ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—A meteor expert said Monday night "flying saucers" definitely are not mirages and should not be confused with distant planets.

Dr. Lincoln La Paz, director of the Institute of Meteoritics, at the University of New Mexico, observed that the yellow discs seen over Washington, D. C., closely resembled "like phenomena in the Southwest."

West Salem Buses Granted Fare Increase

(Story also on Page 1.) Bus, railroad and truck issues came in for City Council action Monday night at City Hall.

West Salem Bus Co. was granted a 2-cent increase in its 10-cent fare after no protest was voiced at a public hearing.

Oregon Electric Railroad was notified by the city that 23 of its crossings on Salem streets need repair, the Council learned from City Manager J. L. Franzen who said he urged the railroad to get the crossings fixed.

A Southern Pacific spur track franchise was amended to remove a requirement that SP pay for any signals ordered in the future by the state public utilities commissioner. The railroad had refused to accept the franchise with that qualification, and the beneficiary of the spur track, Pacific Fruit and Produce Co., said the stalemate was delaying construction of its new plant at Hines and 13th Streets.

To Use "Broadway" City Transit Lines' Kelzer route was altered to give better service to the Mapleton Addition east of North Front Street and to provide night service in that area. The regular daily Kelzer run will now use Broadway Street from Tryon Avenue south.

The truck issue came over renewal of Highway Avenue residents' protest against special driveway concessions for Willamette Valley Transfer Co. on that street. The Council approved the amended driveway request, for a 100-foot and a 15-foot drives in the 150-foot frontage, but obtained from the trucking firm a verbal promise that the loading zone on its property be oiled and later paved to reduce the dust problem in the neighborhood. Paving of the street has been delayed by the protest.

Asks Money Borrowed A move for the city to borrow $240,000 to pay current expenses was introduced in a new bill, but Alderman Daniel J. Fry said he intended to investigate if the city can't borrow from its own funds instead, pending receipt of tax turnovers.

A petition for annexation of six acres to the city from just east of Evergreen Avenue, near Market Street, got the Council's go-ahead, with hearings and an election in that area expected to follow. The area is proposed for development by M. T. Haverland, who won the Zoning Commission's endorsement recently after agreeing to put in three sewer laterals.

Annexation Move Another annexation move from the area of Parkway Drive and Orchard Heights Road was tabled for further study. Zoners had recommended that this one be considered at such time as city-approved water and sewer lines be put in at the expense of the property.

A stop sign was ordered placed at the junction of Liberty Street with High Broadway, to stop northbound traffic on Liberty.

Several other traffic measures taken included:

Fifteen-minute parking to be allowed at nights and on Sundays in south half of bus loading zone on east side of Liberty Street between State and Ferry Streets.

Stop signs on Duncan and Abrams Avenues at entrance to Carlton Way; on Lee Street entering South 21st; on Columbia Street at both Myrtle Avenue and Academy Street.

One-Way Alley North-south alley east of Commercial and north of Ferry Streets traffic.

Parking prohibited for 15 feet south from Hunt Street on North Capitol Street at the Hollywood business district. Parking prohibited on south side of Cross Street from 12th to Pringle Creek.

In zoning the Council set for Aug. 11 a public hearing on special business zoning to permit a chiropractic and naturopathic clinic for Dr. J. A. Rombough at 1515 State St.

A bill was introduced to change setbacks on the south side of Winona Court for a lot between the street and Mill Creek, a distance of about 40 feet. The lot has a 125-foot frontage.

The name Francis Street was changed to Prospect Place at the request of property owners. Purchase of four Ford two-door sedans for police cars was approved. Valley Motor Co. was only bidder at $3,891 after deducting $2,845 for trade-ins.

"These discs are not mirages," he said, "as was suggested a few weeks ago in a national (Look) magazine. Radar proves that."

"Furthermore, any suggestion that these come from the depths of space is fantastic. Their origin is earth. The question is where on earth."

