conference, Logue pushed his season total to 195 points for 10 games, a 19.5 average. Loder came through with 15 points last night and now has 173 for 10 games, plenty good enough for the league's No 2 rung.

Logue could have had himself 40 points more had Mentor Lewis elected to keep him in the lineup. But having his two sharpshooters sharing the school title is just what the doctor ordered, so far as Lewis is concerned, and Logue was taken from the clash with 3:59 left to play.

Even at that Astorian Douglas had his own opportunities to crack the mark. He had 31 points when he was awarded two free throws or a foul by Dick Fain. He made the first but missed the second. Then moments later he had an easy hook shot from beneath the bucket, but missed that one also.

Logue made 14 field goals in 19 tries—a terrific percentage—and added four free throws for his total. He missed another shot early in the way. His points were divided equally in that 14 came in each half.

As for the game itself, things got off to a slow start and with 8:30 played the count was 3-3. Then Logue hit a spectacular shot from under the basket on a pass from Daryl Girod and the Cats were away to the races, never to be headed. They led 19-9 at the quarter.

The free-wheeling Willamettes, at times looking like five pointed-hand magicians as they poured through the Whites with their fast breaks, turned torrid in the second period and led at its conclusion 43-24. Girod and Captain Lou Scriven, with needle-threading passes set up basket after basket for their big scoring brethren.

Cats led 60-37.

It was practically an all Logue-Loder show in the third frame as this pair made 13 of the 17 points WU rang up. And by now the game turned into a rout as the Cats led 60-37.

But where the visitors had been unable to cope with the off-awesome Bearcats in the first three chapters, they took over the ball game in the final heat. Coach Bob Burgess' fast firing laid threw and therein proved they cannot be taken lightly at any time. They have some star-eyed marksmen of their own in Dick Fain and Freshman Don Robinson. The latter hit five consecutive baskets at the start of the fourth frame and for his evening checked in with 22 points. The veteran Fain had 13.

Paulus Tops Scoring; JVs Extend String

Salem came from behind Friday night to jar Eugene 57-44 and finish the Big Six Conference with

A clean slate for the first time in 10 years.

The Vikings had already clinched the league crown for the sixth year in a row.

The Vikings were on top 15-14 at the end of the quarter but the purple-clad Axemen jumped to the front as the second period opened and stayed there. Jerry Meisler led Eugene's first-half assault with 13 points, nearly all on shots from under the basket.

Peper drew his third foul early in the second period and was benched in favor of Bales, then Springer, as Coach Harold Hauk tried to find a combination that could stop Eugene.

With Peper back in the lineup the Vikings gradually overwhelmed the Axemen in the third quarter. With two minutes left Bradt put Salem ahead 35-34 on a free throw. A rash of Eugene fouls helped the Vikings jump to a 40-34 lead as the quarter ended.

Meisler (nailed out at this point led the fading hopes of the Axemen. But they stayed with the Vikings for two minutes of the final period. Then Hazel, Bishop, Bradt and Paulus slipped into their best stride of the night and with Eugene with a barrage that quickly ran the score to 57-41. Salem reserves played the final two minutes.

No Applications for WU Post But Ogdahl Receptive

By JERRY STONE
State Sports Editor

A successor to Chester Stackhouse as athletic director and head football coach at Willamette University may be named at next week's Portland meeting of the school's board of trustees, but as of Friday G. Herbert Smith, president of the university, reported no applications yet received for the post.

Unofficially, however, all signs pointed to Ted Ogdahl, highly successful coach at Portland's Grant High School and former Willamette grid great, as the man most likely to fill the grid post left vacant by the resignation of Stackhouse on Thursday.

The trustees will act on Stackhouse's resignation next Thursday and can also be expected to consider any most probable take action as to a replacement in the position. Stackhouse asked to be relieved of his duties at the end of this school year.

Ogdahl, winner of two state high school football crowns at Grant and barely edged out for a third this past season, was quoted Friday as saying he definitely will apply for the Bearcat job now that a vacancy exists.

While the bulk of opinion is that Ogdahl is the man who'll wind up with the football post, it was the Methodist school's athletic directorship is still anybody's guess—but a good guess might be John 'n' his basketball and baseball mentor and veteran of the coaching staff with almost five years of duty.

Stackhouse is not yet ready to reveal his future plans, giving no indications whether he will remain in the coaching game or choose to develop his side-line of house designing into a fulltime pursuit.

Concerning Stackhouse's resignation, Dr. Smith issued the following statement Friday:
"In accepting the resignation of Mr. Chester Stackhouse, I wish to express my appreciation and that of the university for his services and his loyalty and his contributions not only in athletics but to the broad program of the university as well."

"Mr. Stackhouse is one of the few men who could have given the service which he rendered in the planning and erection of McCulloch Stadium. He inaugurated for Willamette and Salem the Willamette Relay.

"His interest has been in a broad comprehensive program of athletics designed to benefit as many students as possible. He has worked in close harmony with his colleagues on the staff and faculty, and his many friends in the Willamette family wish him well."

"The result moved the Ducks into third place in the Coast Conference Northern Division race and sank Oregon State deeper into the cellar.

Oregon won the game from the free throw line. Each team had 14 field goals, but the Ducks sank 29 of their 43 charity tosses while CORVALLIS, Ore. (AP)—Oregon won the first game of its annual "civil war" basketball series with Oregon State, 57-44, here Friday night. The result moved the Ducks into third place in the Coast Conference Northern Division race and sank Oregon State deeper into the cellar.

Oregon won the game from the free throw line. Each team had 14 field goals, but the Ducks sank 29 of their 43 charity tosses while

The Ducks went ahead to stay on free tosses by Ken Wegner and Ken Hunt and Keith Farnams third field goal of the period.

The spurt sent Oregon into the final quarter with a 43-39 lead. The Beavers didn't score a field goal the rest of the game, while the Ducks widened their advantage on two field goals by Hunt and several more free throws.

Oregon seized a 16-13 first quarter lead on Chet Noes free throw and big Bob Peterson's only basket of the game.

The Ducks ran their margin to 25-16, with four minutes left in the half, when the Beavers rallied. Four field buckets by Danny Johnston, another by Don Robinson and a tip-in by Al Paton pulled them into a 29-29 tie at the intermission.

Noe topped the scorers with 19 points, 10 on free tosses, followed by Johnston with 17.

The crowd was 7,027. The teams play Saturday night at Eugene.

Huskies Crush Vandals 79-64

Houbregs, Guiness Spark Dye Quintet

MOSCOW, Idaho (AP)—Bob Houbregs and Frank Guiness led the Washington Huskies successfully over their last big hurdle on the road to a Northern Division basketball championship Friday night as the Huskies outdistanced Idaho, 79-64.

It was Guiness' and Houbregs' game all the way, the two accounting for 27 points in the first half and 23 in the second.

The Huskies ended the half ahead 40-32.

Houbregs and Guiness, alternating at the post, increased the Washington margin steadily from the opening of the third quarter.

Houbregs paced the scoring with 26 points and Guiness was right behind with 24. Bruce McIntosh was high for the Vandals with 11.

Only by a miracle could the Vandals now win even a tie for the Northern Division title.
