'Shrine Night' Breaks Record

Edmunds Nabs Win; Second Tilt Tonight

By AL LIGHTNER

Statesman Sports Editor "Shriners Night," 1952, can be placed in Salem Senator annals as a whopping success.

The Senators won the ball game 8-6 by coming from behind with a rousing six-run inning, the always-determined Shriners racked up a new single-game attendance record for Waters Field this season, Fireman Ted Edmunds came through like a champion in a sparkling relief stint, Boss Hugh Luby played his 49th consecutive game without an error, the Salems gained a half-game on idle Lewiston in the drive for fourth place in the standings and an ex-Senator flinger was given a shellacking instead of having it vice versa as it

The attendance mark for last night's extravaganza was at first announced as 3,328, which was only 50 short of the opening night gathering of 3,378, high for the The sponsoring Salem Shrine Club, bent on raising as much moola as possible for the Shrine Hospital for crippled kids, immediately bought another 51 tickets so that the record would be established.
