

Favored Navy Wins in Crew Classic

'Dive Bomber' Maneuver---Daredevil Style

The famous dive-bomber act, only one of 30 assorted daredevil feats included in the Jole Chitwood Tournament of Thrills, will be included in the two-hour show's double run at Salem's Hollywood Bowl next Sunday, June 28. Shows will start at 2:30 and 8:30 p.m., and will include an amazing array of stunts, including the above, and precision driving by some of the world's greatest stuntmen in new 1953 Ford autos. A 4,000 foot parachute jump is also on the programs, as well as roll-overs, head-on collisions, broadjumping of cars, etc. Motorcycle stunts will be included, and Dutch Schmitter will blow himself up in a casket containing 20 sticks of dynamite.

Burke Leads Inverness Go

Jackie Two Strokes In Front of Haas

TOLEDO, O. (AP)—A sharpshooting Jack Burke, 30-year-old transplanted Texan from Kiamasha Lake, N. Y., birdied four straight holes on the back nine Saturday to take a two-stroke lead at the 54-hole mark in the $18,000 Inverness Invitational Golf Tournament.

Burke was deadlocked at 132 with Freddie Haas of New Orleans as the field of 30 selected professionals started Saturday in 98-degree heat. Haas took the lead by two strokes at the end of 45, and then Burke came roaring down the stretch in a three-under-par 33 despite missing par on the 17th.

With three-fourths of the 72-hole medal play test out of the way, Burke had a score of 201, a dozen under par. Haas skidded to a par 71 for a 203 total as he fell out of the lead for the first time in the race for the $3,400 top prize.

Burke, suffering with influenza and "filled with penicillin," said he hadn't eaten for two days but planned to have a big steak Saturday night.

Haas, with an aching back, lost a stroke to par on the back nine with a 37, the first time he's been over the card.

Skip Alexander, who moved into contention Friday with a seven-under-par 64, added a 69 to match Burke's effort. That left Skip, still hampered by plane accident injuries incurred several seasons ago, in third place with 206, five off the pace.

Webfoots Get Pirate Stars

COOS BAY (AP)—Four members of the state champion Marshfield High School basketball team announced intent Saturday to enter the University of Oregon.

Heading the list is Tom Crabtree, all-state forward, honor student and student body president who turned down scholarships at a number of schools to go to Oregon.

The others are Spike Hillstrom, Stan Lewis and Reannous Cochran. All four also play football.

ANGULAR KAYOED CALGARY, Alta. (AP)—Vancouver's rugged Bill Brenner scored a fifth-round knockout over Chioe Angular of Kennewick, Wash., here Friday night in a scheduled 10-round elimination bout for the Pacific Northwest middleweight title.

The '53 Dodge Out-performs All Other "Eights"!

Come On In—We'll Prove It To You
The '53 Dodge has unmatched Power - Performance - Economy
Safety - Style - Comfort
Yet prices actually start below many models in the Lowest-Priced class!

Why Be Satisfied With Less? '53 Dodge V-Eight Or Six

Listen for "Hometown News", 8:55 p.m. Mon. thru Fri.
KSLM

Come In Tomorrow—For A Better Deal All Ways

Stan Baker Motors

Chemeketa and High SALEM Phone 2-2448

Lindsey, Sakata to Grapple In Armory Main Go Tuesday

Luther Lindsey, the new and magnificently constructed Negro grappler, and Mr. Sakata, himself no puny thing in the body beautiful department, collide Tuesday night at the Armory in Matchmaker Elton Owen's weekly mat main event.

The spectacular Mr. Sakata, former Drake U star athlete, looked like a champion in his Salem appearance of last week. He's not only built like an Atlas, but wrestles like one. He came into Salem heralded as the best Negro matador ever to show here, and he looked that good.

Sakata is the Japanese-American strongie who was once an Olympic Games weight lifter. He's an expert at judo and fig-

Kids Get to Play . . .

Salem Junior Baseball Action Opens Monday

Salem's Junior Baseball league season, annually one of the best in the state for teen-aged boys, gets under way Monday. Around 400 boys, from the ages of 12 to 16, will be playing in the Class B and C circuits during the summer weeks.

