Births Start Slow in '53: Deaths Rise

Births got off to a slow start in Marion County for 1953, although late reports added to the all-time high already recorded for last year, the health executive committee learned Thursday.

January births included 104 boys and 82 girls, compared to 117 and 93 a year ago. Since last month's committee meeting, 17 birth reports reached the health department, to make the 1952 total 2,772, more than 100 above the previous record of 2,665 in 1950.

Deaths last month increased to 73 from 71 in January, 1952. They included eight children under one month and three more under one year old. Nineteen deaths from heart disease made it the leading cause, followed by disease of the arteries and cancer with 9 each, apoplexy with 8. Deaths from communicable diseases included three of virus pneumonia, two each of broncho pneumonia and tuberculosis and one of Herpes Zoster (shingles).
