

Dad, Here Is How You Can Make Every Day Father's Day

Editor's note: Father's day is June 21. If you'd like to be a real happy pop, here are the simple rules.

NEW YORK (AP) — So you'd like to be a happy dad? A husband who lives in a utopia where wives serve breakfast in bed, children wear golden wings and everyday is Father's Day??

It's easy. All you have to do is to become a "gold star father," with the aid of a few simple rules. No self-respecting wife would dream of hecking a husband thus decorated for the Father's Hall of Fame.

In this paradise on earth, father may go fishing or golfing any time, enjoy nights out with the boys, eat on a la carte luncn now and then instead of the blueplate special and invite his own relatives to the house.

Wives Polled

And how do you acquire the star rating necessary to this blissful existence? This is how, according to wives polled in the interest of happier fathers' days for pop:

1. Be considerate. If you miss the 5:02 bus, train or plane, call home to alert the little woman. Instead of calling up after you've had a few, and acting like it was all her fault.
2. Be romantic. Early some week make a date with your wife for a Saturday night out. This gives her a chance to get her hair frizzed, hire a baby sitter and fix up a party dress. Don't wait until the last minute and say "well, d'y'wan'na go out tonight?"
3. Be loyal. When everybody is praising a neighbor's cooking, put in a good word for the little woman's biscuits.
4. Be cheerful. Tell a funny story or two at home in the evening.
5. Be thoughtful. When your wife complains her head aches, startle her by suggesting that you'll rustle up the bacon-and-eggs. Refrain from "Oh, you're always sick" or "You're just getting neurotic."
6. Be generous. Surprise your wife occasionally by saying something like "Darling, why don't you buy a new dress?" Instead of waiting for tears.
7. Be praiseful. Compliment her on her pretty coiffure or new hat. Don't say: "You look like a tufted titmouse" or "How much was that thing?"
8. Be kindly. When she is driving the car treat it as her project. Don't regale your guests later with tales of dented fenders. Mention Slinness.
9. Be charitable. When she loses a few pounds encourage her by mentioning how trim she looks instead of commenting she's got a long way to go.
10. Be helpful. Offer to take the kids to the zoo, circus or movies once in a while so mom can have a peaceful day house-cleaning or shopping. Don't lock yourself in the attic or cellar with a murder mystery.

If you observe these pointers you should earn your diamond-studded halo in jiffy time.

41st Division National Guard Troops Parade

FORT LEWIS, Wash. — (Special) — Troops of the Northwest's 41st Division were idle here Sunday after a week of intensive summer training concluded Saturday by a massive parade.

Governors Arthur B. Langlie of Washington and Paul L. Patterson of Oregon were among many civilian and military dignitaries in the stand as the 6,000 guardsmen passed in review. Also reviewing the troops were Maj. Gen. Thomas E. Rilea, Oregon adjutant general; Lt. Gen. Joseph M. Swing, commanding general of the Sixth Army; Maj. Gen. Harry Bolen, commander of the 44th Infantry division; Brig. Gen. George S. Cook, assistant commander of the 41st and Col. Frederick L. Wiegand, division chief of Staff.

Maj. Gen. Harold G. Maison, Salem, commanding general of the 41st, led his troops on parade. Heading their units were Col. James D. Allgood, Dallas, commander of the 162nd Infantry Regiment, and Col. Robert L. Irving, Salem, commander of the 168th Infantry Regiment.

Units of the division, including Company B and Company D of Salem, will resume training Monday in the annual summer schedule. Camp will conclude Saturday.

Mother Cat Braves Fire to Save Kittens

A mother cat, who returned to the side of her threatened week-old kittens, was a near-casualty Saturday when flames swept the basement of the Vernon Oberst home at 915 N. 18th St.

The five Kittens, four white and one grey one, were evacuated by the Obersts shortly after the fire was discovered by Mrs. Oberst at 1:10 p.m. But the mother cat, frightened, wet and singed remained in the basement until city firemen brought the blaze under control.

Firemen said the fire apparently started from a trash box alongside a 50-gallon drum which had been converted into a trash burner-water heater. Flames charred floor joists and destroyed stored bed clothing in the basement, and filled the two-story frame dwelling with smoke.

Loss in the fire, limited except for smoke to the basement, was not determined. It was insured.

Salem Marine Unit Praised In Training

CAMP PENDELTON, Calif. — (Special) — The "big guns" from Salem, are in training here at the world's largest Marine installation.

In the middle of two weeks of summer camp training are members of the 3rd 155 mm Gun Battery, Salem Organized Marine Corps Reserve Unit. And Maj. Cecil A. Gardner, 2012 Court St., was mightily pleased with the way the men of the unit settled down to normal routine of Marines on active duty. "It's as if they were Marines all their lives," he explained.

