NEW HIGH STYLE FOR OAK
Watch for a new trend toward high style furniture in oak. Oak is the kind of sturdy, long wearing, easy-to-care-for material that crisp contemporary design calls for. It lagged a long time in furniture fashion because much of it was massive and rustic rather than light and living-room smart, and then because the first modern oak furniture was all so monotonously alike. That oak can take on the grace and style and variety of top furniture fashions is well illustrated by an eye-catching new grouping of living room and dining room furniture designed by the well known architect Edward D. Stone, sketched in part here. Note the bent legs, unusual for oak, the combination of black lacquer and natural finish, the slat tops, the trim upholstery, the lightness of all pieces. Nuptials Held On Sunday

The wedding of Miss Shirley Ann Eversizer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Eversizer of Marion, and Trent Edward Hendren, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Hendren of Turner, took place on Sunday afternoon, May 25 at the Assembly of God Church at Turner. The Rev. Ethel Gutekunst performed the 3 o'clock rites.

Miss Margaret and Miss Donna Boyer were the soloists and Mrs. Margaret Boyer the organist. Miss Patsy Whitefield and Miss Helen Crume lighted the tapers and the altar was decorated with blue iris and pink roses.

The bridal gown was of satin and lace with a full skirt of lace over satin terminating in a train. The bodice of the gown was strapless and adorned with a lace Bertha with which she wore a short satin cape edged in lace. A crown of seed pearls held in place her fingertip veil and she carried a bouquet of pink roses and white stephanotis.

Mrs. Cecil H. Johnson of Salem was the matron of honor and wore a pink nylon net gown with matching headress. Miss Marvel Eversizer of Forest Grove was the bridesmaid and wore a blue nylon net gown with matching headress. They carried nosegays of roses and sweet peas.

Calvin L. Young, USAF, Portland, was best man and ushers were Cecil Johnson, Leo C. Hendren, brother of the groom, and Clyde Eversizer, the bride's brother.

Mrs. Eversizer wore a navy blue suit with corsage of pink carnations for the wedding and Mrs. Hendren chose a brown ensemble with corsage of pink carnations.

A reception followed in the church parlors. Mrs. Clyde Eversizer of Forest Grove presided at the coffee urn and Mrs. Loyd Sidwell, sister of the groom, cut the cake. Assisting were Miss Maybelle Kirsch, Miss Thelma Killinger and Miss Myrna Eversizer. For traveling the bride changed to a blue cult with white accessories. The newlyweds will leave this week for Amarilla, Texas, where Sergeant Trent is stationed with the U. S. Air Force.

On Etiquette

By Roberta Lee

Q. What are the duties of the bridegroom's parents before the wedding?
A. Nothing special outside of paying a call on the bride's parents after the engagement has been announced, and to buy the bride as nice a wedding present as possible. It's nice, too, for the man's family to invite her and her family to a gathering sometime before the wedding.

Q. Is it proper to name a boy John Jones II, rather than John Jones, Jr.?
A. The "junior" is the only proper suffix if a boy is named for his father. "Second" means nephew or cousin, and never refers to the son.

Q. How much of the hand should be dipped into the finger bowl?
A. Only the fingertips, one hand at a time.
