

Schedules For Airmail Advance Hour

Airmail schedules, including all mail leaving Salem by plane, have been advanced one hour, Postmaster Albert C. Gragg announced Wednesday.

"This means," he said, "various daily flights will leave an hour earlier than previously. The new schedule is effective immediately."

Most important airmail schedules for Salem businessmen and others, which will be changed, include northbound mail which previously left the postoffice at 12:15 noon and will now leave at 11:15 a.m.; the southbound flight, which left at 3:30 p.m. and now departs at 2:30 p.m. and the mail which previously left at 6:20 p.m. will now leave at 5:20 p.m.

All other flights, including an early morning departure, also are affected by the change. The new schedules are posted in the postoffice lobby, Gragg said.

The change was brought about, he said, because of the switch of other sections of the nation to daylight saving time.

All six daily departures from United Air Lines Salem station are changed this week, under the new spring-summer timetable. Five are about an hour earlier and the other departure has been changed from 8:55 a.m. to 9:05 a.m., northbound. The new times otherwise are northbound at 12:15 p.m. and 6:20 p.m., southbound at 8:25 a.m., 3:35 p.m. and 8:30 p.m.

Taft Seeks to Keep Oil Bill Votes in Line

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) urged the Senate Wednesday not to accept any "half-baked proposition" for federal administration of the submerged continental shelf beyond state boundaries.

Taft said he would bring to the Senate floor within two weeks a separate bill dealing with this outer belt of undersea land "in a comprehensive way."

The Republican leader spoke as the Senate continued its long debate on a pending bill to establish states' titles to submerged offshore lands within historic state boundaries.

These boundaries are three miles out to sea in most cases but Texas and Florida claim their boundaries are 10 1/2 miles out. Beyond state limits the continental shelf extends out for a varying distance, which at some points is more than 100 miles.

Taft spoke critically of an amendment by Sen. Monroney (D-Okla.) to limit state ownership to three miles off-shore, provide for federal leasing of the remainder of the continental shelf and devote all federal revenues to reduction of the national debt.

Taft said the Monroney amendment deals with the complex prob-
