Around Town . . .

By JERYME ENGLISH

TROTH REVEALED . . . Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Shepard are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Lee, to David Chamberlain, son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Chamberlain. No wedding date has been set by the young duo. The bride-elect is a graduate of Greeley High School in Colorado and her fiancé is a graduate of Salem High School.

Legislative jottings . . . Members of the legislature, their wives, the board of control and their wives will be in Eugene Friday night for the biennial dinner and game sponsored by the Eugene Chamber of Commerce and the University of Oregon. The group will witness the Oregon-Oregon State basketball game following the dinner.

Entertaining . . . at dinner Sunday night will be Secretary of State and Mrs. Earl T. Newby, who have invited guests to their East Rural Avenue home. Bidden are members of the board of control, the supreme court justices and their wives, President of the Senate and Mrs. Eugene E. Marsh and Speaker of the House and Mrs. Rudie Wilhelm Jr.

On the agenda . . . for Saturday night is the annual dinner dance given by members of the Salem Jayceettes at the American Legion Club. During the evening there will be installation of new officers for the Jayceettes.

Blaine Cline is the new president . . . Mrs. Douglas Hay, vice-president; Mrs. Dale Dorn, secretary; and Mrs. George Huggins Jr., treasurer. All Junior Chamber of Commerce men and their wives are invited to attend the affair.

A surprise housewarming . . . for Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Van Wyn-garden, who recently moved into their newly built home on Saginaw Street. A late supper was served and a gift presented to the couple by the group. Surprising Bruce and Maxine were Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Swenson of Albany, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Olds of Jefferson, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Fra-vel, Dr. and Mrs. Ernest Green-wood, Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Williams, Mr. and Mrs. James Armbrist, Mr. and Mrs. Otto J. Wilson, and Mr. and Mrs. Burdette Owen.

Sixth birthday party . . . for Joy Minty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Minty, on Friday afternoon. A group of her friends bidden to a Valentine and birthday party at the Minty home atop Candalaria Heights between 3 and 5 o'clock. The guests will make Valentines during the afternoon.

Guests surprise . . . the hostess on Tuesday night. The Delta Zeta alumnae were entertained at the home of Mrs. Emmett Kleinknecht with Mrs. Lyle F. Johnson and Mrs. Forrest Stewart assisting. During the evening the group feted Mrs. Stewart, the former Maxine Paulsen, with a post-nuptial bridal shower. A dessert supper was served and a white elephant sale was a feature of the evening. A special guest was Mrs. Miles Austin of Forest Grove, formerly of Salem, who is visiting at the home of Miss Mildred Deischer. Mrs. Austin was a member of the group while she lived here.

Out-of-town guests . . . to arrive today and Friday for the nuptials of Miss Suzanne Huggins and Lloyd Francis Ramey, which will be an event of Saturday night at St. Paul's Episcopal Church. Arriving today from Los Angeles will be Woodrow Ramey, who will be his brother's best man, Miss Mary Margaret Morris and Mrs. Charles Morse, who will be members of the bridal party. Coming Friday from Los Angeles for the wedding of their niece will be Mr. and Mrs. William F. Huggins. They will be joined by other relatives from Coos Bay. Mr. and Mrs. George Huggins, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Byler and Mr. and Mrs. Laird Thiering. They will all attend the Salem-Marshfield High School basketball game here Friday night.

Noteworthy . . . Mrs. Kenneth Peterson, Hillsboro, whose husband has just been selected the new administrator for the Marion County Welfare Commission, is a former Salem resident. She will be remembered by her many friends as Frances Ellis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Ellis, who now reside in Portland, and is a brother of Dean Ellis, also a former Salem resident, now living in Portland. Mrs. Peterson attended Willamette University. The couple has three daughters. The family will be a welcome addition in the capital city. It will seem like coming home for Frances.

Visiting . . . in Portland a few days is Mrs. Leona Johnson, who is the guest of her daughter, Miss Julia Johnson. This afternoon they will attend the matinee performance of Cornelia Otis Skinner in her show, "Paris '90". Miss Johnson will return to Salem with her mother to spend the weekend.

Here from Oregon City . . . a few days have been Mrs. Howard Blanding and son, Paul, who are guests at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Huston.

Miss Susanna Howell Is Married

At a 4 o'clock ceremony at the First Congregational Church on Sunday, Jan. 22 Miss Susanna Howell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Howell of Salem, became the bride of Thad E. Stevens, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Stevens of Rickreall. The Rev. Seth Huntington officiated at the rites.

Mrs. Kenneth Rich was the organist and numbers were given by an accordion ensemble including Mrs. Darrel Schroeder, Mrs. Robert Board, Mrs. Gene Dillorrettes, Mrs. Lewis Zimlicka and Mrs. Kenneth Thornton.

For her wedding the bride chose a winter white suit with jeweled collar and cuffs and a matching hat. She carried a white Bible marked with white orchids.

Mrs. Lewis H. McFarland was the matron of honor and wore a slate blue suit with white accessories. Her corsage was of Bird of Paradise. Mr. McFarland served as best man. Ushers were Glenn Stevens, brother of the groom, Carl Stevens, Ronald Bartlett, cousins of the groom, and Don Shriver.

Mrs. Howell wore a grey print dress with white orchids for her daughter's wedding and Mrs. Stevens chose a green suit and corsage of white orchids.

