Jantze's Clutch Blow Brings Win

Vikings Nose Warriors 5-4 in Season Opener

LEBANON—(Special)—Phil Jantze socked a two-run double in the seventh inning Friday to give Salem High School's Vikings a 5-4 decision over Lebanon's Warriors as the clubs opened the 1952 season.

Jantze whanged out his game-winning blow following a walk to Jim Rice, a beat-out bunt by Bill Nelson and an error which advanced the two to second and third.

Lowell Pearce started on the mound for Harold Hauk's Viks and gave up all four of the foe's runs, three coming in the third frame. Ron Whittaker took over the pitching duties in the fourth and got credit for the win as he blanked the Warriors the remainder of the route.

Whittaker helped his own cause with a bases-empty homer in the sixth. The first two Salem tallies came in the fifth after the Viks had been blanked through the first four innings by Bob Schuefer.

Jantze topped the eight-hit Salem attack with a pair of doubles and Rice had a brace of singles.

The Vikings open their home schedule Tuesday afternoon again- at Sweet Home.

Solons Book Weekend Clashes at Calistoga

CALISTOGA, Cal.—(Special)—The Salem Senators will play two "Grapefruit League" spring training baseball games here this weekend, with the Treasure Island Naval Pirates on Saturday afternoon and with Twin Falls of the Pioneer League Sunday afternoon. Practically the entire Salem pitching staff of Ray McNulty, Larry Mann, Curt Schmidt, Bob Collins and Jack Hemphill will see service in the games, according to Manager Hugh Luby.

Luby continues to look everywhere for a regular first baseman (he's had to play the spot himself in games thus far), at least two more seasoned pitchers and a couple of outfielders.

"For other than those spots," the manager says, "we're not in such bad shape."

Meanwhile Luby has given up hope of signing holdouts Catcher Bill Beard, Pitcher Aldon Wilkie and Outfielder Glenn Stetter, all regulars with the Senators last season.

Bernie DeViveiros, the Detroit Tigers scout for this area, continues to assist Luby with the Senators camp and is also attempting to land player help for the Salems.

Portland Evens 'Frisco Series

Sactos Finally Win; Pettit Beats Suds

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The single-minded Portland Beavers sprayed 16 hits all over Seal Stadium Friday night—all but one of them one-basers — as they slaughtered four San Francisco hurlers for a 12-3 win.

Pitcher Japhet Red Lynn had it easy after yielding a two-run homer to the Seals in the first.

Beavers Ed Barr and Frank Austin led the way with four hits apiece.

The Beavers salted it away with five runs in the third to wipe out a 2-1 San Francisco lead. The Beavers filled the sacks on singles by pitcher Lynn and outfielder Barr and a beat-out bunt by second sacker Ed Basinski. Shortstop Austin singled in two.

Beavers in Flurry

Seal starter Wes Bailey gave way to Bill Dials who walked outfielder Joe Brovia. Clint Conatser's single scored the third run. A bobbled ball let in a fourth. Joe LaFata's long fly counted Brovia with the fifth.

Bob Thurman, Seal outfielder, hit a home run with Len Ratto a base in the first inning.

The Beaver win evened the series at two a-piece.

The Sacramento Solons finally broke through the Los Angeles Angels' winning streak with a 4-2 victory as Rookie Burt Barkelew held the Angels to seven hits. At Hollywood Paul Pettit, the $100,000 bonus pitcher, won his first Coast League game as he hurled Hollywood to a 5-3 win over Seattle. Pettit needed help from Jim Walsh in the ninth.

At San Diego the Padres took their third win of the week from Oakland 10-7.

Entry Deadline Now Sunday Night

Statesman-Capitol Pin Tourney Starts Today

The Statesman-Capitol Alleys Doubles Bowling Tournament swings into initial action today at the Ferry Street pin plant, but officials announce that the deadline for entries has been extended to Sunday night to provide out-of-town rollers with further opportunity to enter the show.

Bowlers from surrounding towns of the valley are reminded that they are qualified to enter the tourney. In fact any within a 40-mile radius are eligible so long as they have a handicap established upon participation in at least 15 games in a sanctioned league.

As of Friday night a total of 51 men's teams had signed for the tourney and the number is expected to hit in the vicinity of 75 before deadline time. Women keglers have their division in the tourney, too, and are urged to register for a crack at the big glittering championship trophy in their class plus a number of cash prizes. The entry fee is $2.50 per person.

The tourney is composed of three rounds plus the finals which are set for the weekend of May 3-4.

Each round will see participants rolling three games a piece. Deadline for first round play is Sunday night, April 13, followed by the second from the 14th to the 20th and the third round from the 21st to the 27th.

The low third in both men's and women's division will be eliminated in the first and second rounds and the high eight men and six top women in the third round go into the finals. There will be round prizes and awards to all who gain the finals.

Snead Snares Front Position In Masters Go

AUGUST, Ga. (AP)–Sam Snead, playing bold and near-perfect golf over a course made for his kind of a game, took the lead in the Masters tournament Friday with a 36-hole score of 137.

One stroke off the pace in the opening round with 70, the long-driving veteran from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., shot a dazzling 67 to rush out in front.

Ben Hogan finished with another 70, two under par, and a two-day total of 140. That gave him second place and a two-stroke edge over Tommy Bolt of Durham, N. C., Jim Ferrier of San Francisco and Johnny Revolta, Evanston, Ill.

Jack Burke, the curly-haired Houston, Tex., hotshot, matched Snead's round of 67. Burke, winner of four straight tournaments on the winter circuit, started with a 76. His total of 143 hardly constituted a serious threat, but he could become one by continuing to play that kind of golf.

