

IT SEEMS TO ME

By Charles S. Squire

The Senate has requested President Truman to invoke the Taft-Hartley law in view of the emergency he says exists due to the stoppage in steel production. Many newspapers and men in public life have made a similar recommendation. It is in point therefore to turn to the Taft-Hartley law and see just what it prescribes in the way of government action in such a situation.

The portion of the law dealing with National Emergencies appears in Title II of the act. Section 206 provides that whenever in the opinion of the President a strike imperils the "national health or safety" he "may appoint a board of inquiry." This board shall inquire into the issues and make a report to include each party's statement of its position and the board's own statement of facts, but the report "shall not contain any recommendations."

Section 208 provides that after receiving such report the President "may" direct the Attorney General to seek an injunction to prevent or halt a strike or lockout. The court is given jurisdiction to enjoin the strike or lockout; but the order of the court shall be subject to review by the circuit court of appeals and by the Supreme Court.

Section 209 provides that after an injunction issues the principals to the dispute shall "make every effort to adjust and settle their differences." If at the end of 60 days no settlement has been made the board of inquiry shall report to the President, giving a statement from each of the parties and a copy of the employer's last offer of settlement. The National Labor Relations Board shall submit the last offer of the employer to the employees within 15 days and certify the

Scene Ready For Wreckers At Courthouse

The wreckers can start almost any time now to raze Marion County Courthouse, with moving of offices almost completed. Removal of fixtures already gives the interior the appearance of a hurriedly vacated office. Wrecking is expected to start next week. Only a few miscellaneous items in storage remain to be moved out.

The sheriff's department vacated and transferred 30 jail prisoners Thursday. Eight of these, serving sentences with more than 30 days to go, went to Linn County jail, and another 22 with shorter terms or awaiting court action went to Salem city jail.

Although still without telephone service, county offices anticipate its restoration late today. A switchboard is being installed to serve all departments which have moved from the courthouse, plus the agricultural agent.

Using the single number 4-4401, the board will have 10 trunks to the outside, serving 36 extensions in the building. This compares with about 20 which have been in use by the offices.

Extension of Controls Voted

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Banking Committee Thursday night approved by a 15-3 vote legislation extending until June 30, 1953, the government's authority to control prices, wages and rents. Committee chairman Spence (D-Ky.) said he expects speedy House action on the bill. He said debate on the measure probably will start next Wednesday and finish by the end of the week.

Earlier in the day the Senate had passed by the 58-18 vote legislation to extend through Feb. 28 the federal power to control prices, wages and rents. Under the Senate version, authority for credit curbs and for allocation of scarce materials to industry would be extended for a full year, until June 30, 1953. The bill passed by the House group would do away with the government's power to impose credit controls.

Thirteen No Hex Here

Here's a good luck boy on a bad luck day—Benny Mitchell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Mitchell, 4372 Market St. He'll celebrate his fifth birthday today, with 13 young guests invited to his party this evening. "Thirteen, that's his lucky number," say his parents. (Horseshoes and rabbit's foot were added for good measure by the photographer.) Benny was born on Friday the 13th too, in Fort Smith, Ark.

When such numbers as 7, 11 and 13 turn up in the same family the same day, it might be to wonder what kind of a game was being played. But it's no game—it's Friday the 13th. And it's the 11th birthday of Mary Lu McCollum (right) born June 13, on a Friday in 1941 at Independence, and the 7th birthday of Jackie McCollum, born June 13, 1945, in Salem. They are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. McCollum, 589 Knapp St.

Allies Hint Walkout After Truce Session

MUNICH (AP)—Allied and Communist truce negotiators met for only 15 minutes Friday and Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison Jr. hinted the UN Command might impose another recess. North Korean Gen. Nam Il used softer words, but he did not give way in the Red stand against voluntary repatriation of prisoners of war.

