

Ike Has 'Sniffles,' Plans Congress Address Monday

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower left his White House desk at noon Monday because of "a slight case of the sniffles," after arranging to go before Congress Monday to deliver his State of the Union Message.

The President's cold was described by an aide as "nothing serious," but on advice of his physician Eisenhower moved from his office in the West Wing to his room in the White House proper.

Murray Snyder, assistant press secretary, said Eisenhower did not go to bed but worked in his room on the State of the Union address which he will deliver in person at a joint Senate session at 12:30 p. m., EST, next Monday.

The decision on timing of the address — a general outline of the new administration's legislative program — was reached Monday at Eisenhower's first formal meeting with Republican congressional leaders.

That conference started at 8:30 a. m., under the Eisenhower early-to-work routine, and lasted two hours.

About an hour and a half after ending, Snyder came into the White House Press Room and announced the President had developed a cold and was retiring to his living quarters. Eisenhower acted on the recommendation of retired Maj. Gen. Howard Snyder, White House physician.

"It's just a slight case of the sniffles — nothing serious," said Murray Snyder. "He has no fever."

The President decided to quit his desk, Snyder added, in an effort to keep the cold from getting worse.

Late in the day, James C. Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary, said the President's physician reported that he was "doing fine" and that he had advised him to leave his office so as "not to take any chances with all the flu that is going around."

Others whose terms expire are J. H. Willett and George Grabenhurst. The remaining members of the committee are William J. Phillips Sr. and William J. Entwistle. The committee, which meets on call with members of the school board, constitutes a planning group which establishes the annual budget. The budget is then submitted to a regular vote of the school district.

Other business to be aired by the board will include consideration of staff members for next year as well as action on the report on the building and grounds committee. Held in abeyance from the board's last meeting is a proposal for addition to Auburn School.

S. H. Boardman Succumbs at Home in Salem

(Story also on page one.)

Samuel H. Boardman, superintendent of state parks for 21 years, died Monday at his home, 585 N. Winter St., Salem.

Boardman was born in Lowell, Mass., Dec. 13, 1874. He attended public schools and Wayland Academy in Beaver Dam, Wis.

Before coming to Oregon in 1903 where he homesteaded at Boardman, he did engineering work with the Denver Union Water Works, the Denver Rio Grande Railroad, the Colorado Fuel and Iron Co. and the Great Southern Railroad.

He was a civil engineer by profession and when he came to Oregon continued engineering work with the Spokane, Portland and Seattle Railroad, and the Portland Railroad and Navigation Co.

Living and working in Boardman, Morrow County—a treeless section of the state—inspired him to plant trees along portions of the Columbia River Highway and the Old Oregon Trail.

Young trees were set out along the non-forested right of way from The Dalles to the Idaho line.

In 1919 Boardman started work with the State Highway Maintenance department and continued with it until 1929 when Gov. I. L. Patterson appointed a State Parks Commission for the purpose of preserving roadside timber and developing a state parks system.

Boardman was named the first state parks superintendent of Oregon.

When he took over there was a nucleus of 46 parks consisting of 1,370 acres, mostly small areas adjacent to highways.

Since then the system has grown until its areas number 151 with a total of about 61,500 acres.

He was a member of the Umatilla Masons Lodge.

Surviving are his widow, the former Annabelle Hawkins of Berthoud, Colo., of Salem; two daughters, Mrs. Albert Mefford, Salem, and Mrs. Thorne Hammond, Portland; two sons, Kenneth Y. Boardman, Newport, and Albert B. Boardman, San Mateo, Calif.; also eight grandchildren.

Daylight Time Plans Laid In Portland

PORTLAND (AP) — Portland began laying daylight saving plans again Monday, despite another state law, passed at the November polls, to keep the standard time throughout the year.

Mayor Fred L. Peterson directed the city attorney to draw up an ordinance to play the city on daylight time after spring arrives. Peterson said he wanted the issue settled in courts before the daylight time season arrives.

In 1948 the city amended the charter to provide for daylight time. The issue will be whether the new state law, forbidding cities and counties to go daylight time, takes precedence over the charter amendment. This was the second state law in recent years directed against daylight time.

Portland dodged the issue last year—and presumably could do so again—by simply advancing one hour the work day of city employees.

There's $15.00 in the Jackpot!

"For this dish you must conclude, To measure, as a rule: There is a time for everything. But once it's done you'll drool.

By nature it's adhesive, It's magic to the ribs; The whole family will enjoy it, Particularly the kids.

Now eggs are important, To the quality and taste; The cooking is quite simple, And you do not have to waste."

"What's Cookin' at Nohlgren's?"

