BROADWAY HITS To Appear In Salem

Three recent New York hits make up the 1952-53 Civic Drama Festival sponsored in your home town by the Salem 20-30 club.

The three plays presented in the series are The Fledermaus, Glad Tidings by Edward Mabley and Jenny Kissed Me by Jean Kerr. Johann Strauss' most entrancing score is embodied in Fledermaus tunes which have already taken their place among the classics. The Fledermaus will be presented in the Salem High School Auditorium on February the 16th.

One of the most famous comedy hits of New York's 1951 season was the attraction, Glad Tidings. In the words of Brooks Atkinson, dramatic critic of the New York Times, Glad Tidings has an impudent sense of humor and an originality of viewpoint. Glad Tidings will be presented November the 24th at the Salem High School

Jenny Kissed Me will be presented on April the 20th at the Salem High School. This play is a revival of a comedy that kept New York audiences of the years 1948-49 in a continual state of hilarity.

Subscriptions for the three drama plays are on sale at Stevens and Son for the price of $5 for the reserved seats and $3 for the unreserved for the play series.
