Automatic Fryer Has Done Much to Revive Old Time Deep-fat Cookery

By MAXINE BUREN
Statesman Woman's Editor

Deep fat frying went into a temporary decline a generation ago, but with the advent of the electric fryer it has become popular again. There are many excellent recipes for deep fat frying, and if you're the owner of an automatic fryer, you're probably reading the accompanying manual carefully and madly trying the recipes. However there are hundreds of them—and perhaps you may like to try out a recipe, say, for ham fritters with cheese sauce, a nice main dish for dinner.

HAM FRITTERS

- 1 tablespoon melted fat
- 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1 cup chopped cooked ham
- 2 eggs
- 1/4 cup milk

Sift together flour, and baking powder. Add eggs beaten with milk. Stir in ham and melted Crisco. Drop by the spoonful into deep hot Crisco (365°) or hot enough to brown an inch cube of bread in 60 seconds. Fry until brown. Drain and serve with cheese sauce.

Cheese Sauce

- 2 tablespoons butter
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup milk
- 1/4 cup grated cheese

Melt butter, add flour and salt and mix well. Add milk and stir constantly until mixture boils. Stir in the cheese. Serve hot on ham fritters.

Or these interesting doughnuts, easy because they need not be rolled out:

ORANGE DROP DOUGHNUTS

- 2 tablespoons melted shortening
- 1 1/4 cups sifted all-purpose flour
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1 egg
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1 teaspoon grated orange rind

Sift flour, sugar, salt, baking powder and nutmeg together. Beat egg lightly and combine with milk. Add to dry mixture. Stir lightly and quickly to thoroughly mix. Blend in melted shortening and grated orange rind. Drop by teaspoonfuls into fat heated to 375° (or hot enough to brown an inch cube of bread in 60 seconds). Drain on absorbent paper. Dust with powdered sugar if desired. Makes 12 to 15.

FRYING FACTS

- Most foods that are fried may be done either in a deep kettle or a shallow skillet.
- Use a deep kettle 6 to 7 inches in diameter for deep frying.
- Use a heavy skillet for pan frying.
- A frying thermometer assures controlled frying temperatures and greater use of fat for deep frying if you have no automatic fryer.
- Keep used fat covered and in a cool place.
- Strain fat after frying egg and crumbled foods or batter covered foods.

It properly informs you about the value of the things you buy.

It helps you make an intelligent choice of the things you need or want.