6:30 P. M. Tonight

ACORNS FROM THE Oak Rooms
WITH DEL MILNE

On the last one in the world that anyone would accuse of eavesdropping but I just couldn't help hearing a bit of conversation Saturday night that raised my morale about two feet. Here's how it went—"well that Oak Room is about tops, it's certainly satisfying to know that Salem finally has a restaurant with some atmosphere." "Yeh man, said the other fellow, "I hope Salem people appreciate it enough to support it." "Well, the people of Salem do appreciate it and they are supporting it."

Couple of days we'll tell you about a telephone conversation we had with a lady about our Chef's famous Armenian dishes.

Marion Hotel LOUNGE
Will Now Open At 12 Noon For Your Mid-Day Relaxation

School Board To Pick Budget Committeemen

Selection of three new members for the Salem Public School System's budget committee will be made tonight at the regular meeting of the School Board.

Normally, selection of only two new members for the committee would be made, but the death of Donald A. Young in a coastal boating accident last August created the third vacancy. Young's term would have expired this coming June.

Others whose terms expire are J. H. Willett and George Grabenhurst. The remaining members of the committee are William J. Phillips Sr. and William J. Entwistle. The committee, which meets on call with members of the school board, constitutes a planning group which establishes the annual budget. The budget is then submitted to a regular vote of the school district.

Other business to be aired by the board will include consideration of staff members for next year as well as action on the report on the building and grounds committee. Held in abeyance from the board's last meeting is a proposal for addition to Auburn School.

2 Lebanon Men Charged With Home Lootings

LEBANON—Two Lebanon men were arrested by police here Monday afternoon on charges of stripping at least three Lebanon area homes of appliances and portable valuables Sunday while the residents were away.

Arrested by Linn County Sheriff George Miller, Deputy Sheriff Wade Collins, State Policeman Robert Rissman and Lebanon police were: James Edward Skyles, 1115 9th St., and Loyal Crandall, 483 4th Place.

They were lodged in the county jail at Albany last night and were expected to be arraigned this morning in Albany district court.

Police said they were aided in their investigation by a person who spotted the car used by the men while it stood in front of one robbed home.

Most of the loot was recovered, police reported.

Overheated Stove Brings Firemen Twice

An overheated wood stove in the home of Mrs. Sarah Cookingham, 1595 Mission St., prompted a run by Salem firemen about 5 p. m. Monday and again at 8:30 p. m.

The first time firemen confined damage to a charred wall behind the stove. The second time they assured Mrs. Cookingham the fire had not started up again.

Wilhelm Doubts All Taverns to Sell Cocktails

PORTLAND (AP) — Rudie Wilhelm Jr., speaker of the Oregon House of Representatives, said Monday he does not expect hard liquor permits to be granted to all of the state's beer taverns.

In a talk before the Portland Chamber of Commerce, Wilhelm also said he thinks dispensers who are granted licenses will be required to pay regular state liquor store retail prices. Restaurant operators have asked the Legislature to grant them a 15 per cent discount on liquor they buy from the state.

In discussing a proposal for the state to set up educational TV stations, Wilhelm said: "I don't think the Legislature is a mind to go into the television business now."

Other speakers were Gov. Paul Patterson and Senate President Eugene E. Marsh.

HOLLYWOOD
Ends Tonight—Open 6:45

GREATEST SHOW ON EARTH
Starts Wednesday - Open 6:45

MARIO LANZA
SHRUGS AGAIN—BECAUSE YOU'RE MINE

FLAT TOP
in thrilling COLOR!

STARRING
HAYDEN RICHARD CARLSON
with KEITH LARSEN and BILL PHIPPS

O. Henry's FULL HOUSE
20

City Council Calls for Study of Outside Fire Protection Costs

(Story also on page 1)

Salem aldermen proposed Monday that the city find a new way to determine the charge made for fire protection granted to properties outside city limits.

This was prompted by a request from Capitol Lumber Co., 2880 Cherry Ave., for fire protection at a $100 annual fee. This is the minimum covers up to $15,000 property evaluation, and the lumber company's property is valued at $2,500.

But Fire Chief E. L. Smith said he understood the lumber mill when expanded would represent a $100,000 investment and would have approximately 20,000 board feet of lumber standing on the property at all times.

City Manager J. L. Franzen and City Attorney Chris J. Kowitz were instructed to study the possibility of requiring application for outside fire protection to submit a fire insurance appraisal, or to propose some other method of establishing the value of properties to receive the fire protection. Meanwhile, the lumber firm's application was tabled.

Study by the city manager was ordered also in a neighborhood dispute over alleged use of residential-zoned property for industrial purposes by Reinholdt and Lewis, Venetian blind and wood product manufacturers.

Representing householders near the plant at 21st and Bellevue Streets, Attorney W. W. McKinney said a fence extends into Bellevue Street and some of the plant's storage and machinery is on residential property. Partner R. O. Lewis of the industry said he did not consider the use of the property objectionable to the neighborhood and asserted that one of the neighbors was stirring up trouble in order to further his own ends.

