CORVALLIS—Conclusion of the two-day 4-H annual butter, cheese and ice cream competition was highlighted Thursday evening by announcement of winners and presentation of awards at the convention banquet.

The competition was sponsored by the Oregon Dairy Industries. Sweepstakes winner of the 1953 butter competition was Marshall Morris representing the Farmer's Cooperative Creamery in McMinnville with a score of 95.3. Runner-up honors went to Loren Edlund, representing Curly's Dairy in Salem, with a score of 95.

Among the other butter competition winners were G. Brandt, Dallas Creamery with 93 points, and Victor Moore Creamery, 92.5; Creamery, 92.5. These two competed in the senior fresh butter class 1.

In the open fresh butter class 2, Oscar R. Sampson, Farmer's Co-op Creamery, McMinnville, received 95.75 points. The Mass III (stored butter) included Marshall Morris again scoring 95.13.

Cheddar cheese competition was broken into three subdivisions and local winners were: Fresh class, C. A. Hutchins, Orestown Cheese Factory, 94.50, and John Frank, Mt. Angel Cheese Creamery, 92.5; aged class, John H. Powers, Central Cheese Association, 93.53, and cottage cheese class, A. J. Fischer, Dallas Creamery, 92.

Point winner in the chocolate ice cream class was Clarence Burdick, Valley Maid Dairy, Sheridan, with 92.5 points.

Zoning Study Authorized

Appointment of committees to study administrative problems highlighted the Marion County Planning Commission meeting Friday.

Study of financial and personnel needs, and consideration of whether the county should have its own staff or a joint one with the Salem planning and zoning commission, will be made by Fred Schaub, Mt. Angel, district attorney, St. Stayton, and Ray Smith, St. Paul.

A constitution and by-laws will be considered by Kenneth E. Brown, district attorney, and Homer Goulet Jr., Brooks.

Landscape Architect Hired for Bush Park

Arthur W. Einfeldt, Portland, landscape architect, has been hired by Salem to design the layout of Bush Park it was reported Friday.

Special-Type Pressure Tank Being Tested

An unfired pressure vessel of special design and more than twice as powerful as any ever built in Oregon has just been completed in a Portland foundry under supervision of the state labor department, Frank W. Smith, chief of the department's pressure vessel technical staff, revealed Friday.

The vessel has been shipped to an undisclosed experimental station in the Midwest, he said.

Smith said his technicians were called in by the Portland foundry several months ago to help with construction of the vessel so it would conform to the safety code of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers. It is the duty of Smith's department to shop-inspect all completed boilers and pressure vessels manufactured in Oregon for conformance with this code.

This vessel, Smith said, presented problems to his staff due to the type of material used and the use for which the vessel was planned. The vessel can stand a pressure of 2500 pounds to the square inch and is built to absorb sudden shocks. Ordinary working pressures range from 15 pounds to a high of 1500 pounds, Smith said.

Smith said that because of the chemical composition and physical properties of the new type of steel used in the vessel's construction, special welding procedures had to be formulated.

Teamsters To Fight Milk Delivery Plan

PORTLAND (U)—The Teamsters Union said Friday it would oppose alternate-day delivery of milk to stores.

The alternate-day delivery proposal was made during a State Board of Agriculture meeting by Wayne Laird, representative of the Oregon Independent Retail Grocers Association. He said it would reduce handling charges and might permit stores to sell milk for less than is charged for home deliveries.

Frank Oderman, business agent for the AFI, Teamsters dairy employees' local, said the union was opposed to such a change.

He also declared the practice of some stores taking "curb delivery" of milk would have to cease, "because the clerks are taking work away from us."

Oderman declined to discuss the matter further, saying it was a problem for each of the milk distributors to handle with the union.

Little Chance Of Sabotage At AEC Works

YAKIMA (U)—A forum of 50 Yakima Valley civic and business leaders was told here Friday that the chances of danger resulting from a disaster at the Hanford Atomic works, either by enemy attack or sabotage, were "possible but most extremely improbable."

David F. Shaw, manager of the Hanford plant, in discussing the basic elements of atomic energy to the forum sponsored by the Yakima Republic and Herald, was emphatic in pointing out that any danger was strictly improbable.

He said there were control devices in operation at the Hanford works which were never known to the industrial world before.

In discussing the dangers which conceivably might arise, Shaw said a slow disintegration of one of the atomic piles was most to be feared but he again cautioned that such an event was very remote.

If a pile disintegrated slowly, Shaw said, the radioactive gases adjacent to the reactor could be swept along by surface winds. In rapid disintegration, an explosion, for instance, Shaw continued, the gases formed in the process would be sent high into the air, away from contact with ground life.

Shaw said he planned to make more appearances before selected groups of city and business officials in Central Washington.

He said his talks, the first of their kind since the Hanford plant was established in 1943, were an outgrowth of the recent clearing of the secondary area of the Wahluke Slope north and east of the atomic plant for irrigation by Columbia Basin project waters.

He said the Wahluke control zone, a section of the slope lying adjacent to the plant, would be provided with an audible warning system to warn residents in the event of danger arising at the works.

Invasion Area Buildup Eyed By Nationalist

TAIPEI (U)—The premier of Nationalist China is spurring official action to build up the more than 30 Nationalist-held islands off Red China as staging points for invasion of the mainland.

Premier Chen Cheng held discussions this week with Finance Ministry officials but gave no hint as to when such an invasion might be expected.

He described the islands both as bases for a counter-offensive and as a screen protecting Formosa. The need for such protection was pointed up by a Central News Agency report that 25 Russian-built planes landed Feb. 10 at Hankow on the Yangtze River.

