Invisible Paint Newest Invention

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A 75-year-old inventor in this capital of showmanship has come up with an invisible paint—it takes black light to see it.

John T. (Pop) Shannon, who dabbled in fluorescent lighting effects for Flo Ziegfeld as far back as 1907, is the creator of this new effect. He unveiled it for a gas appliance manufacturer (Western Holly) at a recent cooking school.

Patrons saw appliances change from their normal white enamel to glowing bright-colored hues when the auditorium lights went off and black lights were turned on.

The general public knows black light best as the method of marking hands of patrons at race-tracks, dance halls, fairs and other events instead of using pass-out checks.

Truman Proxy Silent on Choice For Nominee

By ARTHUR EDSON
CHICAGO (AP)—President Truman, by proxy, arrived in town Sunday, so secretive he wouldn't even tell his wife what he's up to.

The proxy Truman is Thomas J. Gavin of Kansas City, who will be the President's alternate in the National Democratic Convention opening Monday.

Gavin is being watched by newsmen in the hope he will drop some hints that will disclose whom the President prefers for President.

So 20 reporters and photographers were on hand to meet Gavin at the airport. That's as many as Truman himself has on most occasions.

Two things were immediately apparent:

1. Thomas J. Gavin wasn't going to say a thing, and
2. Thomas J. Gavin was enjoying 32 3/4 — Truman Proxy — inside the limelight tremendously.

Women in Blue
Very quickly he disclosed that (A) he wasn't going to say how he would vote on anything, (B) he hasn't so much as told his attractive wife what the political score is, and (C) the President's choice is his choice.

The President's stand-in was wearing a blue suit, a green tie and a Panama hat. His round face, round stomach and well-rounded chins stamped him as a cartoonist's dream of a politician.

The best quote of the arrival came not from Gavin but from a large woman in blue, accompanied by a small woman in blue, who got off the plane ahead of the Gavins. An attendant stepped up to shepherd them through the crowd of reporters and photographers.

"Thank you for taking care of us," the large woman said to the attendant. "We're Republicans."

HATFIELD FACES LIONS
Rep. Mark Hatfield, delegate to the Republican National Convention in Chicago, will tell of his experiences there at the Hollywood Lions Club luncheon meeting Wednesday noon at the Lion's Den.

Norwegian Freighter Burns at Sea

NEW YORK—Smoke and flames pour from the charred hulk of the Norwegian freighter Black Gull 65 miles off the tip of Long Island in the Atlantic as the volatile naphthalene cargo continues to burn. Passing ships rescued 45 persons of the 49 reported aboard the Black Gull in a dramatic pre-dawn rescue operation. This air view was made by Associated Press staff photographer Harry Harris. ## 'Peace Angel' Of Olympics Calls for Police

HAMBURG (AP)—The German "peace angel" Barbara Rotraut-Pleyer, arrived here by plane Sunday and immediately asked for police protection.

Miss Pleyer caused some confusion at the opening of the Olympic games Saturday. During the ceremony she ran through the stadium in a long flowing white dress and attempted to speak from the platform.

She later told Helsinki police officials she wanted to deliver a speech on peace.

She was met Sunday by plain clothes police and taken to the police station.

"Miss Pleyer has asked us for protection and we shall give it to her," a police official told reporters.

Nine press cars followed the car that carried the girl from Hamburg airport to the main police station. During almost all of ## 20-minute ride, Miss Pleyer sat in the rear seat of the car chatting with a woman detective. She was smiling.

As she got out of the car at the station, reporters asked her one or two questions before the police escorted her inside the building. "There was no one backing me," Miss Pleyer declared.

She said she hoped to leave Hamburg at the earliest possible time by train or plane for Stuttgart.

"I am going to give my story to German newspapers when I get back home," Miss Pleyer said.

Dressed in black and carrying her greecian white robe in a brown paper bag, the shapely, 23-year-old Miss Pleyer was escorted by Finnish police to the Helsinki airport.

Finnish police identified her as a law student at the University of Tuebingen, near Stuttgart.

KIDNAPED BY HUKS
MANILA (AP)—Bold Communist Huk's, most of them women, swooped down on a central Luzon village Saturday night and kidnaped a police captain in his home, the Philippine news service reported.

