

Art Fair Will Be Friday

Hand loomed materials, painting, ceramic works, and other arts, crafts and objects of art will be displayed and offered for sale at the Salem Art Association's third annual Art Fair to be held this Friday from 11 to 6 o'clock in Willson Park, immediately west of the Capitol building.

Both local and out-of-town artists and craftsmen will be represented at the fair, and many will be on hand to demonstrate their techniques. Registration of exhibitors is accommodated through Mrs. Ida Nestell or Mrs. Clifford Taylor, members of the Art Fair committee. Other committee members include Mrs. William E. Anderson, the chairman, assisted by Mrs. W. F. Poorman, Mrs. Conrad Paulson, David Duniway and John F. Durr.

The Weavers Guild will have a substantial display at the fair, supervised by Mrs. Fred Thompson, Mrs. Kenneth Long, Mrs. Clifford Farmer and Mrs. Louis Anderson. Mrs. Anderson also will demonstrate weaving. Mr. Anderson will have a display of pottery and will demonstrate pottery making.

Registration for artists, completed at this time, include the following participants in the fair: Mrs. Beryl DeGuire, Mrs. Conrad Paulson, Mrs. Ida Nestell, Mrs. Helen McElwain of Salem, and Mrs. Anne Stauffer of Hubbard. Additional Salem art exhibitors include David Duniway, John F. Durr and Ronald Bonney.

Mrs. Nestell and Mrs. Taylor will be at Willson Park on Friday, from 9 o'clock on, to complete registration of exhibitors. The Art Fair is open to the public without charge. Of special interest will be the table of art objects, some from the old Bush House, to be offered for sale by the Salem Art Association.

On Etiquette By ROBERTA LEE

Q. How does a woman go about offering her social calling cards?

A. It is always a good idea to consult a good stationer about these, and take his advice about the size and script. Fashions in these details change from time to time. Printed cards, ornate script, and colored cards are in poor taste. The card may bear the name, or the name and address.

Q. Is it good form to state in an introduction, "I want to make you acquainted with, etc.?"

A. This is considered very bad form, as is the oft-used expression, "Shake hands with." It is much better just to say, "Mr. Jones, Mr. Williams." Or, "Mr. Jones, may I present Mr. Williams."

Q. What kind of decoration would be appropriate for a breakfast table.

A. A bowl of fruit is customary but flowers may be used.
