

Pastor's Fast In Missouri In 39th Day

CHERRYVILLE, Mo. (AP)—The fasting preacher of the Ozarks, hollow-cheeked and apparently too weak to stand alone, told his wife Wednesday "if the Lord wants me to die, I'm ready to go."

The Rev. J. J. Ivie says he hasn't eaten for 38 days and has sworn to continue the fast until his prayers are answered for a spiritual revival against the world's sinfulness and Communism—or until he dies.

His wife said today, however, she is confident he will receive divine word that will cause him to end his fast.

Shaken by spells of retching, the 57-year-old pastor of the Assembly of God Church said that Moses fasted for 40 days and received a message from God.

Ivie has signed a statement to protect his family from possible legal action in the event of his death. Mrs. Ivie said he has given her strict instructions not to permit a physician in the house, even if he becomes unconscious.

The preacher has lost about 25 pounds since he began his fast on Sunday, April 20, and now weighs only about 130 pounds, family

Suit Claims $2180 'Find' For 3 Boys

PORTLAND (AP)—A suit was filed here Wednesday, seeking for three boys the $2180 they fished from a pond a week ago.

Lynn Edwin Hill, Myron Ward Whitcomb and Melvin LeRoy Weaver found an odd looking package floating in an old fish pond, pulled it ashore and found the money inside in $5, $10, and $20 bills.

They turned the money over to sheriff's deputies who believed it belonged to James Stevens, 71, a recluse who lived in a nearby house until his death last February.

In the suit, Attorney William J. Crawford said the original owner and loser was unknown and that the boys should have the money.

Coroner E. Floyd South, administrator of Stevens' estate, has demanded the money from Sheriff Terry Schunk. The sheriff said he would wait for a court to determine what to do with it.

Meantime he planned to give certificates of merit to the three boys for their honesty.

members estimated. Mrs. Ivie, and the three sons and one daughter gathered at the home, obviously were concerned over his condition.

24-Hour Race to Build House, Farm Set Today in Washington

MOSES LAKE, Wash. (AP)—A rocket bomb, fired a minute after midnight, starts a unique race against the sun Thursday for 100 volunteer workers who will build a complete, 80-acre farm in one day.

They'll start-virtually from scratch, working under floodlights at first. The farm must be ready by 4:30 in the afternoon for the symbolic flow of first water to the million-acre Columbia Basin Irrigation Project.

2 Salem Men Re-Elected by Fire Chiefs

Two Salem representatives were re-elected officers Wednesday during the joint convention of the statewide Fire Chiefs and Oregon Rural Fire Protection Districts Association meet in Medford.

Re-elected were Salem Fire Chief William P. Robie to the office of secretary of the Oregon Association of Fire Chiefs and Harold A. Rosebraugh was elected secretary-treasurer of the Rural Fire Protection Districts Association.

Also the Four Corners department won first prize and $25 in the gadget contest at the convention with their alarm control box. A model of the box, which is said to be a quicker means of rapid identification of a fire by alarm, was taken to the meet.

Representatives from Salem who attended the convention were E. L. Smith and Robie from the Salem fire department and Ted Miller, chief at Four Corners; A. E. LaBranch, director at Four Corners; Norval Hiron, Liberty-Salem Heights district, and Rosebraugh, president of the Liberty-Salem Heights district.

Elections at the fire chief's convention branch of the meet resulted in Donald Hayne, Albany, president; Marvin Roth, The Dalles, first vice president; second vice president, James Boyington, Bandon, and Ivan Pearson, McMinnville, re-elected treasurer.

The Rural Fire Protection District Association elected Harold Jacobson president, Rose City; Leon Judd, suburban district in Klamath Falls, first vice president; Mrs. Norma Pfeiffer, Eugene District 1, second vice president.

Leonard E. Needles, Lyons, was arrested by State Police Wednesday and charged with driving while intoxicated. He was lodged in the Marion County jail.

tee and the Moses Lake Chamber of Commerce.

Dunn, the father of two children and expecting a third, won the farm in a Veterans of Foreign Wars letter-writing contest. He and his wife worked together on the winning entry and confessed they almost didn't send it in.

Sen. Russell in Second Spot In Demo Race

By The Associated Press

The South posted a double-barreled claim for the lead in the Democratic presidential sweepstakes Wednesday as Dixie's Senator Richard B. Russell edged past the East's W. Averell Harriman to take over the No. 2 spot.

Still far out in front was the hard-running Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee.

Russell gained slightly on Kefauver in the nationwide race for delegates to the Democratic presidential nominating convention by apparently picking up 19 votes to 5 for Kefauver in the Florida primary. Florida will cast 24 votes at the Chicago convention beginning July 21.

Florida returns were slow in crystallizing, but on the basis of an apparent 19 to 5 victory for Russell, the latest Associated Press tabulation of nationwide delegate strength showed this lineup:

Kefauver 122, Russell 86 1/2, Harriman 85 1/2.

On the Republican scoreboard Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio led the field with 405. His nearest opponent was Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower with 385, then came Harold E. Stassen with 28.

Taft picked up one delegate Wednesday in Alabama, and Eisenhower got two; a third was claimed by Taft forces in district elections. Four remaining delegates from the state will be picked Thursday.

Court Orders Man To Stay Out of Packing Business

When a business is sold and the seller agrees to stay out of business he must do just that, the Oregon Supreme Court ruled Wednesday.

The case was appealed from Union County where Harold Johnston sold his meat packing business to D. W. Eldridge. Johnston then went back into business and Eldridge sued him because Johnston had violated his agreement not to engage in the business.

The order Wednesday reversed a decision by Circuit Judge R. J. Green in Union County and ordered him to issue an injunction to prevent Johnston from engaging in the meat packing business in the four counties of Union, Umatilla, Baker and Wallowa until Nov. 30, 1954.

The Supreme Court decision was handed down by Justice Walter L. Tooez.

Negotiations In Grocery Dispute Fail

PORTLAND (AP)—Negotiations ended Wednesday between AFL grocery clerks and two groups of Portland store operators in a dispute over wages and a health and welfare program.

Employers submitted a new offer to the union but Paul Hansen, international union representative said it would not be presented to the membership "because it would be rejected."

Spokesmen for Food Employers, Inc., representing 41 chain and other large stores, and the Oregon Food Merchants Association, representing some 250 stores, said the stores would take united action in the event of a strike against any one member.

That would mean that clerks at

Ambulance In Accident

Salem city ambulance was slowed Wednesday in its flight under light and siren when it collided with its car at the intersection of 17th and Center Streets.

Driver of the ambulance, Kenneth D. Jones, 1970 N. Commercial St., was going through the intersection when his vehicle and that of James R. Taylor, 2030 Brace St., collided.

The patient was transferred to another ambulance and the Salem city ambulance towed away with damage to the front end.