AFL Seeks to Oust 'Anti-Union' Dixie Solons From Demo Ranks

By NORMAN WALKER
CHICAGO (AP)—The AFL Sunday demanded that Dixie Congress members who side with Republicans against administration aims be kicked out of the Democratic Party.

Both the AFL and CIO made public statements insisting something be done to stop Southerners from joining with GOP members to block legislation sought by the labor unions.

West's Demos Favor Power Platform Plank

CHICAGO (AP)—Western state delegates to the Democratic convention, in a late night session, endorsed a broad Western platform policy statement high-lighted by a recommendation for public construction of power transmission lines.

Pooling its convention strength, the delegates from nine Western states, Hawaii and Alaska agreed to exert pressure to bring the platform committee around to its views on natural resources, statehood for Hawaii and Alaska and other Western questions.

It also shouted approval of a motion to name Sen. Warren Magnuson of Washington as the leader of the fight for a Western plank. Magnuson is a member of the platform committee, and his drafted proposals setting forth Western views.

Expect Performance
"Promise without performance will not indefinitely satisfy the American people," the AFL said.

"They have a right to expect the government they elect to make good on its pledges."

Both the AFL and CIO made the same platform requests to the Democrats as they had to the Republican Party convention two weeks ago. The two labor groups have since expressed dissatisfaction with the platform the GOP adopted.

They urged the Democrats to come out for repeal of the Taft-Hartley law, for civil rights legislation, broadened social security laws, higher minimum wages, more stringent controls on inflation, and government aid to education and housing construction.

Wallgren Will Not Run Again In Washington

CHICAGO (AP)—Washington's former Gov. Mon C. Wallgren arrived Sunday for the Democratic National Convention and said he had had a blank all filled out to file for Governor, but tore it up.

Wallgren told the Post-Intelligencer's political writer, Stub Nelson:

"I think I know the situation out there in Washington pretty well and after weighing all angles I tore up the blank. Also I am obligated to carry out certain business commitments in California."

Nelson said this probably would drop the curtain on Wallgren's 20-year political career in Washington state. The ex-Governor said he would attend the convention strictly as a spectator.

Wallgren resigned several months ago as a member of the Federal Power Commission.

Personnel of the U. S. armed forces eat about 288 pounds of meat a year on the average compared with about 148 pounds for civilians.

Farm Workers Denied Right to Fight on Job

Americans are entitled to engage in good friendly fighting, but not on the job, the state labor commissioner decided in settling a recent dispute placed before him.

Two field workers had been fired before the harvest's end and lost their bonus. They hotfooted it to the labor bureau for "justice."

"We was fighting in this field," said one, "and this strawboss comes along and tells us we're through."

"How can they do that to us? This little fight was between me and my buddy here."

"Why it had nothing to do with the company, commissioner!" "Yeah, we had something on our chests and just got it off."

"We just settled our little misunderstanding in the great American way."

"And they fired us, commissioner, before we had a chance to say anything."

"The fight did us both good. Now we're the best of friends."

"Yeah, we're pals again."

"We want our rights protected."

"Yeah, it was a mutual fight between me and my buddy here. We want our jobs back!"

Assuring the protesters that the Bureau of Labor would be the last to object to their indulging in fistuff pleasures "so long as it does not interfere with the liberty or comfort of others, mind you," the commissioner opined that any boss could expect his hired help not to be distracted by such pleasures during working hours.

Camp Pioneer Dining Lodge Wins Approval

Approval for the first unit of new dining lodge at the Cascade Area Boy Scout Camp Pioneer, high in the Cascades, was made this week by the Council at its annual meeting.

Gardner Knapp, scout executive from Salem, said the group plans to start construction next week on the kitchen unit of the proposed dining lodge, which will feed Boy Scouts attending the camp during the summer.

Consideration was also given to the construction of permanent shelters around the lake, eliminating the present usage of tents for housing scouts.

About 20 Council members from Marion, Linn and Polk Counties attended the meeting.

Near 400 at Shrine Picnic

Nearly 400 persons attended Salem Shrine Club's annual family picnic Sunday at Pat's Acres near Canby.

The program included a Shrine band concert and various sports. In general charge was W. J. Braum, club president.

Casualties of the day were Curtis Hale, who was stung in the eye by a yellowjacket, and Frank Shafer, who dislocated a finger in a softball game, and two youngsters cut by broken galss while wading.