Grange Backs Anti-Bet Bill

LA GRANDE (AP)—The Oregon State Grange voted Thursday to support an initiative measure which would outlaw parimutuel betting at dog and horse races. Much of the state's share of racing revenues now is used to support farmer activities such as county fairs and livestock shows. But the Grange voted to join the Oregon Council of Churches in its fight against betting. The Council now is circulating initiative petitions to put a measure banning race betting on the November election ballot.

Another initiative program was opposed by the Grange. It would decontrol wholesale and retail milk prices.

The Grange voted its continuing support of an initiative measure to make standard time mandatory throughout the state.

Newsman Scripps Claimed by Death

DETROIT (AP)—Publisher William E. Scripps, 70, of the Detroit News, died Thursday of a heart attack. Scripps was a pioneer in radio and aviation, as well as a leader in the newspaper field. Scripps began his newspaper career at 14 in 1896 under his father's direction. He became president and publisher in 1929.

Panyushkin Named Envoy To Red China

LONDON (AP)—The Moscow radio announced Thursday Alexander S. Panyushkin, former Soviet Ambassador in Washington, has been named the Soviet envoy to Red China. Panyushkin now is en route to Moscow. His place in Washington is being taken by Georgi N. Zarubin, who is being transferred from London.

Panyushkin succeeds Gen. Nikolai Vassilievich Roschin who has been ambassador to both the Chinese Nationalists and Communists. The radio said Roschin had been relieved but did not say what job, if any, he would get in the three-way shift.

Roschin followed Chiang Kai-Shek's government as it fled through China before the victorious Reds. He later returned to Moscow and was appointed ambassador to Peiping Oct. 4, 1949, after Russia recognized the Chinese Communists.

Albany's Mary Jenks Elected Governor by Girls' State Vote

Mary Jenks, pretty 17-year-old Albany high school senior, will rule as girl governor over an all-girl legislature today following her election and inauguration Thursday. Miss Jenks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Jenks of Albany, was elected Thursday over Nan Hagedorn, of Prineville, at the "state elections" of Girls' State, an American Legion Auxiliary-sponsored girl program, meeting here this week. Other girl state officers elected Thursday include Sammie Romero, Springfield, secretary of state; Carol Bestul, Grants Pass, treasurer; Susie Johnston, Willamina, attorney general; Connie O'Leary, Bend, labor commissioner; Janice Boyce, Florence, superintendent of public instruction; Shirley Schorn, Klamath Falls, chief justice, and Kay Jones, Portland; Kathryn Barnes, Junction City, and Mary Ann Megale, Coos Bay, supreme court justices.

Ike to Woo Delegates of Two Vital States

Key Bloc Target Of Sortie

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL Associated Press Political Reporter

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower heads forth Friday on a week-end political sortie—into Pennsylvania and Michigan—that could determine whether he gets the Republican presidential nomination. Those two states, and perhaps Maryland, are in a strategic spot to turn the delegate tide either toward Eisenhower or Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio when the Republican national convention gets underway in Chicago July 7.

And reports are getting around that party leaders in the three states may team up in an effort to dictate who the nominees will be. Pennsylvania, Michigan and Maryland will swing 140 votes at Chicago, enough to provide the clincher in a tight race if they could be cast substantially in a bloc.

Maneuvers Important

The situation underscores the importance of these prospective maneuvers: A parade of the Pennsylvania delegates to Eisenhower's farm near Gettysburg, Pa., Friday. They are expected to confer with Taft at a later date.

An Eisenhower appearance in Detroit Saturday, for conferences with Michigan delegates and party big-wigs and a major political speech.

A Taft conference with the Maryland delegation at a date now indefinite. Originally it was planned for Monday. Eisenhower saw the Marylanders in New York last Wednesday.

Each contender has some apparent solid support within the 70-vote Pennsylvania and 46-vote Michigan delegations. But large blocs of unattached delegates still are waiting to be persuaded which way to jump.

As things stand now, the Associated Press tally gives Eisenhower 20 votes in Pennsylvania, Taft 6, with 33 on the fence. Gov. John S. Fine is expected to say which way he will go.

