

Miss Pankratz Is Married to Mr. Laubsch

The First Christian Church was the scene for the wedding of Miss Pansy Darlene Pankratz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Pankratz, and Daryl Duane Laubsch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Laubsch, on Saturday evening. The Rev. Dudley Strain officiated at the 8 o'clock ceremony.

Potted palms and bouquets of gladioluses and chrysanthemums centered the altar. Lighting the tapers were Miss Evelyn Theiss and Benny Toysen. Soloist was Miss Gladys Ratzliff, accompanied by Miss Ruth Ratzliff.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white slipper satin gown fashioned with a net yoke outlined with lace. The full skirt was made of tulle. Her fingertip veil was held by a scalloped lace halo. She carried a bouquet of white stephanotis and red roses centered with a white orchid.

Miss Joyce Harms was the honor attendant. She wore a bronze satin dress and carried a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums. Bridesmaids were Miss Lavina Loewen and Mrs. Marvin Laubsch. They wore identical gowns of gold satin and carried bouquets of bronze chrysanthemums. Beverly Laubsch was flower girl. Teddy Loewen was ring bearer.

Best man was Marvin Laubsch

North Marion Fair to Feature 'All for Free' Slogans Again

WOODBURN—"It's all for free!" That is the slogan that has won for the North Marion county fair, to be held in Woodburn September 18, 19 and 20, the reputation of being a "real old-fashioned country-style fair." No entry fee is charged exhibitors, no admission is collected for admittance to the fair buildings or to any of the three big evening entertainments.

Designed to "give the fair back to the farmer, his wife and family," the Woodburn event places special emphasis on farm, home and garden exhibits. Commercialism is kept to an absolute minimum.

Any resident of Marion county is eligible to compete for the cash prizes and ribbons offered in the various departments. Adult exhibitions are scheduled in baked foods, textiles, food preservation, floral, agriculture and horticulture, while juniors will compete in livestock and showmanship, gardening, floral and food preservation. Booths are also being entered by Granges, Farmers Unions, garden clubs and home extension units.

Also planned are three big free St. Mark's Lutheran Guild will meet for a 1:30 dessert luncheon on Wednesday at the church. Mrs. Glenn Sachs is in charge of the program. Hostesses are Mrs. Alf Sather, Mrs. John Holmstedt, Mrs. Oscar Sederstrom and Mrs. Everett Stenjem. All members and friends are invited to attend.

Mrs. Elizabeth Collins of Hamilton, Ontario, arrived Thursday at the Arthur Stowell home on Terrace Drive for two weeks' visit with Oregon relatives. She is Mrs. Stowell's sister.

Mrs. James Sundet, Williston, N. D., is visiting her parents; Ms. Oscar Sederstrom and Mrs. Everett Stenjem. All members and friends are invited to attend.

Designing Woman

PATTERN WITH PLAIN COLOR

You know how well pattern and plain color combine in a room, to be as smooth and gentler on the eye than all pattern, and more interesting than all plain colors. Try the same idea on the table—there's a new trend toward the combining of patterned dinnerware with plain. One new dinnerware collection, called Interplay includes as many solid colors as decorated pieces. Patterned plates may be combined with soup plates in solid colors, patterned cups may take unpatterned saucers, or decorated dishes may add only plain colored bread and butter plates, serving bowls, pitchers, platters, tureens and casseroles. You choose your own combinations from charcoal and golden melon solid color and the same colors spiced with bitersweet in three different patterns on white backgrounds. The dinnerware is true oven-proof, for baking, roasting, even broiling, and extra resistant to breakage. It's designer is that well-known beginner of table trends, Russell Wright.