The Council introduced legislation for raising the minimum tax rates from 25 to 45 cents after the proposed increase was termed "acceptable" by City Manager J. L. Franzen. The latter said tax operating costs had increased about 17 per cent in the past year.

Two restricted business zones were created along North Capitol Street, for expansion of a service station at the northwest corner of Market and Capitol and for use of a residential building for a photography studio just north of Mill Creek.

The Council acted to prohibit parking for 20 feet along the south side of Hunt Street, from the North Capitol Street intersection, to facilitate traffic movement. In another action Tindall Pharmacy was authorized to make alterations provided the building extend no further into the street than at present.

The license committee recommended endorsement of a new license for package beer sales at Everett Nicholas' grocery at 1305 N. Summer St., but final Council action was withheld to give the public an opportunity for expression.

Aldermen passed bills to approve a small annexation to west city boundaries of property near Orchard Heights Road, if an election in that area is favorable, and to legalize the present system of 50-cent fines for overtime parking in metered parking spaces.

Father-Son Dinner Starts YMCA Week

Kickoff of the current YMCA week, Jan. 25-Feb. 1, began Monday evening with a father-son, no-host dinner at the Salem Y with William Borcher, University of Oregon basketball coach, as principal speaker.

The dinner was attended by boys from the three Leslie Junior HI-Y chapters, Tracy Strong, Dwight Edwards and John Farrah with their fathers as guests. Borcher provided a movie of the University of Oregon-University of Washington basketball game along with his discussion of the YMCA's part in helping basketball players of the future to get their start.

The dinner event, attended by 72, was followed by a tour of the YMCA and a March of Time film on YMCA's was shown in the lobby. Master of ceremonies at the dinner was Frank Washburn, with reports made by Lawrence Woods, associate boys' secretary, and Robert Carey, assisting in the membership campaign.

This afternoon the YMCA will be hosts to the Salem Kiwanis Club with Charles A. Sprague, publisher of The Statesman, addressing the group on "A Day at United Nations."

2 Lebanon Men Charged With Home Lootings

LEBANON—Two Lebanon men were arrested by police here Monday afternoon on charges of stripping at least three Lebanon area homes of appliances and portable valuables Sunday while the residents were away.

Arrested by Linn County Sheriff George Miller, Deputy Sheriff Wade Collins, State Policeman Robert Rissman and Lebanon police were: James Edward Skyles, 1115 9th St., and Loyal Crandall, 483 4th Place.

They were lodged in the county jail at Albany last night and were expected to be arraigned this morning in Albany district court.

Police said they were aided in their investigation by a person who spotted the car used by the men while it stood in front of one robbed home.

Most of the loot was recovered, police reported.

Ike Appoints Psychological Warfare Board

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower appointed an eight-man committee Monday to search for ways to make American strategy in psychological warfare more unified and dynamic.

It was the President's first step in carrying out a campaign promise to step up the nation's efforts in the cold war.

The group, to be known as the President's committee on international information activities, is headed by William H. Jackson, New York investment banker. He is a former deputy director of the Central Intelligence Agency.

The White House said the committee will "survey and evaluate the government's information and related policies and activities" in the international field.

DEADLOCK IN SPIVEY TRIAL
NEW YORK (AP) — The perjury trial of William Spivey, former All-American University of Kentucky basketball star, ended with a deadlock jury early Tuesday.

Warrant Jails Gervais Man

A 26-year-old Gervais man, Raymond E. Ehke, was arrested by Salem police Monday on a Marion County District Court warrant charging him with contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

He was jailed here in lieu of $1,500 bail.

The complaint was signed by a Salem woman who charges that Ehke molested her 10-year-old daughter while the latter was baby sitting Friday night.

2 YOUTHS ARRESTED
Two 19-year-old Salem youths were arrested by city police Monday on district court warrants charging them with obtaining money under false pretenses. Bail was set at $2,500 each. Philip O. Doidge of 3418 Williams Ave. and George E. Butler of Brooks were charged with writing and cashing a bogus Ladd and Bush check for $44.50.

Carter President of Labor Temple Group

Wade Carter was elected president of the Salem Labor Temple Association at the organization's annual meeting Monday night.

Others elected were Frank Boring, vice president; H. E. Barker, secretary-treasurer; W. J. Entwistle, Alfred Chivers, F. D. Van Swerengin and Paul Nicholson, trustees.

New Mexico to Northwest Gas Pipeline Due

DALLAS (AP) — A plan to build a 1,400-mile long pipeline from New Mexico's San Juan Basin to serve the Pacific Northwest with natural gas—a 160 million project—was announced Monday after a conference with Dallas geologists.

The announcement was made by N. Henry Gellert, president of the Seattle Gas Company, Seattle, Wash., one of the largest utilities in the Pacific Northwest.