The report said that bombers in the group were manned by Russians and the fighters by Chinese. The same agency disclosed a raid Feb. 12 by 400 Nationalist guerrillas on the South China town of Lipping, 155 miles northeast of Canton.

The agency said the raiders, swooping down from mountain hideouts, killed or wounded more than 40 Reds, including a battalion commander, deputy regimental commander and company commander. The raiders destroyed an administrative office and two rice depots.

NATO Seat For Germany Eyed in Talks

LONDON (U)—A high British government source said Friday the United States and Britain have discussed the possibility of bringing West Germany into the North Atlantic pact if the European army project collapses.

The issue will be reopened, the informant said, when Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, scheduled to sail shortly for New York and Washington, meets President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles.

The British and U. S. leaders, it was indicated, will discuss confronting France with solid Anglo-American support for Germany participation in NATO unless the six-national army plan succeeds.

France drew up the plan for the one-uniform European army and is the key prospective member, but got cold feet with the approach of the possibility of actual rearmament of Germany, her traditional foe.

Officers Promoted With Air Reserve

Two new promotions announced Thursday increased the staff of the 9414th Volunteer Air Squadron, 775 Airport Rd., by two captains. Promoted from first lieutenant were Capt. Harold C. Lentz, 730 Marina Dr., and Capt. Lloyd A. Taylor, Silverton. Lentz is a veteran of World War II fighting in north Africa and joined the VAR Squadron in April, 1952.

Taylor served as a pilot in the European theater during World War II and has been a member of the local squadron since January 1952.

Night Raiders Blast Reds in North Korea

By FORREST EDWARDS
SEOUL (U)—American night-flying bombers rained new destruction on Communist Korea early Saturday in still another round of punishing raids highlighted by the heaviest Superfort attack of the year.

On the ground, Allied soldiers moved out into no-man's-land in the T-Bone Hill sector of Operation Snack fame and blocked a 400-man Chinese force as it was slipping up for a surprise pre-dawn attack.

They fought off Reds on both sides of the hill mass in a three-hour fight that thundered and crumpled with artillery and mortar fire and cracked with machinegun and small arms fire, traded frequently at close range.

Eighteen Okinawa-based B-29 Superforts smacked two sprawling military bases in the Sopo area near Pyongyang with 180 tons of bombs.

Twelve hit a 155-acre troop and supply center on the main line to the battle front. Spotter aircraft had reported build-up activity there in recent days.

Six other Superforts blasted a 35-acre supply area just to the southwest.

While the Superforts were roaring over the Red Korean capital area, lighter B-26 bombers tapped a key military installation in the nearby Chinnampo area into a raging inferno.

Other B-26s hunted down Communist transport all across the peninsula. The Fifth Air Force said its sirmen destroyed 123 Red trucks carrying supplies to the front.

The Chinnampo raiders were credited with 90 per cent coverage of their target, a troop center. Pilots said the brilliant explosions and raging fires mushroomed out of their bomb hits.

Relentless air raids virtually on a 24-hour basis through much of February have turned Red bases into smoking ruins and have destroyed or damaged 39 Communist MIG jets.

Germany Agrees To Repay Jews

BONN, Germany (U)—West Germany's agreement to make restitution to the Jews for Nazi persecution finally was its first test in Parliament Friday.

By unanimous vote, the upper house (Bundesrat) approved the agreement to pay Israel the equivalent of $22 million dollars and sent the agreement to the lower house (Bundestag) for action.

Eisenhower Denounces Yalta Treaty

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (U)—President Eisenhower asked Congress Friday to join him in denouncing the rulers of Soviet Russia for subjecting free peoples to totalitarian imperialism "in violation of the clear intent" of World War II secret agreements such as at Yalta.

He sent to the Capitol a proposed resolution proclaiming the hope that captive peoples shall again enjoy freedom "in accordance with the pledges of the Atlantic Charter."

The Atlantic Charter, agreed upon by President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill in August, 1941, called among other things for the right of all peoples to self-government.

The denunciation contained in the resolution Eisenhower submitted was turned entirely against the Russians and their violations of agreements with the United States. It avoided pointing the finger of blame at previous Democratic presidents for having entered into such agreements as Yalta and Potsdam in the first place.

This represented an apparent change in position from that announced by the President in his State of the Union Message Feb. 2.

He said then he would ask Congress to make clear that the United States recognizes no commitment "contained in secret understandings of the past with foreign governments which permit" enslavement of foreign peoples. This was taken as a rap at the Yalta Agreement especially. This pact, signed by President Roosevelt, granted territorial and other concessions to the Russians to induce them to enter the war against Japan.

The resolution submitted Friday contained no criticism of the Yalta Agreement, but was directed against the Russians on the ground that they violated it.

Responsible officials said the shift represents a decision by the administration, including Secretary of State Dulles, to deal with the issue of secret agreements as a foreign policy problem — though it arose primarily as a domestic political question.

Eisenhower and Dulles hope thereby to (1) throw the spotlight on Soviet misdeeds of the past and (2) get Democratic as well as Republican support in Congress for the resolution.

AMA Studies Plan to Raise FSA Ranking

CHICAGO (U)—The American Medical Association announced Friday that its policy-making body will hold an unprecedented meeting in Washington March 14 to study any proposed reorganization of the Federal Security Administration.

The AMA said it has invited President Eisenhower and Sen. Robert A. Taft to appear before the body—the house of delegates of the AMA.

In announcing the special meeting—the fourth in the 106-year history of the AMA and the first scheduled anywhere but Chicago—the AMA said in a statement:

"The AMA understands a proposal is underway to raise the federal security administration to cabinet level.

"Since the association is vitally interested in many of the health activities of the FSA, it is calling a special one-day meeting of its house of delegates in Washington to give careful consideration and study to any proposed reorganization of the agency."