La Paz recalled that some authorities had decided a disc sighted over Iowa was the planet Jupiter, and told a reporter:

"Jupiter, or Mars or Venus for that matter, because of the earth's rotation on its axis, appears to move less than a hundredth of the moon's apparent with a second. Therefore it appears stationary to the naked eye."

"On the contrary, the luminous yellow discs seen in the Southwest and near Washington, D. C., move up to 30 times the apparent width of the moon. Hence there should be no difficulty in distinguishing between planets and discs."

NEUVITAS, Cuba (AP)—Four strange, luminous objects were reported over this north coast Cuban port Sunday. The objects moved in formation, at great speed. Hundreds of citizens reported seeing them.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force said Monday night the current series of "flying saucer" reports has brought no change to its 24-hour a day program to challenge any unidentified and potentially hostile object in the skies over the United States.

Unidentified objects were spotted on radar screens at the Washington National Airport the past week end.

Reports of the sighting reached the Air Force and jet fighter-interceptor planes made a search of the Washington area. One pilot reported seeing "lights" which he was never able to overtake.

In the wake of the Washington development there were published reports the Air Defense Command had been organized on an emergency basis to pursue any unidentified object in the skies.

SILVERTON — Emmanuel Kehlerhals Jr. of Silverton was injured Monday afternoon when the logging truck he was driving went out of control and tipped over near Falls City.

Kehlerhals, an employee of Ward K. Richardson of Falls City, was taken to the Dallas Hospital and then to Silverton Hospital after he was removed from the cab of his truck where he was pinned after the crash. He said that the brakes of his truck went out, causing the accident about three miles west of Falls City.

He suffered a possible broken ankle, numerous cuts and bruises and a possible hip injury. His condition was reported by the hospital as "fair."

Ike's Name to Go Before Mississippi Demo Convention

TUPELO, Miss (AP)—Former Lt. Gov. Sam Lumpkin of Tupelo said Monday the name of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Republican nominee for President, definitely would be placed before the coming session of the state Democratic convention.

Lumpkin said he did not know yet who would introduce the resolution calling for the state party to endorse Eisenhower, but that he knew it would be done.

Lumpkin's statement followed a declaration by Gov. Hugh White, Atty. Gen. J. P. Coleman and other state rights' leaders that they would support the Democratic ticket of Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois and Sen. John Sparkman D-Ala.

White made it clear, however, he was only speaking for himself and not for the state convention. The governor was not available for comment on Lumpkin's announcement.

Car Crashes Dynamite Truck

Statesman News Service ST. PAUL — A 1940 Plymouth driven by Ralph Leroy Clinger, 18, of Lafayette, collided with an explosives truck Monday afternoon two miles east of St. Paul.

The explosives truck, carrying dynamite and driven by Stanley James Heater of Sherwood, was said by State Police to have been stopped at a crossing when Clinger's auto struck it. No great damage was incurred by the truck but the auto had a damaged front end. There were no injuries to either driver.

Clinger was cited by State Police for failure to have a driver's license.

Bus Drivers Offer Contract

A new contract offer was proposed Monday by the Salem city transit bus drivers and a copy of the proposal given to Carl J. Wendt, general manager of the lines.

"This proposal was made to replace the contract which expired Monday," Wendt explained.

Contract negotiations are being handled by T. E. Begun, Portland representative of the Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric and Motor Buses Employees Division 1055. A counter proposal was expected to be made about Thursday, according to Wendt.

First Charge Brings Second

One trouble led to another Sunday and Monday for Vernon C. Braden, Milton, Ore., in dealing with police officers.

He was arrested Sunday by a state policeman at Hayesville for failure to yield right-of-way to other vehicles and was released on bail.

Later, when he appeared at Marion County sheriff's office to file a report of the accident which resulted in the arrest, Braden was charged by a deputy with being intoxicated in a public place—the sheriff's office.

Monday Braden pleaded guilty to both charges in District Court and was fined $10 and $25, respectively.