The Class C "Pee Wees" will get the season started Monday in a pair of games at 6:15 o'clock. The West Salem Lions face the Legion Post No. 138 at West Salem in one of the commences, and the Steinke's Repair team goes against Jackson Jewelers at Barrick Field No. 1 in the other.

The Class B teams open Tuesday, also at 6:15 o'clock, with Warner Motors playing Bishop Electric at West Salem, and Salem Laundry facing Berg's Market at Barrick No. 1.

Another round of Class C games on Wednesday has Berg's Keizer Market playing Four Corners at Keizer, and Dickson's Market opposing Orchard Heights at Leslie. On Thursday in the Class B circuit Trux's Oil plays Four Corners Merchants at Keizer and Vista Market plays Orchard Heights at Leslie.

Shoemaker Rides To Six Victories

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Jockey Willie Shoemaker rang up six victories in eight starts at Hollywood Park Saturday but it was rider Ralph Neves on Pet Bully who captured the featured $25,000 Inglewood Handicap.

Shoemaker's brilliant performance was the first time a jockey has won six races at Hollywood Park. He is the nation's leading rider this year, with 50 firsts at the current meeting and 203 firsts for the year.

Mrs. Ada L. Rice's Pet Bully out-dueled the front running Royal Serenade to win the Inglewood Handicap before 47,131 fans, and Calumet Farm's Fleet Bird was third.

NET TITLE WON

WEST POINT, N. Y. (AP)—Clifton Mayne, a 19 year old sophomore from the University of California, defeated teammate Fred Hagist, 6-1, 6-3, 11-9, to win the Eastern Intercollegiate Tennis Championship Saturday.

Husky Frosh, JVs Victors

Cornell Second, UW 3rd in Varsity Race

By WILL GRIMSLEY SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Navy's mighty 1952 Olympic champions unleashed a burst of power in the final yards Saturday to retain their Intercollegiate Rowing Regatta championship and to stretch to 20 their two-year streak of unbroken victories.

The eight young midshipmen who have sprayed water in the faces of the world's greatest crews showed their class again as they shot under the wire length and a quarter ahead of surprising Cornell.

Powerful University of Washington, shooting for a clean sweep of the day's storm-interrupted program after winning the freshman and junior varsity events, faded badly in the last quarter of a mile after making a strong fight of it for two and three-quarters miles.

Navy's winning time for the straightaway three-mile course was 15 minutes, 29.6 seconds—21.5 slower than their victorious race a year ago when the shell was helped by a strong following wind.

Cornell's Big Red, rated an outsider, collared Washington within sight of the finish line, and shot past the markers in 15:34.9.

Washington was clocked in 15:36.2, followed by Wisconsin in 15:41.8. Then strung out along were Columbia, California, Pennsylvania, Princeton, Syracuse, M. I. T. and Stanford in that order.

At a mile and a half—halfway point in the grueling test—Washington forged to the front for a brief moment, taking a half length lead over Navy, with Cornell continuing a strong challenge.

The midshipmen regained the lead at the two-mile point, a half length ahead of the hard-rowing Huskies with Princeton, Wisconsin and Cornell pursuing.

Esaukes Spurt As the knife-like shells shot down the stretch in front of the open grandstand, Washington, upping its beat to 36 1/2, made its challenge and it looked for a while that this would be good enough to complete a triple triumph for the boys from the Northwest.

But Navy, with a powerful push behind a fast 38 beat, met the dare head-on, shooting ahead and opening up water between the pursuers.

Washington tired and Cornell put on a fresh spurt to eke out second place. Washington's junior varsity snapped a 13-race Navy winning record in the three-mile JV race with a sweeping six-length victory.

Taking the lead at the start and moving steadily ahead, the Huskies won the race in 15:34.6, with Navy pursuing at 16:55.1.

The freshman race also went to the Huskies, who sped over the two-mile route in 10:55.4 to beat Cornell by two lengths.

Kids Day Set, Waters Field

It's Kids' Day at Waters Field today, an all-free project sponsored by the Salem Optimist Club that will see numerous novelty races for boys and girls, and a donkey baseball game featuring the Salem Fire and Police Departments.

