Quisenberry To Open Third Salem Store

After 33 years' absence, the P. D. Quisenberry Pharmacy will open a store soon near its original site of business on South Liberty Street. The company began there in May, 1919.

The addition of the store at 130 S. Liberty St. soon will make three Quisenberry locations for Salem. The store room was occupied until recently by Stubbfield's Shoe Repair Shop near the Anita store corner at State Street.

"This expansion is part of a long range program," Quisenberry stated Thursday. "We feel Salem warrants a professional pharmacy devoted strictly to sick room necessities and prescriptions. This new site will provide that."

Quisenberry had been located originally in the Guardian Building before it burned down in 1947. He now has pharmacies at the corner of Court and Commercial Streets and near Salem General Hospital.

The slogan of "three Quisenberry Pharmacies that operates as one" will be upheld by a duplication of all files and prescription numbers, Quisenberry said. Patrons may get refills for prescription at any of the stores under this system.

John Sawyer is to supervise the prescription department and Lawrence Sawyer will take charge of the medical centers division at the new store. Both men are presently employed by Quisenberry.

Simplified Oregon Income Tax Seen

Simplification of the state's income tax system by basing payments of taxpayers on a percentage of the federal tax was proposed here Thursday.

Woodburn Red Cross Drive Draws $1,580

The city of Woodburn Thursday finished its Red Cross drive with a total of $1,580, topping last year's contributions by over $400.

This total, coupled with other pledges, raised the Thursday total to $20,980 in Marion County.

"Woodburn's coverage was an excellent one," Frank Pareher, chairman of the Marion County chapter, stated. The total amount of the drive was realized in 580 calls, Pareher explained, "which is extraordinary."

Silverton's Red Cross campaign in the Marion County drive is scheduled to begin Monday. It will be under the chairmanship of Charles Hopkins of the Marshall-Wells store in that city. He has outlined a campaign of downtown coverage by the Lions and Rotary Clubs and residential coverage by the women's clubs.
