

Hunt, Brande Gain Elks Links Finals

Roger Putnam, Burrell Topped

Championship Match Scheduled for June 8

It'll be Jim Hunt of Salem against Lebanon's Jack Brande in the Championship flight finals of the annual Elks Willamette Valley Golf Tournament on Sunday, June 8th. The pair advanced into the playoff round after Sunday winning semi-finals matches at the expense of Roger Putnam and Bob Burrell respectively.

The steady Hunt scored a top-10 and 6 victory over an erratic Putnam, but the longhitting Brande had a much tougher time of it before nailing a 3 and 2 decision over Burrell.

Brande built up a big early margin over his opponent and then had to wait a Burrell rally to the third nine before clinching the match on the 34th hole. The Lebanon ace had a 3-up margin at the end of the first half-way mark. For the first 18 nine and stretched to 6-up at the holes Brande had a 70 to Burrell's 70.

Burrell started sizzling on the third leg of the nine in a snappy 32 that was helped along by eagles on the first and seventh holes. The hot round cut Brande's margin to four holes, but Bob could shave no more than one off in the final stretch.

Hunt leads from start. Hunt was 1-up on Putnam at the end of the first nine as both had trouble with a 39 and 40 respectively. On the second leg Hunt upped his advantage to four holes with a 36 to his rival's 39. On the third round Putnam fell apart for a 41 while Hunt was racking a 36 to go a soaring 9-up. The match ended on the 29th hole.

The final battle between the two victors has been moved back to June 8th to make room for next weekend's big Shrine Tourney.

Bob Sederstrom and Bert Victor are the finalists in the first flight after semis wins Sunday. Sederstrom topped Monk Alay 2-1 and Victor disposed of Bob Prall 3-2.

Pieretti Wins Opener 7-2 Beavers Clinch Series After Split With Seals

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Tight defensive work enabled San Francisco to beat Portland, 2-1, in the seven-inning wind-up of a Pacific Coast League doubleheader, after Portland had slugged out a 7-2 victory in the first game. Portland won the series, four games to three.

In the second game the Seals put down a second inning Portland threat by allowing only one run on five Beaver singles.

San Francisco scored in the fourth on Bob Thurman's home run and again in the seventh when Bill McCawley, who had singled, was scored by Boemer's single after Arcadio Biasatti had advanced him with a sacrifice.

In the first game, the Beavers shelled Bill Bradford, Seals' starter and two relief pitchers for 14 hits, including Basinski's second home run of the season in the second inning.

Portland's Marvin Pieretti gained his sixth pitching victory. He allowed only seven hits and blanked the Seals after the first inning, when they got their two runs on singles by Len Ratio and Jim Moran, Thurman's long fly, and another single by McCawley.

The San Diego Padres widened their top place margin to three games as they took two games from Oakland by 6-2 and 6-1 counts. In the nightcap the Padres' Jack Slaverson raked his 200th Coast League hill victory. The Los Angeles Angels stopped Sacramento twice 3-2 and 9-1 and Hollywood and Seattle split. Seattle took the first game 2-1 and the Stars nailed the finale 12-2.

NEW YORK - (Special) - Entries from as far afield as Okinawa and Balboa, Canal Zone, are pouring in for America's first National Golf Day on May 31st—a unique sports event that pits Ben Hogan against the world. Earlier estimates which predicted 200,000 golfers would compete against goldfodder's "Mighty Mite" have been revised upwards as it now appears that some 300,000 men and women will take a crack at beating the country's greatest golfer.

Playing under USGA rules, Hogan will shoot an 18-hole round at the Northwood Club, Dallas, Texas, scene of the forthcoming 1952 National Open. Simultaneously, on the fairways of the nation's 4,970 public and private courses, America's weekend golfers and their pros will try to beat Ben's round. Each challenger is permitted his present bona fide handicap rating.

The contestants that top Hogan will be awarded a specially-cast bronze medal inscribed "I Beat Ben Hogan, National Golf Day, May 31, 1952." National Golf Day is being jointly sponsored by the Professional Golfers Association and Life Magazine. The entire proceeds from entry fees, $1.00 for each contestant, will be donated by the sponsors, in equal shares, to the U. S. O. an agency of the United Defense Fund, and the "National Golf Fund."

British Open Links Classic Begins Today

PRESTWICK, Scotland (AP)—The week-long match play battle for the British Amateur golf championship gets under way shortly after dawn Monday with Frank Stranahan labelled the "man to beat."

The Toledo, Ohio, spark plug heir, winner of this event in 1948 and 1950, has found the hard fairways and fast greens of the Prestwick course strictly to his liking.

Two other factors figure to improve the Ohio strong man's chances. He is in the easier half of the draw, away from defending champion Dick Chapman of Pinehurst, N. C., and other topflight Americans. He has shown no traces of the temperament which marked his game in other appearances.

And—the weather may make a difference. For two weeks this corner of Western Scotland where poet Bobby Burns used to roam has basked in almost unprecedented sunshine. This is not only unusual, it is a real cause of worry to the championship committee.

Indians Split With Browns

In the only other game, the Chicago Cubs edged the last-place Pittsburgh Pirates, 5-4, on Dee Fondy's two-out, two-run homer in the ninth inning. Ralph Kiner homered for Pittsburgh in the fourth, his third of the season and first since May 1.

Tommy Glaviano doubled home the Cards' winning run in the seventh inning in the slugfest at Cincinnati. Both starting pitchers, Cliff Chambers of the Cards and Herm Wehmeier of the Reds—were struck by batted balls and had to leave the game.

Chambers was smacked on the left wrist by a line drive off Bob Borkowski's bat in the first inning and Wehmeier was hit flusing in the side of the face by a line drive off Peanuts Lowrey's bat in the fourth.

The extent of Chambers' injury will not be known until Monday. Wehmeier suffered a bad bruise on his right lower jaw and a slight cut inside his mouth.