He said the Dallas geological firm, Degolyer and MacNaughton, assured him that three trillion cubic feet in gas reserves exist in the San Juan Basin, more than enough to satisfy the requirements of the Federal Power Commission.

In the conference with Gellert were C. R. Williams, president of the Pacific Northwest Pipeline Corporation, Houston; Ray C. Fish, president of the Fish Engineering Corporation of Houston, and J. Wilson Gaw, general sales manager of the Seattle Gas Company.

Gellert said his party will appear before the Federal Power Commission hearing in Washington, D.C. Feb. 16.

The proposed pipeline is 26 inches in diameter and has a capacity of 350 million cubic feet of gas a day.

The line will extend from the San Juan Basin, located in the four corners area of Utah, Colorado, Arizona and New Mexico, to Bellingham, Wash., and will service directly the states of Washington, Oregon, Idaho and parts of Nevada and California.

Video Grant Offer Extended

PORTLAND (AP) — The Legislature can have an additional 60 days in which to decide whether to put the state in the television business.

A citizens' committee, headed by Elmer McClure, state Grants master, is asking the Legislature to set aside money for two educational television stations, one in Portland and the other on Mary's Peak near Corvallis. It was believed the Ford Foundation would offer $100,000 aid for each of the state-owned stations.

Mrs. Walter Kirk New President of Art Association

Mrs. Walter Kirk was elected president of the Salem Art Association at the annual meeting in the Salem Public Library Monday night.

Other officers elected included: James Payne, first vice president; Stewart Johnson, second vice president; Mrs. William Poorman, third vice president; Mrs. Keith Powell, fourth vice president; Mrs. James Walton, secretary, and Mrs. Chester Cox, treasurer.

Nine board members elected were Mrs. L. E. deWeese, Dr. Cameron Paulin, Hugh Morrow, Mrs. Chester Downs, Miss Edith Schryber, Mrs. Frank Burlingham, Mrs. Emma Drim on, Mrs. Merrill Ohling, David Dunway and John Durr.

Gunman Robs Albany Store

ALBANY—Police were on the lookout Monday night for a lone gunman who held up the Ball Photo Studio here Monday morning—a half-block from the police station—and escaped with $50 in cash, an Argus C-3 camera and film.

He missed getting $90 in cash which lay on a nearby desk.

Mrs. Martin Sorensen, clerk at the shop, told police the gunman was about 30 years old with a dark complexion, between 5-3 and 5-6 in height and weighed about 175 pounds.

The juice of grapes is 80 per cent or more water.

EL SINORE
PHONE 3-5798
BOX OFFICE OPEN 8:45 P. M.

TWO "TOP FEATURES" ... ON THE SAME PROGRAM!

DANGER and EXCITEMENT strike like a thunderbolt in the drama of six desperate people!

THE LUSTY MEN
Susan HAYWARD · Robert MITCHUM
Arthur KENNEDY · Arthur HUNNICUT
Savage Co-Edit
JOHNNY WEISSMULLER
BY JUNGLE JIM
WOODOO TIGER

STATE
PHONE 3-2721
ENDS TODAY! (Tue.)
"Fannies From Heaven" & "Destroyer"

OPEN 6:45 P. M.
TOMORROW! TWO SENSATIONAL REVIVALS! CHILLS! THRILLS!
"CRY OF THE WEREWOLF"
Nina Foch · Stephen Crane

BLONDE DYNAMITE BEHIND BARS!
WOMEN IN PRISON
WYN CARON · SCOTT COITON
CO-EDIT

DESPERATE SEARCH
starring
Howard KEEL · Jane GREER
Patricia MEDINA
MARGARET WYNN · Robert BURTON

GRAND
Continuous Joseph Cotton Teresa Wright "STEEL TRAP" Wm. Holden
Alexis Smith "Turning Point"

Ends Today! (Tue.)
"Stop! You're Killing Me" & "Cattle Town"

CAPITOL
3-5050
MATINEE DAILY FROM 1 P. M.

STARTING TOMORROW!

A Thousand Lusty Thrills!

Life is Raw in the Brawling Camps of Big-Time Rodeo...
Where They Ride, Play and Love—HARD!

STARTS TODAY!
Zooming! Roaring Thrills!

TWO "TOP FEATURES" ... ON THE SAME PROGRAM!

PAY-OFF IN THE PACIFIC!

NAVY HELL-DIVERS
Sloshing through the skies... thundering out of the blue on wings of vengeance!

FLAT TOP
in thrilling COLOR!

STARRING
HAYDEN RICHARD CARLSON
with KEITH LARSEN and BILL PHIPPS

DESPERATE SEARCH
starring
Howard KEEL · Jane GREER
Patricia MEDINA
MARGARET WYNN · Robert BURTON