In Michigan, it's seven for Eisenhower, five for Taft and 33 undetermined, with GOP national committee chairman Arthur Summerfield able to call the shots on where the majority lands.

Maryland's 24 voters are pledged on the first ballot to Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin. On subsequent ballots, the governor may be able to control 18 or 20 of the votes.

As of now, on the A.P. scoreboard, Eisenhower is trailing Taft in delegate votes, 392 to 464, with 604 necessary to assure nomination. Taft Force in Control

And Taft forces have grabbed control of Republican convention machinery. Among other things they have put Gen. Douglas MacArthur, a Taft supporter in the role of keynote speaker. President Truman kept hands off that arrangement at his Thursday news conference. MacArthur technically is on active duty and Army regulations forbid active officers to take part in political conventions or to make a political speech.

Truman said he is sure the Army will handle the matter as it should be handled. If he isn't satisfied with the way they do it, he said, he will resign.

Falsification of Records Gets Psychiatrist Jailed

CHICAGO (AP)—An Army induction center psychiatrist was sentenced to six years in prison Thursday for falsifying records and taking bribes from prospective draftees. Dr. Charles F. Herband, 43, had been charged with taking bribes totaling $2,675 from seven selectees to classify eligible youths as mentally unfit for service.

Soviets Extend Shoot-to-Kill Order To Berlin Border in New Squeeze

Brazen Young Gunmen Take Over New York Hotel, 25 Guests Robbed

NEW YORK (AP)—Three brazen young gunmen took over a 16-story hotel early Thursday, running its switchboard, elevator and desk—and leisurely robbing some 25 guests. The bandits held control of the 297-room Hotel Emerson on W. 75th St. for about three hours. Not a shot was fired. A gunman on the switchboard carefully followed the schedule to wake up guests who left calls. Many of them came down from their rooms in time to get caught in the holdup in the lobby. Victims were forced to lie on the floor. Men guests were made to remove their trousers, apparently to discourage any break for freedom. The trio got more than $500 in cash and $2,500 in jewels from guests, plus $102 from the hotel's cash register. They also smashed open a cigarette machine and doled out smokes to their victims. One of the robbery victims thought the men seemed "hopped up" on dope. They kept their hats pulled low on their foreheads. They appeared in their 20s. The gunmen walked into the Emerson's lobby about 4 a. m. (EST). They quickly made prisoners of night clerk Martin Henry, 55, and elevator operator Hillard Jackson, 56. One gunman took over the elevator, a second the switchboard and a third the desk. As guests arrived or left, they were casually relieved of their valuables and made to lie on the lobby floor. Finally, the hotel switchboard became clogged with calls and guests began yammering about the elevator service. The bandit at the switchboard fanned himself in near exhaustion. "Maybe it's time to go," suggested one of the men. So the three of them left.

Big 3 Ready To Counter Cold War Acts

BERLIN (AP)—The shoot-to-kill security measures the Soviet Zone government instituted on the frontier between East and West Germany May 26 were ordered extended Thursday to include the border around West Berlin. Deputy Prime Minister Walter Ulbricht, Moscow's most trusted East German agent, signed the order to the people's police, already squeezing hard upon the Allied sectors with roadblocks, gunplay and kidnappings. It was another Communist move in open reprisal for the signing of West Germany's peace contract and military alliance with the West and Red leaders say will mean civil war.

New Developments

Among other developments of the day: The Western Big Three high commissioners served notice here the United States, Britain and France are ready to counter new cold war attacks and rush economic aid to the encircled city of 2,200,000 that lies 100 miles behind the Soviet Army's front line in Europe.

