

Miss Barbara Bates Married To Edward Jones Saturday

At a beautiful ceremony at the First Presbyterian Church Saturday night Miss Barbara Ruth Bates, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur B. Bates, became the bride of Edward Pierce Jones of Portland, son of Mrs. Eleanor Mattox of Baker. It was at 8 o'clock that Dr. Paul Poling performed the nuptials before a large gathering of friends and relatives of the couple.

Miss Anita MacGregor was the soloist and Mrs. Ralph Dobbs the organist. The altar was banked with bouquets of blue delphinium and white snapdragons flanked by white tapers. The alternate pews were marked with white satin bows and ivy.

The exquisite bridal gown of white imported organdy was designed by the bride. The strapless dress was made with a circular, thong length skirt, which was pleated in back, extending into a train. With the gown she wore a French embroidered organ jacket with long sleeves and the embroidered organdy was repeated in the wide band, which edged the hemline of the skirt. The dress was tied with an ice blue satin sash with long streamers. A lace cap held in place her illusion veil. She carried a blue net fan adorned with white roses.

Attendants in Blue Organdy

Preceding the bride to the altar were two attendants, Mrs. Kenneth A. Holmes, the matron of honor, and Miss Ellen Christianson, the bridesmaid. They wore identical frocks of sky blue organdy with ballerina skirts tied with white satin sashes. They were also designed by the bride and the jackets and bands around the bottom of the skirts were of polka dot organdy in confetti colors. They wore nose veils fastened with maroon flowers and carried fan shaped bouquets of maroon carnations and green gladioli.

Alvin Getman of Portland stood with the groom as best man and seating the several hundred guests were Charles Vaughn of Forest Grove, Richard Courson of Portland, Dale Bates and Richard Hill. For her daughter's nuptials Mrs. Bates chose a rose beige gown of lace over taffeta with a grey and rose hat and grey accessories. She pinned a corsage of gold carnations to her gown. The groom's mother was unable to attend the ceremony.

Reception Follows

The newlyweds greeted their guests at a reception in the church parlors. Mrs. Jessie Singleton and Mrs. Harold Hauk presided at the punch bowl and coffee urn. Cutting the cake were Mrs. Laura Eaton, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Leslie J. Sparks. Assisting were Miss Marie Sparks, Miss Jeanne Hoffman, Miss Marcelline Hutchinson, Miss Jean Smith, and Mrs. Howard Mader.

When the couple left on their wedding trip the new Mrs. Jones was wearing a white faille suit with amber straw hat, amber accessories and a blue top coat. After June 15 the couple will be at home in Portland at 2081 N. W. Everett St.