A reception followed in the church parlors. Assisting were Mrs. Herbert Thiel of Portland and Mrs. D. T. Howell of Meridian, Idaho, aunts of the bride, Mrs. Sarah Jane Chamberlain and Mrs. J. A. Wiltsey. Miss Aloha Edlund of Monitor was in charge of the guest book.

After Feb. 8 the couple will be at home at 626 62nd St., San Diego, where the groom is stationed with the Navy.

Less Known Cuts of Meat Will Cut Budget But Give Topp in Flavor

By MAXINE BUREN
Statesman Woman's Editor

Recently we ran across some recipes which we've had on hand for many years and which should serve the modern housewife well. They are about the less known cuts of meat, less in demand and therefore not the highest in price. The recipe cards come from a well known meat packer and are therefore good, and carefully thought out.

Flank steaks cut from a spot just below the more expensive sirloin and porterhouse are usually very lean and have excellent flavor. They make stew meat or may be rolled and baked thus:

STUFFED FLANK STEAK
2 flank steaks 2 cups bread crumbs
2 cups bread crumbs 2 cups bread crumbs

Score the steaks in crisscross fashion. Make a dressing, moisten it with little boiling water, season, and spread on one flank steak. Place the other one on top, together securely. Sear well in hot fat, put in casserole or baking dish, add 1 cup boiling water, and cook slowly, covered, until tender—about 2½ hours.

Chuck roasts and steaks are fine in flavor, shank or foreleg may be used in soups or stews. Plate, shortribs and brisket from just below the rib are excellent braised and served with vegetables.

Less known lamb cuts include the neck, used for stews, patties, or soup; shoulder cuts which have meaty chops and roasts but are less expensive than the leg cuts; shank, breast, both to roast or stew.

Pork cuts under this category include the ham shank, spare-ribs, shoulder roast and chops, shoulder butt, hock (foreleg) and pork tules. Spare-ribs are among the best less expensive fresh pork cuts.

BARBECUED SPARE-RIBS

Pork spare-ribs (4 lbs.) 1 green pepper
1 tsp. salt 1 tsp. horseradish
½ tsp. pepper ½ cup catsup
2 tpsps. flour ½ cup water
2 tpsps. butter 2 No. 2½ can sauerkraut

Cut spare-ribs into individual servings, then roll in mixed salt, pepper, and flour. Melt butter in heavy kettle; and in it brown spare-ribs slightly. Mix finely chopped onion and green pepper with horseradish, catsup, and water. Pour over spare-ribs in kettle; cover and simmer until tender (about 1½ hours.) Drain and heat sauerkraut and serve with sauerribs. Serve sauce separately. (Serves six.)

Spring Bedroom Accessories Sport Bold Floral Patterns, Light and Gay

By SUE GARDNER

Ready made bedroom accessories for the spring are light and gay. Several of the companies have launched their collections with floral prints on white backgrounds in chintz, cheerful gingham and chambray and taffetized cottons.

For those who like provincial roses, they are big and pink and scattered with alternating geometric patterns on white backgrounds. Stylized poppies in red or blue are widely spaced and shown on spreads and matching drapes.

Wreaths of sweetpeas are among the other floral designs, and are shown with yellow, lavender or rose tones predominant.

Satinstripes in such colors as cocoa, grey, blue, violet and yellow are shown with white chambray in one line of bedspreads. In many of the ensembles you will find a combination of documentary prints from Early American or Provincial periods and striped or checked fabrics. Small figured prints are shown with plaids or with solid colors. For the more sophisticated taste, you will find such colors as peacock blue and black on greige in a small honeycomb pattern. A red and grey ivy pattern on a natural background is another new print. Plaids are shown in cocoa and blue or green with pink or black for bed covers in simple throw or dust ruffle styles.

The metallic touch is seen in small abstract designs in gold on taffetized cottons and the effect is a textured look to the cloth.

Housewarming Party

Past and present members of the Richmond School P-TA board gave a housewarming Monday night for Mr. and Mrs. Paul Holloway at their new home, 1120 N. 15th St. About 25 were present. Sponsors included Miss Mathilda Siles, Richmond principal; Robert M. Laws, P-TA president, and Mrs. Laws; Mr. and Mrs. Edwin C. Boal and Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Olsen. The Holloways were long active in Richmond P-TA work, Holloway being a former president.

Dinner to Honor Grand Officers

Mrs. Carl Wimberly, worthy grand matron, and Elton Schroeder, worthy grand patron, of the Grand Chapter of Oregon, Order of Eastern Star will be honored at a dinner Friday night at the Marion Hotel at 6 o'clock. The affair will precede a district meeting at the Scottish Rite Temple.

Hosts for the dinner will be Mrs. H. E. Smedley and Lowell Shinn, worthy matron and patron of Ainsworth Chapter; Mrs. Harry Charlton and Harry Miller, worthy matron and patron of Trinity Chapter; Mrs. Charles Leonard and E. A. Finlay, worthy matron and patron of Ramona Chapter, Silvertown.

The associate matrons and associate patrons of the three chapters and wives and husbands of the officers will also be guests at the dinner.

Guests at Cherry Court Meeting

A number of guests were present for the meeting of Cherry Court, Order of Amaranth meeting Tuesday night at the VFW Hall. Presiding were Mrs. Carl Guenther and Mrs. Elmer Boyer.
