OPENING ... of Oregon's 47th Legislature on Monday attracting numerous visitors from all over the state, as well as a large gathering of Salem folk to witness the opening session ... Immediately following Governor Paul L. Patterson's address to the joint session of the house and senate he and Mrs. Patterson received visitors at an informal reception in the governor's executive chamber ... Mrs. Patterson wearing a burgandy crepe gown, to which she pinned a black hat ... Receiving with Oregon's governor and first lady was his mother, Mrs. Ada Patterson of Hillsboro, who wore a grey dress with matching hat ... The Pattersons' son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Smithson, down from Portland for the occasion ...

Friends greeting ... Mrs. Eugene Marsh, whose husband is the new president of the senate ... Mrs. Marsh smart in a black outfit accented with white, a black hat and white carnation corsage ... and Mrs. Rudie Wilhelm Jr., wife of the new speaker of the house ... she looked chic in a deep plum wool with American Beauty velvet chapeau and accessories ...

En famille ... Joining Sen. and Mrs. Marsh for the day were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Marsh, and his twin brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Marsh, all of McMinnville ... for the opening ... The William F. Dashneys, Mrs. Glenn Macy, Mrs. J. L. Compton, Mrs. Chester Cushing and Ned Clark ... With Rep and Mrs. Wilhelm were his mother, Mrs. Rudie Wilhelm, and her mother, Mrs. Effie Pray, of Portland ...

More of the same ... Guests of the State Treasurer and Mrs. Sigfried B. Unander were his uncle and aunt, Mrs. M. Chester Benson, and Mrs. Unander's twin sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gadsby, all of Portland ... Attorney General and Robert Y. Thornton had as their guest, her mother, Mrs. Carl Haberer, who is here from Tillamook for a few days ... Mrs. Thornton is anticipating a busy winter with legislative activities and serving as first vice president of the Oregon Branch of the American Association of University Women ...

From out-of-town ... came Mrs. Lee Patterson of Portland wearing a becoming lilac wool dress with two-toned lilac hat ... Mrs. Patterson is a longtime friend of the governor and his wife ... the women were classmates at the University of Oregon and Gamma Phi Beta sorority sisters ... Mrs. Marshall Corbett of Klamath Falls stopping in Salem for the opening session, enroute to Washington, D.C. ... she heads eastward today ... Mrs. Frederic Young of Portland joining Mrs. Patterson and Mrs. Corbett for the day ...

Mamie's Sister to Welcome Mr., Mrs. America to Fete

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. G. Gordon Moore, Mamie Eisenhower's sister, better known as "Mike," is energetic and good-natured, but she doesn't like the limelight and wishes people would stop plaguing her with personal family questions.
"Everybody under the sun was calling her about one thing or another—what kind of perfume Mamie likes, what size dress does she wear, what does she like to eat and so on," a friend told me. "She finally had to get a private, unlisted phone in self-defense."
The wife of a retired Army colonel, Mrs. Moore lives in a spacious, beautifully-furnished home here and is the mother of four children, Richard Gill Jr., 20, a cadet at West Point; Michael Dowd Gill, 17; Ellen Dowd Gill, 11, and Mamie Eisenhower Gill, 10, all attending public school in Washington. Taking care of house and family is a fulltime job in itself, Mike says.
She has agreed to take on one project in connection with the inauguration ceremonies, however, because she feels so strongly about its importance. As chairman of the Hospitality Subcommittee of the Eisenhower-Nixon Inaugural Committee, she intends to see that Mr. and Mrs. Average American receive a special welcome.
"It is our hope that when Mr. and Mrs. Average American and their children go back home they will take with them a happy feeling they have been truly welcome in their nation's Capital," she says. "Washington belongs to all the people. We just live here and try to take care of it."
Mrs. Moore's committee, which will be staffed by some 500 volunteers, plans to set up information booths in hotel lobbies and other points throughout the city to supply information on sight-seeing and general data of interest. Trailers manned by volunteers, on major highways leading into the city, will also furnish visitors with information. In addition, they will supply suggestions on housing, restaurants, churches, transportation, tickets and shopping services.
"Distinguished visitors, of course, will be welcome," said Mrs. Moore, "but our committee, as representative of the entire Inaugural Committee and the people of Washington—and Gen. Eisenhower himself, for that matter—will give special attention to the thousands of hometown folks who will come to see our new President inaugurated. We feel that welcoming and helping the average visitor will be our principal job. The men, women and children the newspapers don't notice are going to be the Hospitality Subcommittee's very special VIP's."

to HOOVER Owners!

It has come to our attention that Hoover owners are being preyed upon by unscrupulous men representing themselves as connected with this company. The prices charged by these men are unnecessarily high, both for work and parts; and the parts they use are cheap and inferior imitations of genuine Hoover parts.

If your Hoover needs service, we urge you to call our local office.

Only by doing so can you be sure of getting the expert workmanship of factory-trained Hoover men and genuine Hoover parts, both at reasonable charges.

Ask for a free Hoover inspection. Your cleaner will be carefully gone over in order to see that it is operating properly.