The program gets under way at 2 p. m. and admission is free to the public. Events for the kids will include pie eating contest, beauty contest, greased pig race, golf rush derby, homeliest man contest and others. Prizes will go to the various winners, all donated by merchants.

Kids can secure entry blanks for the various events at the park. The Optimist Club is sponsoring the day with the cooperation of many business firms in downtown Salem and the Salem Shopping Center.

Set for All-Arabian Show

Ybahi, owned by Mrs. Watt Smith of Big Horn, Wyo., and pictured with Mrs. Jane Fish up, will be entered in the 7th Annual All-Arabian Horse Show at the State Fairgrounds next Saturday and Sunday. Around 200 Arabian steeds from all parts of the West will be here for the two-day show, moved to the Fairgrounds this year from its usual showplace, the Portland P-I building. The show is to be a benefit for the Shrine Hospital for Crippled Children.

State Fairgrounds . . .

All-Arabian Horse Show Set for Next Weekend

Oregon's 7th annual All-Arabian Horse Show, a two-day spectacle that will see around 200 of the blue-blooded steeds from almost every Western state entered, makes its appearance at the State Fairgrounds next Saturday and Sunday. The show is sponsored by the Salem Shrine Club as a benefit for the Shrine Hospital for Crippled Children.

This will be the gala show's first year in Salem after having been transferred from the Portland P-I building. Breeding classes will be judged at 9 a. m. Saturday by Frank N. Evans, president of the San Diego National Horse Show who has been named judge for the local show. This portion of the two-day show is open free to the public.

The performance divisions of the show are to be held at 8 p. m. Saturday and 1:30 p. m. Sunday. Evans will judge the arena events also. Many of the horses and riders will be regaled in Arabic costumes.

The four top horses judged here (champion and reserve champion stallions and mares) will qualify for the Pacific Coast championship which is to be held in Los Angeles in October. The two-day events are to be held in the horse show arena at the Fairgrounds, and spectators will be permitted to visit the various tack rooms which will be decorated in Arabic fashion.

The show will bring more horse flesh in money value than has ever been in a Salem program before. Some of the horses are valued at as much as $10,000 each.

Longshot Nabs Turf Feature

NEW YORK (AP)—Flaunt, a 25 to 1 shot owned by a Long Island sail-maker, sailed down the long Aqueduct stretch Saturday with skipper Sidney Cole in the saddle to capture the 48th running of the $29,350 Queens County Handicap.

Second longest priced horse in the field of 10, overlooked by a crowd of 27,523 Flaunt returned $55.80, $20.00 and $10.20 as he barged to the front in the final sixteenth of a mile to win by a half length over Alfred G. Vanderbilt's Indian Land.

Hoad Surprise Tennis Victor

LONDON (AP)—Lewis Hoad, 18 year old Australian husky, Saturday upset Ken Rosewall, his 18 year old Davis Cup teammate and Wimbledon favorite, 6-6, 10-8, in the finals of the London Lawn Tennis Championships at the Queen's Club.

PCC to Resume Rivalry With Big Ten Tuesday

By JOHN F. MAYHEW ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Track talent in wholesale lot will be on view here next Tuesday with the 12th running of the annual dual meet between the Big Ten and Pacific Coast Conferences.

The meet, a twilight affair starting at 5:30 p. m. on University of Michigan's Ferry Field, will match the first three finishers in the respective conference meets. The 16-event program is liberally sprinkled with such sparkling track names as Parry O'Brien, world champion shot-putter, from Southern California, his hurdlng teammate, Jack Davis, Illinois' great dash man, Willie Williams, miler John Ross, from Michigan and the two-mile stars, Gene Matthews, of Purdue and Rich Ferguson, of Iowa.

Oregon's Industrial Growth Fails to Meet Needs for Jobs

WASHINGTON—The shortage of electric power in the Pacific Northwest, which has dampened efforts to attract additional industry to the region, is now beginning to show itself in a job shortage.

Guard Units March in Rain At Ft. Lewis

TACOMA (AP)—Marching feet and pattering raindrops began in unison at Gray Field, Fort Lewis, Saturday afternoon as the Pacific Northwest's own Sunset Division of the National Guard passed in review for the governors of Washington and Oregon and other dignitaries.

