'Lucky' Rabbit Changes Hands

Latest "lucky" possessor of the Salem Junior Chamber of Commerce rabbit is Stanley Schofield, 525 N. Winter St., who must care for it at home and bring it to all Jaycee meetings until he (Schofield) gets a new member enrolled. Vice President Schofield (right), shown with President Maurice Cohn, took over the animal Tuesday after Allen R. Barber, 1040 Cross St., had had it for two weeks. (Statesman Photo.)

Busy Season Scheduled by Mt. Angel Club

Statesman News Service
MT. ANGEL — With the opening of the fall season, the Young Peoples Sodality, an organization of the Catholic boys and girls of the community of high school age or older, is planning extra activities.

Among these is a food sale Sunday, and organization of a dramatic group to present a play in November.

The food sale will be held at St. Mary's School following the morning masses and will be under the direction of Bertha Hassing and Norbert Aicher. Food will be donated by Sodality members and will include baked goods, meats, vegetables and fruit.

The dramatic group will be coached by the Rev. Gabriel Morris of Mt. Angel Prep School, professor of speech and dramatics.

Richard Wellman was elected to replace Roy Palmer as secretary. The latter is attending Santa Clara University.

The Thursday night dances every second week will be continued and a skating party is being arranged for some Tuesday night during October and will be held at the Stayton skating rink.