2 Permits Issued For New Roofs

Two new roofs and a repair job were listed Monday with the Salem city engineer in building permits issued for the day.

Permits were issued to the Ambassador Apartments to reroof an apartment house at 550 N. Summer St., $3,000, and G. W. Wood to reroof a private garage at 211 S. 18th St., $50. Also a permit was issued to Mrs. B. D. Cross to repair an office building at 1989 Fairgrounds Rd., $242.

CROP DUSTER DIES LOVINGTON, N. M. (AP)—A Jasper, Tex., pilot died Monday in the flaming wreckage of a crop-dusting plane which hit a power line. J. Frank Davis, about 40, was killed in the early morning crash.

The shells of the eggs of most reptiles are soft and parchment-like.

$126,000 Compromise Chest Goal Discussed

The possibility of a "compromise" goal of some $126,000 for Salem Community Chest appeared strong Monday following discussion of balance between agency needs and community willingness to provide.

More than 70 persons, largely and of the eight public programs to provide guidance for the Chest budget committee, headed by Arthur Bates, Chest President Joseph A. H. Dodd was in charge.

Bates pointed out that the agencies had asked for some $140,000 for their budgets—$9,000 over the 1951 budget and $25,000 over last year's requests, $20,000 over 1951's fund attainment. The total goal must be set soon for the campaign beginning Sept. 17.

More Funds Needed The group largely agreed with Bates that the programs should not stand still but should get some increased funds yearly until they reach enough to fill their demands. There is "no question of need for funds," it was held, but a question as to whether Salem residents will give enough money to provide the services they ask of the character-building and welfare agencies.

Charles A. Sprague, president of the Oregon Chest, said "nobody has ever given until it hurt in Salem."

Opportunity Climbs Remarks from agency representatives included: Boy Scouts, Gardner Knapp—The Chest budget hasn't come up as fast as the dollar has gone down. The opportunity for service has climbed with the population.

Camp Fire Girls, Miss Enid Walcott—"If we don't meet the needs of our youth through the Chest, we'll have to pay it through the courts."

Catholic Charities, August Huckestein—"The call for aid is greater this year due to the crop situation."

Girl Scouts, Mrs. Ivan Marble—Expanding rolls of the organization justify the budget figures.

Membership Grows Y.M.C.A. Roy Harland—Organization membership has doubled in three years.

Also speaking were Leo Page of the Salvation Army advisory board and Mrs. Harold O. Schneider, president of the Y.M.C.A.

R. L. Elstrom was among board members urging a goal of $140,000 aiming at "agency needs, not minimums."

He and others called for a greater selling effort for the campaign.

Most of the group also pledged support for changed campaign plans announced by Chairman Fred B. McKinney and Pre-Campaign Chairman Otto J. Wilson Jr. These include a "give where you work" emphasis, replacing an all-residences canvass, and a unit account system to put firm and employee appeals and giving under the same Chest workers for simplification.

Children Don't Belong in Jails, Speakers State

Juvenile offenders should not be allowed first hand familiarity with an adult criminal element by placing them in the same jails, was the essence of two addresses Monday evening before the Child and Family Welfare Council and the Salem Community Council.

In two separate speeches, one by Judge William B. East of Eugene, and the other by Dr. Will Drum, of Portland, the Councils, comprised of some 80 persons, were advised "juveniles need discipline, but not the punishment or criminal education that can be acquired in jail."

"Many reasons are involved in the need for separate detention homes for juveniles to insure better arraignment conditions for juvenile offenders," East advised. East compared the value of the Skipworth Detention Home located in Springfield near Eugene with communities which use jails and advised that such a home is an asset to the community which has one.

Both men agreed that "children don't belong in jails." They contended that children ultimately revolt against the processes of society which put them in such places. The speakers stated that juveniles should be put in "controlled conditions where they may be properly educated and understood."

Representatives of the State Penitentiary, Mac Laren's School for Boys in Woodburn, the Salem School District and the Marion County Health Department were present at this meeting held in the Music Hall of Willamette University.