Some 3,000 people including Gov. Arthur B. Langlie of Washington and Gov. Paul Peterson of Oregon and other distinguished guests saw the spectacle.

Reviewing the troops were the adjutant generals of both states, Maj. Gen. Thomas E. Riley, Oregon, and Maj. Gen. Libburn H. Stevens, Washington. Many other high military officers also were on hand.

Gen. Harold G. Mason, Salem, Ore., commanded the troops for the parade. Award Given A feature of the parade was the presentation of the coveted Eisenhower trophy to Company B, 803d Tank Battalion, Poulso, Merle W. Bray, commander, accepted the trophy from Gov. Langlie.

"Even in the rain you look great," Governor Langlie said as he handed over the big cup. He lauded their devotion to duty and the excellence of their work, and there esprit de corp.

The 41st Division Association trophy was presented to Headquarters Company, 3rd Battalion, 166th Infantry Regiment, commanded by Capt. Marvin J. Melbye, Forest Grove, Ore. Capt. Jesse T. Wilkins Jr., Seattle, association president, presented the award.

Governor Patterson also praised the company, calling them "symbols of adequate defense." He said he took personal pride in them because they came from his own county in Oregon.

Another ceremony was the introduction of a new annual trophy for a Washington unit for proficiency in training, marksmanship and attendance. Tacoma's Mayor Harold Tolleson presented the tall trophy to General Stevens. First unit presentation will take place at next year's encampment.

In clearing weather the review passed by, headed by the 122nd Regiment from Oregon. It was commanded by Col. James D. Allgood of The Dalles.

Colorado Boy Wins Marbles Shooting Title

PORTLAND (AP)—Bobby Vigil, 13-year-old Walsenburg, Colo., entry won the national V.F.W. marbles championship here Saturday by downing Charles Scott, 12, Prosser, Wash., twice.

Vigil, who won six straight matches in the three-day, double-elimination tournament, polished off Scott in the final match, 7-0. Vigil lost only in special, 10-foot play rings laid down on the Portland Armory floor.

Scott wound up in second place and John H. Layne, 13, Avonmore, Pa., third. Vigil started the day by defeating the only other unbeaten player in the tournament, Scott, 3-7, 7-4, 7-4. Scott then played Layne, who was the winner of other elimination matches. He downed Layne, 7-4, 7-1, only to drop the final match to the Colorado champion.

Salem Chosen As Norsemen Festival Site

The third annual Norseman's Summer Festival will be held in Salem early in August, Thor Lodge, sons of Norway, announced Saturday night.

The event is expected to bring between 150 and 200 persons here from Oregon and Washington lodges. Last year's festival was held in Vancouver, Wash. Each lodge will contribute to a daytime program of entertainment which will be climaxed by a Scandinavian folk dance in the evening.

SPORTSLIGHTNER

(Continued from preceding page.) nothing but fast balls away from him. No curves. I want that shut-out record and I don't want to see that guy hitting any home run to spoil it."

So Bevens went to work. He got two batters out and was two strikes and no balls up on the Sox' Thumping Theodore. Having used a sharp-breaking curve pitch much of the afternoon to help mow down the Boston. Bevens figured he'd cross up everyone in the ball yard by busting one off at Williams—object, striking him out.

But lo, the last Bev saw of his curve pitch was bouncing around in the third deck of the right field stands at the Stadium, a mighty home run for Williams and the end of the scoreless string for McCarthy's staff.

"Joe didn't speak to me for three days after that," Bevens grinded the other day while reminiscing . . . Owen Returns, Sporting Dandy Black Eye Back from his talent-seeking tour of just about every corner of the USA, wrestling Maestro Elton Owen is sporting a dandy black eye. He figured he'd get a bit of exercise at Amarillo, Tex., and refereed a card there one night. Got a bit too close to one of the wild swinging gladiators, however, and caught a haymaker on the orb. It's a beaut . . . Date for the Los Angeles' football Rams visit to Portland for the exhibit with the Chicago Cardinals will be Monday, September 7. It's a good bet the game will jam the joint for the only time during the 1953 football season, too . . . The Portland Meadows horse racing meet, to be a solid 50-day run this year, opens on July 14. Races are to be on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights, and on Saturday afternoons. So your chance to get rich is less than a month distant . . .