Favorite Role To Hill Gail

Several Other Horses Given Chance, Classic By JOHN CHANDLER
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (P) — Ben
Jones shoved an added - starter,

Top Blend, into the Kentucky Derby Friday to keep the favored Hill Gail company, as 17 threeyear-olds were entered for Saturday's $100,000 classic at Churchill That was just about the only development in a town whirling like a merry-go-round waiting for some horse to grab the brass ring in America's most glamorous horse race. Hill Gail broke the track record in winning Tuesday's Derby Trial.

This means there will be two betting entries, the Calumet Farm's Hill Gail and Top Blend, and the Myhelyn Stable's Master Fiddle and Jack Amiel's Count Flame.

The last two are trained by Sol Ruthchick, the Russian immigrant who handled Amiel's 1941 Derby winner, Count Turf, but missed his plane and didn't see the race. The odds-makers were tabbing

Hill Gail and his running mate at to 5 but when the crowd of some 100,000 goes to work at the mutuel windows this is expected to be shaved down to even money, and perhaps an odds-on 4 to 5. Plugman Threat
