SC to Meet Beavers, Ducks vs. Huskies

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The crucial games start this week in the Pacific Coast Conference—contests that will decide who may or may not wind up in the Rose Bowl. Up to now, the PCC has enjoyed its best season since the war. Its four major teams are still unbeaten, and it has a 10-4-1 record intersectionally—including a 4-1

Team	W	L	T	Pct.
UCLA	2	0	0	1.000
Stanford	2	0	0	1.000
California	1	0	0	1.000
USC	1	0	0	1.000
Washington	1	1	0	.500
Oregon	1	2	0	.333
Oregon State	0	2	0	.000
UW	0	2	0	.000
WSC	0	2	0	.000

edge over the Big Ten, which provides the other half of the New Year's Day festivities at Pasadena. So far, none of the big four has met. The first clash comes Saturday. It pits Stanford's underrated defending champions against an injury-hit UCLA.

There's a "This is where I came in" feeling with Stanford this year. Last fall, no one gave Chuck Taylor's Indians much chance, but they just kept rolling—until Rose Bowl time. Cards Display Power. This year they've been unexpected repeaters, and showed power to spare on Saturday in whipping Oregon State, 41-28. That's the same OSC which held mighty Michigan State to a last-second, 17-14, win the week before.

UCLA, meanwhile, was testing its passing attack against Rice, and three touchdown tosses brought a 20-0 win. Little Ted Narleski threw two of them, Primo Villanueva the third.

But it was a costly victory for the Bruins. Narleski went out with a torn rib ligament, and Coach Red Sanders said he "probably" won't play against Stanford.

Since the Bruins are already without the No. 1 tailback, Paul Cameron, victim of ankle and shoulder injuries, Sanders isn't enthusiastic on his chances. Stanford might prove too much of a load for the almost untried Villanueva. Cameron, on the other hand, may be back.

Trojans Come North. Next Saturday's other test with a bowl flavor sends Southern California north to meet Oregon State. SC isn't not much shucks so far offensively but has a defensive platoon that keeps winning games with punt returns, pass interceptions and tackles so jarring they cause fumbles.

California goes outside the conference this week to engage much-beaten Santa Clara, an ancient rival who would like nothing better than to upset the Bears. Oregon opposes Washington and Washington State heads east to meet Ohio State, powerful conquerors of Wisconsin.

Pro Golfers Take Title In Hudson Cup Tourney

PENDLETON (AP)—The 10-man professional team came from behind to win the fourth annual Hudson Cup golf matches, 9-6, here Sunday.

The professionals, trailing 3-2 in Saturday's two-ball matches came back to win six of the 10 singles contests, and break even on two others.

The victory gave the pros a 3-1 lead in the matches, sponsored by Robert Hudson, Portland grocery wholesaler and golf enthusiast. Larry Lamberger, Portland; Harold West, Pendleton; Eddie Hogan, Portland; Emery Zimmerman, Clarkston, Wash., and Stan Leonard of Vancouver, B. C., were the six winners.

Lamberger beat Ray Weston, Spokane amateur, 3 and 2, while West defeated Bruce Cudd, Portland, 5 and 4. Hogan measured Harry Givan, Seattle, 2 and 1; Zimmerman beat Walt McElroy, Vancouver, B. C., 2 and 1, and Leonard whipped Dick Yost, Portland, 3 and 1.

Two Amateurs Win. The only amateur winners were George Beechler, Ontario, who defeated John Rudy, Tacoma, 4 and 3, and Evr Parent, Seattle, who trimmed Dave Killen, Olympia, 3 and 1. Chuck Congdon, Tacoma pro, and Al Menger, Spokane, halved their match to divide points and Frank Newell, Tacoma, and Amateur Eddie Draper, Seattle, also broke even.

In Saturday matches over the Pendleton Country Club course, the amateurs fared better. Cudd and Yost came from behind to nose out Leonard and Lamberger, 1 up, while Bill Mawhinney and McElroy beat Newell and Zimmerman, 2 and 1. Givan and Parent measured West and Hogan 1 up.

Pro winners were Congdon and Honsberger, who defeated Menger and Draper, 2 and 1, and Rudy and Killen, who bested Ray Weston, Spokane, and Beechler, 7 and 6. Ken Tucker captained the pros and Ralph Whaley headed up the amateurs.

Grid Injury Fatal

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—James Carter, 18-year-old halfback on the football team at nearby Fairland, O., High School died early Sunday of injuries received in a game Friday night.

Tough Pacific Gridmen Next For Bearcats

Losers of a heart-breaking 7-6 game to College of Idaho in the home opener, Ted Ogdahl's Willamette Bearcats again take to the road next weekend, meeting the tough Pacific Badgers in another Northwest Conference scrap Saturday night at Forest Grove.

Dr. Paul Stagg's Badgers are considered the club to beat for the conference crown. In their latest outing Pacific whipped Whitman's Missionaries 37-14.

There were only 38 seconds left on the clock when Eddie Cole's Idaho crew won last Saturday's game, a tilt that launched the Conference campaign for the local Halfback Ted Martin plunged from the one for the score and the subsequent place kick for point brought the skippy margin and ruined the evening for 4,000 fans.

The Bearcats more than held their own for three quarters but faded in the last period. Little Chuck Lewis scored from a yard out for the Willamettes in the third quarter.

The running of Lewis and Lou Lofland, the Portland freshman, plus the passing of Benny Holt were highlights of a Bearcat attack which, other than for the one occasion, didn't have the steam to go all the way. Fumbles spoiled WU thrusts in a couple of instances.

The daughter of Cosmic Bomb earned a $42,330 check and returned a $650 mule to her backers in the crowd of 14,678. His Duchess was easily second best in the 1 1/16 mile race, finishing eight lengths in front of BacBea, from the King Ranch barn. The time was 1:45 4/5.
