A LITTLE PATTERN

Why not have the handsome print fabric after all, even if it is too price lofty to be splashed all over the room? A beautifully drawn pattern in beautiful colors can do big things for a room in small quantity. The trick is to use plenty of matching fabric in a plain color with it. So many prints today come with sister plain fabrics, the same fabrics exactly in the print background colors, and the plain fabrics are less expensive than the prints. Use the print where it will speak up and fill out yardages with the plain. Here are three ideas for print-with-plain budget soothers. Use the print for one panel of each drapery for two windows and frame the print with plain color. Cover a chair with plain fabric and center the print tarty carefully as if it were a picture of a big extra pillow. Make short curtains inside a window frame rather than floor length draperies, and use the print for one tier and plain for the other.

On Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE

Q. What is the proper procedure of late arrivals at church service?

A. Enter the church very quietly. If a hymn is being sung, proceed to your seat. If you enter during prayer, wait in the vestibule or at rear of the church. It is unlikely that you ever would be tardy enough to enter during the sermon, but should this happen, slip quietly into a back pew.

Q. Whose place is it to propose a toast at the reception to the bride and bridegroom?

A. The best man, and members of the wedding party and the guests rise to drink the couple's health. Whereupon the bridegroom rises and expresses thanks for himself and his bride.

Q. How should one point the prongs of the fork when cutting and conveying food to the mouth?

A. The prongs should point downward while cutting the food, but should point upward as the food is lifted to the mouth.

New Overshoes for Rain Wear this Fall will be Streamlined, New Styles

By SUE GARDNER
You will find a good deal of improved styling in rain wear this fall. Particularly in rubbers and overshoes the attempt has been made to design them so that they are easy to carry and to put on your feet. A new collection of latex overshoes with neoprene, or man-made rubber soles, are resistant to all types of wear and skidding on wet or icy pavement. These overshoes are also to be seen in a variety of new styles for children and adults.

For youngsters going to school, it is a good idea to have overshoes that are easy to slip on and also those that have no right or left shaped soles so mistakes can be avoided. Otherwise the children will do their best to leave the overshoes behind in school. For the boy who needs a little encouragement to wear overshoes, there is a western type boot that fits over pants or overall legs. Girls have more dainty and feminine looking styles in gay colors.

Young girls and women who like flat heel shoes often have difficulty in finding rain shoes that do not look too large and bulky. A new pixie type with pointed front and back and a self fastener in a bow effect in the front takes away from the long, low look of the low heeled overshoe. Another type for low and cuban heels has a scalloped top with a cut-down side, finished off with a bow treatment. For high heels the styles are dainty yet durable and all are light in weight.

The men's styles vary from toe rubbers to full cover-up models. There are portable styles you can slip in your pocket, contained in a fabric bag, a plaid drawing model for the ladies and a plain envelope type for the men. The men's styles all come in black, the ladies in red, amber, navy and grey.