A young West Berlin woman, Ingering Henning, 26, was reported arrested by the people's police at the edge of the French sector. West Berlin police said she mistook her directions after delivering a package of blueprints to a French sector building and stepped one yard into the Soviet Zone. U. S. Protest Rejected

The Russians rejected an American protest against the wounding of a U. S. military policeman, Pvt. Wilfred R. Chenevert, of North Grafton, Mass., on the Berlin border by a Communist policeman June 4. They declared the MP had penetrated East German territory and that only a warning shot was fired in the air. Chenevert was grazed on the left leg by a bullet that passed through his hip.

Sergei Denguin of the Soviet control mission asked U. S. authorities to take measures to avoid frontier violations. In a note to the Soviet Control Commission, British Maj. Gen. C. F. Coleman demanded the immediate return of three West Berliners, two of them newsmen, kidnapped Tuesday from the British sector by a Russian-commanded police patrol.

Troops Clear 3 Compounds

KOJE ISLAND (AP)—Three of Koje Islands most troublesome prisoner compounds bowed to United Nations authority Friday. Prisoners of war in two compounds, including formerly true-believing North Korean Red officers, moved without incident to smaller quarters.

A third compound, No. 62, holding 5,000 once rebellious North Korean civilians and pro-Communist North Koreans, also capitulated. Their leaders sent Koje authorities a note offering to move out when ordered to do so. Compound 62 had been expected to resist removal. The transfer will be made later when a new compound becomes available.

Marching five abreast in columns of 150 men, 2,700 officers and 650 non-commissioned officers began moving out of Compound 62 at 10 a. m. They marched between shouldered rows of Canadian and British soldiers into large trucks for transfer to 500-man compounds in another valley, one mile away. Another group of 200 North Korean war crimes suspects moved out of Compound 60 earlier into a new and smaller enclosure nearby.

County Demos May Nominate 4th Candidate

Another candidate for state representative from Marion County can be nominated by the Democratic county central committee, as the result of primary voting, it developed Thursday.

Only two Democrats were on the primary ballot—Cornelius Bateson and A. M. Visca—and both were nominated, although four positions were open. By 70 write-ins the Democrats also nominated Republican W. W. Chadwick, who was in fourth place among Republicans.

Next in line for write-ins was Frank Doerflinger, who did not win a Republican nomination, so cannot accept the Democratic. The Democratic nomination does not descend then to the man with the third most write-in votes, who is Lee Ohmart, according to David O'Hara, head of the State Elections Bureau.

The only way the Democrats can have candidates for all four positions in the November general election is for the central committee to select a nominee by Aug. 25. Robert F. Shuttler of Salem, committee chairman, was not available Thursday for comment.

Republican nominees for the House are Mark Hatfield, Lee Ohmart, R. L. Elfstrom and Chadwick.

South Korea Bars 'Voice'

PUSAN (AP)—Voice of America broadcasts have been barred from the South Korean government's radio network because they carried "obviously insulting" attacks on the actions of President Syngman Rhee in the Korean political crisis, a spokesman announced Thursday.

"We do not dispute the airing of such opinions under other auspices," the government spokesman said. "But I am determined the Korean government network will not be used to tear down its own sovereign state."

The Voice of America's three daily broadcasts over the 10-station network have carried excerpts from American and foreign newspapers attacking Rhee. A U.S. Embassy official said the broadcasts over Radio Korea were suspended Wednesday night. He added that any protest must come from Washington, where Voice of America policy is determined.

State Department officials in Washington said Korean language broadcasts are being made now from other Voice transmitters in Japan and the Philippines. The officials did not mention plans to protest the ROK government's broadcast ban.

Editorials broadcast by the Voice of America have sharply criticized Rhee for placing southeastern Korea under martial law last May 25 and for ignoring demands from President Truman and the United Nations to lift it.

Big B-29 Down West of Kwajalein

HONOLULU (AP)—The Air Force Thursday reported a B29 bomber crashed in the sea 75 miles west of Kwajalein in the central Pacific at 2:49 p. m., Hawaiian Standard Time (4:49 p. m. PST).

An accompanying B-29 reported sighting one survivor in a life raft. The bombers were enroute from Kwajalein to Guam.

