Eugene Entry Tops 66ers

Oregon Quintet 66-52 Winner

By FRANK FITMAN

DENVER 13 — A team of former Oregon collegiate stars touched off the biggest thunderbolt in the National AAU Basketball Tournament in years Wednesday by blasting the Bartlesville, Okla., Phillips 66ers out of the second round, 66-52.

Phillips, made up of some of the players including Clyde Lovellette and Chuck Bernhard, collapsed before a smoother, more poised attack led by Chet Noe, former University of Oregon standout.

The 66ers led throughout the first period, after bolting to a 5-0 lead, and stayed in front until Jim Sugrue, a former Oregon State player, caged three points and Noe bagged a field goal to shove the Oregon five ahead 23-21 after five minutes of the second quarter.

The Eugene club held the lead until Wayne Glasgow bagged a drive-in shot and hit a free throw to shove the 66ers ahead 39-37. John Reynolds broke a 43-43 tie to boost the Oregonians ahead to stay 45-43.

Oilers Fold

After six minutes of the fourth quarter, Noe and Doug Talbot, who played a magnificent floor game, had the Oregon club to a 64-48 lead.

Darling, who set Big Ten scoring records with Iowa last year, fouled out with six minutes to play. With him out of the way, the Phillips defense crumbled and Talbot led another surge that put the Everybody's Drug squad clear out of reach, 59-50.

Phillips, unswayed by the brash Oregonians who didn't roll over and play dead when the mighty 66ers walked onto the floor, folded in the last six minutes, bagging only four points in that stretch.

Noe completely bamboozled Lovellette, the top collegiate scorer last year with the NCAA champion Kansas University team. Noe faked Lovellette out of position repeatedly to steal up for layups. Noe topped all scorers with nine field goals and 10 free throws for a total of 28 points. Lovellette and Glasgow shared scoring honors for Phillips with 12 each.

The win advanced the Oregon club into Thursday's quarter finals. Phillips had been seeded No. 2 in the tourney, behind the defending champion Peoria Diesel Cats.

The U. S. Air Force champions from Geneva, N. Y. also reached the quarter finals with a 71-64 triumph over Los Angeles (Kirby's Shoes).

The Carbondale, Ill., team made up of former players at Southern Illinois University became another quarter-finalist with an 81-64 victory over the Blair, Neb. entry, sponsored by Kelly-Ryan.

Francis' Marks Thrown Out

'One and One' Hoop Rule Likely to Stay in Books

KANSAS CITY 11 — The Basketball Rules Committee didn't take definite action Wednesday on the controversial "one and one" free throw rule, but an official of the group said it looks as if the regulation will be given at least another year's grace.

The 18-man committee, representing the United States and Canada and headed by Coach Bruce Drake of the University of Oklahoma, considered the rules for more than four hours.

Afterwards a spokesman said the committee will make a final decision Thursday morning, with the free throw rule the hottest issue.

The committee, which includes YMCA, AAU and high school groups, convened without an expected directive from the National Association of College Basketball Coaches to kill the free throw rule.

The coaches in a morning session failed to bring the matter to the floor although they had voted three to one against it in a circularized questionnaire.

They made only one positive recommendation and that was that stricter interpretation be put on the rules with the idea of cutting down on excess whistle blowing.

"What about that? Does Mr. Hobson or the rest of the coaches think that merits a kicking around?"

Oliver said he was having trouble making up a schedule for next season. He has his entire team coming up, with some promising freshmen coming up.

His team was undefeated in 39 games.

Next year he has two games with Ashland (O.) College lined up, plus one with Anderson, Ind., and possibly one with Butler University.

He said he tried to land games with Pittsburgh and West Virginia, but was turned down.

He hopes to play Seattle University and other Pacific Coast teams, and he's lining up a trip East through Philadelphia, New York and Boston.

Oliver wouldn't say it was true, but one source said Rio Grande already is lined up for an appearance at Madison Square Garden.

"But, right now," said Oliver, "nothing would please me like getting a game with Yale."

Indiana Takes Toga; Huskies Trounce LSU

Houbregs broke the four-game tournament field goal record with a total of 57, beating the 53 set by Kansas' Clyde Lovellette last year. The big Washington pivot man missed the all-time tournament scoring record, also held by Lovellette, by two points. His total was 139, compared with Lovellette's 141.

The scoring mark would have been within ridiculously easy reach for Houbregs if he had not fouled out just past the midway point of Tuesday night's game.

Washington also set a tournament record for the number of points scored in four games with 397, beating the previous mark of 298, set by Illinois in 1950. The Huskies put into the record books a new high total of field goals with 118, beating the 113 set by Kentucky in 1951.

Pettit Gets 36

The 6-foot-9 Pettit, giving an almost one-man show for the uninspired Southeastern Conference champions, broke through Houbregs' defense to score 36 points for the losers.

The big difference of the consolation contest was provided by Cipriano, a 5-foot-11 guard, whose dash and during put the real fuel in the Huskies' fire.

Cippy, a bandy-legged little speedster from a place called Nooksack Valley in Washington, was the whipmaster of Washington's plays and took enough time from his rebounding and playmaking duties to score 24 points himself.

Case at the start of the second half, which opened with Washington leading, 39-25. Cipriano hit for five straight field goals with driving lay-ups and dead-eye potshots from the outside. He was like an aroused basket rooster.

Washington, winner of the Pacific Coast championship and the Corvallis, Ore., regional, bowed to Kansas Tuesday night, 79-53. LSU, victor in the eastern regional at Raleigh, N.C., lost to Indiana, 60-67.

Training Camp Notes

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. — The Philadelphia Phillies, weak at the plate this spring, got into the swing Wednesday with a 15-hit 10-5 win over their Philadelphia cousins, the Athletics. Eight of the Phil's runs came on a pair of grand slam homers.

Sactos Confirm Sale of Restelli

SACRAMENTO, Calif. 11 — The Sacramento baseball club Wednesday reported the sale of holdout

Dino Restelli to the Portland Beavers. The Solons must guarantee delivery of the reluctant infielder before the deal becomes final.

Terms were not announced. It's believed, however, the right hander who had a .337 batting average for his partial 1952 season with Sacramento, was sold for the waiver price of $5,000.