Impressed with the Marine training too, in their first visit to the Marine base, were Privates Dwight A. Bradley of Sublimity, and George D. Read of 1095 Garnet St., Salem.

The Salem unit will conclude training here next Saturday.

Oregon Association Formed To Promote Interest in U. N.

PORTLAND—An Oregon association for the United Nations was formed Friday "to promote the interest and cause of the United Nations."

Former governor Charles A. Sprague, publisher of The Oregon Statesman, and alternate U. S. delegate to the United Nations in 1952, presided. About 30 persons in the board room of the First National Bank.

Sprague was elected honorary chairman of the new Oregon United Nations Association. Prof. Karlin M. Capper-Johnson will serve as acting president.

The meeting had been called in a recent letter signed by E. B. McNaughton, Morgan S. O. Dell, Edgar W. Smith, Sprague and Professor Capper-Johnson.

A 14-member board pro tem was instructed to commence the active work of the organization and to draft a constitution. On the board, in addition to those who called the meeting, are Dr. Paul Wright, vice president; Mrs. E. Victor Creed, recording secretary; Ormond Binford, treasurer; Mrs. Vera Van Horn, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Fred Huettsch, Mrs. Margaret M. Sharp, Mrs. Lamar Tooze, David Robinson, and Miss Onone Shaw.

Prefacing the meeting, Sprague declared:

"If a truce is achieved in Korea—and we have been on the eve of it—I believe it will be a great victory for the United Nations because the truce that is in process of being agreed to follows very closely the lines of the Indian resolution adopted by votes of 54 of the 60 members of the United Nations..."

"We were fighting the U. N. battle and I think the results there will give among the people a fresh impetus for support of the United Nations."

Services for A. L. Scriber Held Thursday

Private funeral services for Austin Leonard Scriber, 59, grandson of early Salem pioneer C. W. Scriber, who died Thursday in Drain following a heart attack, were held Saturday at 3 p.m. in the W. T. Rigdon Chapel. Interment was at Salem Pioneer Cemetery.

A carpenter, Scriber made his home recently in Eugene.

He was born Dec. 11, 1893 in La Grande. His father, J. W. Scriber, was a banker there and later farmed the Scriber donation land claim in the Waldo Hills east of Salem.

The deceased's grandfather came to Oregon in 1848 and ran a blacksmith's shop in Salem.

Scriber was a veteran of World War I and served overseas.

Surviving are several cousins, including Mrs. Virginia Scherf, Newberg.

tended the tea held at the Methodist Home. Those attending were Mrs. Leonard Cruson and her mother Mrs. Hudson, Mrs. Glen Julian, Mrs. Alice Huber, Mrs. Willard Hartnell and Mrs. Alex Bodeker. Mrs. Bodeker who is the delegate is attending the regular session.

Boys State Ends Session With Awards

The 1953 Boys State, sponsored annually by the American Legion, concluded Saturday morning with selection of Steven Fonda, Vale, as First Citizen and with presentation of certificates to officers of the State.

Fonda and Boy Governor Donald Gilbert, Lebanon, will attend Boys Nation in Washington, D. C., next month.

The Saturday morning meeting in Waller Hall at Willamette University concluded at about 9 a.m. after certificates of merit were presented to all the officers of the State and the first citizen was chosen. Also selected at the morning meeting were junior counselors who are invited to return to Boys State next year to assist.

Slated to return are Thomas Roe, Thomas Wickala, Richard Russell, Richard Pahl, Phillip Thompson, Robly Morgan, Dwight Smith, James Campbell, John Day, Michael Skala, Wilmer Post and Richard Goheen.

Both Gov. Gilbert and Citizen Fonda were special guests Saturday of members of the American Legion at that organization's state convention in Seaside.

Newspapers in West Praised By Newsmen

GEARHART (AP) — Newspapers in the Western part of the U. S. have a greater sense of responsibility than those of the East. Bob Frazier, Eugene newspaper man, told the Oregon Newspaper Publishers Association Saturday.

Frazier, who recently completed a year's study at Harvard under a Nieman fellowship, said eastern papers tend to sacrifice quality. "They strive to get the news first and sometimes find they get it worst," he said.

Frazier, a reporter on the Eugene Register-Guard, addressed the association's noon luncheon Saturday.

The group elected W. Arthur Steele, Clatskanie, president; Lucien P. Arant of the Baker Democrat-Herald, vice president; Glen Charles of the Lakeview Examiner, treasurer; Carl C. Webb, Eugene, was reappointed secretary-manager.

Directors elected were Phil Bladine, McMinnville News Register; M. J. Frey, The Oregonian; C. L. McKinley, Junction City Times; Hal Schiltz, Myrtle Creek Mail; Robert Pendland, Heppner Gazette Times; Fred Weybreit, La Grande Evening Observer.