Steel Seizure Backers Yield

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress raised new snags against President Truman's drive for power to seize the strike-crippled steel industry Thursday as the House Banking Committee followed the Senate's lead in beating down such a move.

At the same time, the Senate battle over the issue collapsed when last-ditch advocates of Presidential seizure authority gave up the fight, at least temporarily. They have been heavily outnumbered since the outset.

The Senate then voted 58 to 18 to pass an economic controls law extension carrying a provision virtually demanding that Truman use the Taft-Hartley law in the steel strike.

Truman has denounced the T-H act as unfair and as trying to settle the steel dispute. Sen. Maybank (D-SC), quarterbacking the pro-seizure forces, indicated that the issue would be sidetracked until late this summer after the July political conventions.

If so, it could mean another long-drawn struggle in the thick of Washington's mid-summer heat.

Kader Trial Jury Picked

PORTLAND (AP)—A jury was completed Thursday in the murder trial of Mrs. Jada Kader, 21, accused in the death of her 3-year-old daughter, Sherrie Ellea. The jury of seven women and five men will begin hearing testimony Monday.

The jury panel was exhausted Wednesday after 72 prospective jurors had been questioned and additional names had to be called.

SAN JUAN, Argentina (AP)—Earth shocks continued to shake this panicky city Thursday.

Heavy Frost Chops Rogue Valley Crops

MEDFORD (AP)—Widespread crop damage in the Rogue River Valley was caused early Thursday when the temperature fell below freezing in June for the first time on record.

Medford recorded 21 degrees, nearby Ashland 29 and some areas were as cold as 26 degrees. C. B. Cordy, county agent, said the tomato crop was ruined and other vegetables heavily damaged.

Extent of damage to the area's 10 million dollar pear crop had not been determined. Most orchardists had put away for the summer smudge pots used to combat freezing weather.

The previous June low on record was 32 degrees on June 12, 1917.

Jailers Find New 'System' Bit Unwieldy

Something was overlooked when arrangements were made with city police for handling prisoners of Marion County while under the custody of the sheriff's office.

No one figured out a simple way in which county prisoners can be bailed out at night. Two women traveled over two counties and made a couple of trips back and forth between the police station and the new sheriff's office before their mission was accomplished and they got their husbands out.

First they thought the men were in the Linn County jail at Albany and they went there. But the men weren't. They returned here where city police couldn't release the two men because they were under the sheriff's custody. So the women were directed to the sheriff's office where they paid the balance of the fines and got slips allowing city police to release the county prisoners.

Now all they have to do is come back to Salem during the day, go to the police station, where a sheriff's deputy will release property being held in a locker in the police station basement to which only the sheriff's office has a key.

Assault Suspect at The Dalles Investigated in Salem Slaying

A 25-year-old former Salem man who is held in The Dalles for a hammer-assault last Tuesday on a woman there was included Thursday in the Salem police investigation of the slash-slaying of Mrs. Susan Litchfield last weekend.

City police also sifted information brought out in two other Northwest killings of the last six years for additional clues. Latest man to enter the picture was Albert William Karnes who police said is the man identified by 35-year-old Mrs. Ben Callaway as her assailant. Last Tuesday night in The Dalles she was struck with a hammer in the bedroom of her home, although not severely hurt.

Karnes was found the next morning asleep in the basement of the Callaway home and arrested in connection with the assault. Chief of Police Clyde A. Warren said the attack was similar enough to that on Mrs. Litchfield as to warrant investigation.

Karnes lived in Salem as late as 1950, Warren said, and is believed to have visited friends here since. Police checked the murder in Tacoma in 1950 of an 82-year-old woman in the hopes that additional light would be shed on the Litchfield case. The unsolved murder of an elderly woman in Greenleaf, Ore., in 1946 was also investigated.

City police said they could not verify a young woman's claim that she was grabbed by the throat as she stepped from her car in front of the apartment house two blocks away from the scene of the slaying Wednesday night.
