Board Asks State to Provide Guidance in Recreational Work

The state is faced with an inevitable responsibility in providing leadership and guidance in recreational programs in Oregon, Gov. Douglas McKay's advisory committee on natural resources was advised in a report at a meeting here Wednesday.

The report was drafted by a subcommittee of which P. V. Schneider is chairman.

Several recommendations were submitted by the subcommittee, as follows:

1. Appointment of a secretary on recreational development.
2. That the advisory committee on natural resources solicit appropriate legislation for financing this office at the 1953 legislature.
3. That the secretary on recreation be instructed to report at appropriate intervals on the progress of the program and such further recommendations as may from time to time be indicated.
4. That the advisory committee review state recreational service programs periodically and, if deemed advisable, review progress of the program with representatives of the various interested groups through the medium of public hearings.

Provide Assistance
5. Provide, upon request, assistance in development of recreational programs to communities, municipalities, governmental and non-governmental agencies.

The report also stressed the need for laws pertaining to the recreation field as a guide to any legislation which Oregon may desire to enact for implementing existing statutory facilities.

Another report dealt with the future growth and development of the upper Deschutes River Basin.

The report said the cities of Bend and Madras have barely enough water to supply demand while the ground water aquifer in the Prineville area is rapidly being overtaxed.

Water Supply Important
"It is evident to the committee that water supply is of great importance in the consideration of any program for the conservation and development of natural resources in the upper Deschutes River Basin," the report continued.

The report recommended a thorough review of the water supply problems in the Deschutes River Basin by the political subdivisions of the area with as assistance of other agencies.

The committee voted to discuss coastal streams at their next annual meeting.
Governor McKay sat in at Wednesday's meeting.

50 New Salem Teachers to Meet Tuesday

Fifty teachers who are new to Salem public schools this year will meet Tuesday for first instructions in their jobs and a get-acquainted luncheon as guests of the school board.

The new teachers are among 368 of the Salem district. Principals are starting work for the new school year this week; teachers report next week prior to the Sept. 8 school opening.

Speakers at the new teachers' noon luncheon in the Marion Hotel will be Mrs. Agnes Booth, Marion County superintendent of schools; Robert W. Penize, Salem Chamber of Commerce president; Mayor Alfred W. Loucks and School Board President Gardner Knapp, who will preside.

First meeting of the district's administrative staff for the year will be Friday. About 50 principals and special department heads will attend.

Wheat Prices Inch Ahead

CHICAGO (P)—Gains extending to a couple of cents in soybeans provided the main feature on the board of trade Wednesday. Wheat inched ahead, oats were firm and corn barely steady.

Strength in soybean oil served as a background for the advance in soybeans. Brazil and Mexico bought wheat, giving that grain its main source of strength. Only one lonely car of oats arrived here today and the small daily arrivals act as a support under this cereal.

Wheat closed 1/4 cent higher, corn 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher, oats 1/2 lower to 1/4 higher, rye 1/2 to 1 cent lower, soybeans 1/4 to 2 cents higher, and lard 8 cents lower to 5 cents a hundred pounds higher.

Brazil bought 4,900,000 bushels of wheat overnight, finally consummating a deal which had been expected for several weeks. That country also took 50,000 sacks of hard wheat flour. Mexico bought 885,000 bushels of hard wheat, which completed the day's export business.

Modest Rally In Stock Mart

NEW YORK (P)—A modest rally in the stock market was encouraged Wednesday by strength in a handful of railroads.

Volume came to 930,000 shares. There was a lot of good and bad dividend and earning news, and stocks responded in an orthodox but no violent manner.

The railroads themselves were helped along by continued good profit statements for July and the first seven months of this year, largely as a result of a fattened rate structure.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks gained 30 cents at $107.60. That rise was slight but nevertheless the best gain in three weeks. The industrial component of the average was up 30 cents, railroads up 50 cents, and utilities up 10 cents.