Ed "Porky" Oliver, former Seattle pro, carded a pair of 72s for 144, and a tie for ninth place.

Cascade Licks Cardinals 16-2

CASCADE HIGH SCHOOL – (Special) – Cascade's Cougars, helped by Dan Feller's tight pitching, nine hits and an equal number of enemy errors, tacked a 16-2 licking on Sacred Heart's Cardinals Friday as action opened in the Capitol League baseball chase.

1700 Athletes Set for Action

Prep, College Stars To Show in Classic

BY JERRY STONE
Sports Writer, The Statesman

One of the top 1952 track features in the Northwest and, for that matter, on the entire Pacific Coast, will unfold at McCulloch Stadium this afternoon with the presentation of the second annual Willamette University Relays.

The mammoth spectacle, boasting some 1700 athletes from 60 Oregon high schools and 20 colleges from the states of both Oregon and Washington, is scheduled to start at 1 o'clock sharp and the jam-packed and colorful program will carry through to 5:50.

Willamette Athletic Director Chester Stackhouse, the originator and master mind behind the tourney, has filled the classic with 100 races alone, all synchronized into a time schedule that will assure just as smoothly organized an affair as was the inaugural last year.

The second edition of the extravaganza is much larger than the sizeable maiden event of last season which drew some 1200 athletes.

The prep entry list is of such proportions that 24 separate high hurdle races will be run. There will be 20 different 100-yard dash events in the high school bracket, 84 prepsters are to participate in the mile and even more are entered in the half-mile.

Missfeldt to Be Watched

Among the "reputation" athletes the expected capacity crowd will have eyes on today are Chuck Missfeldt, the University of Oregon javelin ace and Relays defending king with a mighty toss of 225 feet, 11¾ inches last year; Lloyd Dickey, Oregon State's Northern Division pole vault champion and also 1951 Relays frontrunner who has done 14 feet; Merv Brock, Oregon State's sprint star, who copped both Northern Division and Relays crowns last year and who has a best time of 9.7 in the century; and Bill Fell, former national junior college king now at University of Oregon. Fell has run the century in 9.5.

One of the highlights today should be the duel between Brock and Fell in the collegiate invitational dash. Other threats in this will be Jerry Mock of Oregon, Bill Anderson, the OSC footballer, Neil Anderson, highly promising Lewis and Clark freshman and Central Washington's Jack White, last season's Evergreen Conference titlist.

Another feature event is the college invitational 120-high hurdle romp. Some of the Northwest's top stick men are set for this one, including Don Chambers, Oregon State; Larry Blunt and Dick Zimmerman, University of Oregon; Linfield's Grant Schiewe; Erve Bannenberg, Portland University; and Darrell Corkery of host Willamette. Chambers and Blunt show the best collegiate marks in the "highs" with 15.3, Corkery and Bannenberg had snappy 14.7 clocking in the lower prep hurdles events.

Olympic Factor Present

The tourney is given added zest this year from fact that some of the brighter collegians will be making opening bids for possible Olympic consideration.

One of Willamette's hopes in the big show is Bob Hall, who might give Missfeldt a real fight in the spear-tossing event.

Colleges entering athletes today are Central Washington, Eastern Oregon, George Fox, Lewis and Clark, Linfield, OCE, Oregon State, Clark Junior College, Puget Sound, Pacific University, University of Oregon, Oregon Frosh, Portland, Western Washington, Portland State and Willamette.

The high school list:

Albany, Beaverton, Canby, Ganyonville, Cascade, Chemawa, Coburg, Corvallis, Cottage Grove, Creswell, Culver, Dallas, Dayton, Oregon Deaf School, Drain, Elmira, Estacada, University High (Eugene), Gervais, Glendale, Gresham, Hermiston, Hillsboro, Junction City, Knappa, Lake Oswego, Lapine, Lebanon, Lowell, McMinnville, Milwaukie, Molalla, Monroe, Myrtle Creek, Newport, North Marion, Oakridge, Parkrose, Perrydale, Pilot Rock, Pleasant Hill, Prineville, Redmond, Roseburg, Sacred Heart of Salem, St. Helens, Sandy, Salem Academy, Salem High, Seaside, Shedd, Sherwood, Springfield, Stayton, Taft, The Dalles, Tigard, Tillamook, West Linn and Willamina.

Official Says Dam-Building Won't Wipe Out Fish

SEATTLE (AP)–The director of the Federal Fish and Wildlife Service was quoted Friday as saying that construction of Ice Harbor Dam on the Snake River would not mean extinction of any species of salmon.

The Seattle district office of the Bonneville Power Administration made public a letter from Wildlife Director Albert M. Day to Rep. Cannon (D-Mo.), chairman of the House Appropriations Committee.

It was not known here whether the letter reached Cannon before the committee voted against providing funds for Ice Harbor. The letter was sent March 18 from Miami where Day was attending a conference.

Day stressed to Cannon that much still needs to be learned about the effects of dams on fish," particularly downstream migrant fingerlings." He added:

"I should like in particular to clarify a point regarding extermination of any species of salmon at Ice Harbor Dam. Any impression which my testimony may have left that the extermination of any species would result was in no way intended by my statement.

"I think there is no question that species as such are not in danger of extinction. There is no question but that there will be some losses and if the dam is built the fisheries interests are prepared to prescribe the best possible devices known to modern science to keep those losses at a minimum.

"As I brought out in my testimony this will probably mean the necessity of salvage of some late runs of one species and will require facilities for trapping, holding and spawning the fish so that the eggs may be taken and hatched and resultant young later liberated into the stream.

"I regret any confusion that resulted or that any implication was left that species of fish were in danger to the point of extinction. Such an interpretation was not intended.
