

Apple Recipes So Numerous They Might Occupy All Time; Good Too

By MAXINE BUREN
Statesman Woman's Editor

No need to envy the woman who makes her living writing apple recipes—for we can fill up our time just about any day we wish with interesting ways to use this fruit.

Being an apple-eater ourselves makes us susceptible to the charms of fruity recipes. So here are some we've noticed around lately.

Raisins and apples combine in two recipes we find among those sent us for publication. This first is for cookies:

RAISIN APPLESAUCE COOKIES

2 cups sifted flour 1/2 cup chopped nuts
1/2 teaspoon baking soda 1/2 cup shortening
1 teaspoon salt 1 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon 1 egg
1/2 teaspoon cloves 1 tablespoon vinegar
1 cup raisins 1 cup sweetened applesauce

Sift flour, baking soda, salt and spices together. Stir in raisins and nuts. Cream shortening and sugar together. Add egg and beat until light and fluffy. Add vinegar and blend. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with applesauce, mixing until well blended. Drop by teaspoonfuls about 2 inches apart on a greased baking sheet. Bake at 400° (moderately hot oven) 15 to 20 minutes. Makes 5 dozen cookies.

And another for fritters:

APPLE RAISIN FRITTERS

1 1/2 cups sifted flour 1/2 cup milk
2 teaspoons baking powder 1 tablespoon melted shortening
1/2 teaspoon salt 1/2 cup chopped apples
1 tablespoon sugar 1/2 cup seedless raisins
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon 1 egg, beaten

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt, sugar and cinnamon. Combine egg, milk and shortening. Add apples and raisins to liquid mixture. Add to flour mixture, stirring until flour is well moistened. Drop by spoonfuls into deep hot fat (375°) and fry until brown, turning frequently. Drain on absorbent paper. Serve with syrup and pork sausage. Makes about 18 small fritters.

Spicy Apple Bread is the kind of rich, moist quick bread you will want to have on hand when unexpected guests drop in during the week end.

SPICY APPLE BREAD

1/2 cup margarine or butter 1 teaspoon each, baking powder and soda
1 cup brown sugar 1/2 teaspoon each, nutmeg and salt
2 eggs 1/2 cup chopped apples
2 tablespoons buttermilk 1/2 tsp. each, cloves and mace
1 cup chopped tart apple 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon vanilla 1/2 cup chopped nuts
2 cups sifted flour

Cream together margarine and sugar until light and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each. Add buttermilk, apples and vanilla. Mix well. Sift together dry ingredients, add nuts and mix lightly, add flour mixture to creamed mixture. Mix until flour disappears. Pour into 8x4x2-inch greased loaf pan. Bake in a 350 degree oven one hour, or until done. Makes one loaf.
