Missionaries Tell Stories of Religious Work

Africa Church Discussed by Missionaries

The immediate task of the Church in Africa is the production of good literature in quantity, was the conclusion at Monday's session of Inter-Church Missionary Conference held in the First Baptist Church.

The Rev. Orval Butcher, speaking on missionary conditions in Africa, advised that the literature now available for the people in Africa is mostly Communist.

The evening conference at the church included addresses by the Rev. Donald D. Turner, representing the missionary radio station HCJB in Ecuador; the Rev. Walter P. Lee, missionary in Bolivia, and the Rev. Glen Horst, field representative of the foreign missions department of the Assemblies of God and former missionary to China.

An open forum on South America this afternoon will feature an address by the Rev. Sterl Phinney of the Evangelical United Brethren Church and the session this evening will be addressed by the Rev. Donald Fairley, for over 25 years a missionary in the Christian and Missionary Alliance in Gabon, Africa.

Final Rites for Mrs. Catlin Set Thursday

Funeral services for Mrs. Sybil Coffin Catlin of 1309 Chemeketa St., who died early Monday morning, will be held Thursday at 11 a.m. in St. Paul's Episcopal Church with private concluding services at City View Cemetery. The Rev. George H. Swift will officiate.

Mrs. Catlin, a resident of Salem for the past 57 years, made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Frank Spears of Salem. She had been confined to her home since breaking her hip five years ago. She had been seriously ill the past six weeks.

She was born in Leroy, Kan., Nov. 13, 1864, the daughter of Elihu Coffin and Mary Smith Coffin. She was married to Russell Catlin Jan. 7, 1884 at Leroy, Kan. He died in 1924.

The Catlins lived in Kansas when they were first married and later moved to Seattle, Wash. The couple came to Salem in 1896.

Mrs. Catlin was a member of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, a charter member of Chemeketa Chapter, DAR, also a member of the Salem Woman's Club, American Legion Auxiliary and Colonial Dames.

Besides her daughter, she is survived by a son, David Catlin, Dunsmuir, Calif.; two grandchildren, Mrs. Carl (Sybil) McLeod, Parkersville, and Frank Spears Jr., Portland; and four great grandchildren. One son, Howard Catlin, died in 1906.

Five Tracts of O&C Timber To Go on Sale

Five tracts of timber on O & C lands in the Willamette Valley appraised at $327,786, will be up for sale in Salem Monday, March 16. The auction will be at Salem District office, U. S. Bureau of Land Management, in charge of G. F. Horne, acting district forester.

Largest of the tracts, to be sold orally, are in the Quartzville-Crabtree area of Linn County. One is for salvage of 6,330,000 board feet of windthrown and recently fire-killed timber, and the other for 7,900,000 feet of green, standing trees.

Another oral auction will involve salvage of 170,000 feet of bug-killed and windthrown timber in the Philomath-Aisea area.

Sealed bids will be received on two salvage tracts, one of 1,730,000 feet of fire-killed timber near Carlton-Willamina and the other of 700,000 feet of fire-killed old-growth trees near Estacada.

Supreme Court To Hear Truck Tax Arguments

Arguments of attorneys in the appealed suit of the Portland-Pendleton Motor Transportation Company attacking a 1931 legislative act increasing the tax on trucks will be heard by the State Supreme Court here Wednesday afternoon instead of on Thursday as previously announced, the court said Monday.

The action originally was filed in the Marion County Circuit Court where Judge Rex Kimmell held the tax was operative as of Nov. 4, 1932, the date of the last general election at which the voters upheld the law and voted down a referendum. Public utilities commissioner Charles H. Heltzel, defendant in the suit, contended the tax was operative as of Jan. 1, 1932.

Plaintiff asked that Heltzel be enjoined from collecting the tax. The 1933 increase in the tax was estimated by truckers at $1,950,000, provided it was operative as of Jan. 1.

Members have been asked to meet at the Legion Hall, 2650 S. Commercial St., at 7:30 p.m. to receive assignment sheets containing names of members who have not yet paid their 1933 dues. Personal calls will then be made after which the Legionnaires will return to the hall for refreshments and entertainment.

Membership quota for Post 9, as set by the state department, is 1500. Present membership stands at 1250.

The Perfect Solution

... to your refreshment problem is light Olympia Beer. Whenever friends get together, whether in your friendly neighborhood tavern or at home, Olympia is the "symbol of hospitality." Its sparkling flavor, so appreciated by all, is directly attributable to the rare subterranean water used in our brewing process.

Answers to the other puzzles are printed below.

... reseal the guests

Arrange 12 matches, as above, to make four squares. Move four matches and rearrange so as to form three squares of the original size. No matches may be added or taken away.

... how many outfits?

A man has five sport coats and seven pairs of slacks. How many ways can he combine these without wearing the same two twice?

... corral the caps

Above are seven Olympia bottle caps lying on a tray. Can you separate all of the seven caps by drawing only three straight lines so as to place each cap in a separate corral?
