

Miss Sue McElhinny Bride of Bruce Rankin at Church Rites

St. Paul's Episcopal Church was the setting for a pretty, informal summer wedding on Saturday afternoon when Miss Sue McElhinny, youngest daughter of Mrs. Charles Stuart McElhinny and the late Mr. McElhinny, became the bride of Bruce Rankin, son of Dr. and Mrs. P. G. Rankin.

It was at 4 o'clock that the Rev. George H. Swift officiated at the nuptials before members of the two families, including a number from out-of-town. Mrs. Hugh Whipple of Drain, aunt of the bride, sang and a cousin, Mrs. Gordon Stewart of Roseburg, was the organist. On either side of the chancel rail were baskets of calla lilies and palms.

The bride wore an exquisite Victorian style gown of white tulle and tulle with a straight skirt in front and fuller in back ending in a chapel train. The low, rounded neckline and cap sleeves were embellished with applique roses centered with beading and the rose applique was repeated on either side of the skirt in front from waistline to hemline. She wore organdy mitts bordered with the rose applique. A satin crown adorned with seed pearls held in place her shoulder length veil. She carried a Victorian nosegay of white roses fringed with bouvardia and maiden hair fern. Charles Stuart McElhinny gave his sister in marriage.

Attendant Wears Pink
Miss Lois Archibald was the bride's only attendant and her gown was of pink organdy designed with a boat shaped neckline outlined in white daisy applique. She wore pink mitts and a crown of pink bouvardia. She carried an old fashioned nosegay of pink roses. Christy Ann McElhinny, niece of the bride, was the flower girl and wore a blue organdy frock with a crown of blue carnations.

Best men for Mr. Rankin were his twin brothers, Dwight and Dwaine Rankin. Seating the guests were Jack Loftis, Ronald Vinyard, Olwyn Davies and Hugh William McElhinny, brother of the bride. For her daughter's nuptials Mrs. McElhinny selected a costume suit of blue silk with matching velvet hat. Mrs. Rankin attended her son's marriage in a blue lace gown with matching flowered hat.

Reception in Garden
The wedding reception was held in the garden of the Court Street home of the bride's mother. Presiding at the coffee urns were the bride's two sisters-in-law, Mrs. Charles Stuart McElhinny and Mrs. Hugh William McElhinny. Cutting the cake was the bride's sister, Mrs. Norman Nelson of Lexington, and Mrs. Ove Tonning. Assisting were Mrs. Hal Jole and Miss Janice Whipple, cousins of the bride.

The newlyweds have gone to San Francisco on their wedding trip and for traveling the bride changed to an off-white two-piece wool costume suit with matching accessories and a red hat. On their return to Salem the couple will reside at the Delta Gamma house for the summer. In the fall they will leave for Pullman, Wash., where Mrs. Rankin will continue her studies at Washington State College Veterinary School.

Thais Crandall Married in Pasadena

A bride of Saturday in Pasadena, Calif., was Miss Thais Joyce Crandall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Bruce Crandall of Salem, who was married to John S. Conklin, son of Mrs. Ann Conklin of Pasadena and Verle D. Conklin of Detroit, Mich.

The 7:30 o'clock ceremony took place at the Church of Our Angels with the Rev. Edwin Moss officiating. Mrs. Robert Gardner was the soloist.

The bridal gown was of white Chantilly lace over net and satin with a chapel length train. The bodice was made with a deep illusion yoke and long sleeves and the skirt was very full. A Juliet cap of lace scattered with seed pearls held in place her shoulder length veil. She carried a Victorian nosegay of white roses fringed with bouvardia and maiden hair fern. Charles Stuart McElhinny gave his sister in marriage.

Mrs. Richard Dorn of Pasadena was the matron of honor and bridesmaids were Mrs. Gene Wilson and Mrs. John Fee, both of Pasadena. They wore ballerina gowns of pale yellow pure silk over taffeta with white gloves and shoes and yellow bandeaux with yellow face veils. The honor matron carried a crescent of deep grape gladioluses and the attendants carried crescents of Mother McCree gladioluses. Kathy Baugh, in pale green taffeta, was the flower girl.

Harrison Fischer stood with the groom as best man. Ushers were William Crandall, brother of the bride, now living in Los Angeles, Joe Wyatt of Los Angeles, Barney Huber of Sierra Madre, and Edwin Battley of Pacific Grove.

Crandalls Go South
Mr. and Mrs. Crandall went south for their daughter's wedding and Mrs. Crandall wore a changing gown with satin skirt and lace bodice. Her accessories were pastel blue and she pinned an orchid corsage to her ensemble. The groom's mother chose a gold gown with brown accessories and an orchid corsage.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Baugh in San Marino. Pouring were Mrs. M. J. Gould and Mrs. W. R. Brown, grandmothers of the bride, and Miss Edith Crandall, aunt of the bride, cut the cake. Assisting was Mrs. Eileen Jordan, the groom's sister.

The newlyweds have gone to Lake Tahoe on their honeymoon. For going away the bride changed to a navy blue and white polka dot sheath dress with white linen duster and white linen accessories. After July 15 the couple will be at home in Pasadena at 1151 E. Washington St.

The new Mrs. Conklin has been making her home in Pasadena. Her husband is a research engineer at the California Institute of Technology.

Miss Jo-Ann Gilmore Married To John Lattin on Saturday

Yellow with a touch of violet and white were the colors selected for the dresses of the attendants and the floral decorations at the beautiful summer wedding Saturday night, which united in marriage Miss Jo-Ann Gilmore, and John Daniel Lattin. The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Duganne Gilmore and her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Lattin of Chicago, who came west for the nuptials.

The ceremony took place at the First Presbyterian Church with Dr. Paul Newton Poling performing the 8:30 o'clock rites. Mrs. George Baker of Portland, was the soloist and Mrs. Ralph Dobbs, the organist. The altar was banked with arrangements of yellow daisies and white stock flanked by white tapers. Mrs. Alton Chamberlain and Mrs. Lloyd F. Ramey, in yellow and white dresses, lighted the candles.

Four pretty attendants preceded the bride to the altar all wearing ballerina dresses of yellow frosted nylon organdy with matching satin cummerbunds and shoes. They carried nosegays of violet stock. Mrs. David Rodway of Roseburg was the matron of honor and Mrs. A. W. Brocker of Wheaton, Ill., sister of the groom, Mrs. Frank Hart of Portland, Mrs. Frank Hart of Portland, were the bridesmaids.

The tall, attractive bride, who entered on the arm of her father, wore a handsome gown of white lace over satin. The dress was fashioned with an overskirt of lace enhanced with nylon pleated ruffling, which cascaded down the back ending in a slight train. Her elbow length veil of nylon illusion was caught to the Juliet cap adorned with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of stephanotis.

William P. Stephen stood with the groom as best man. Seating the guests were James Gilmore, brother of the bride, Joe Bryan Richards and David Rodway. Mrs. Gilmore selected a gown of lavender crepe and lace with an orchid corsage for her daughter's nuptials. Mrs. Lattin's gown was of aqua to which she pinned a corsage of roses.

The newlyweds greeted their guests at a reception at the Manbrin Gardens home of the bride's parents on Wayne Drive. Presiding at the coffee urns were Mrs. Silas Gaiser and Mrs. Percival Treleaven of Portland, aunts of the bride. Cutting the cake were Mrs. Herschel Atherton of Seattle and Mrs. Paul Gaiser of Vancouver, Wash., the bride's aunts.

When the couple left on their wedding trip the new Mrs. Lattin donned a grey suit with gold blouse and hat and natural leather accessories. She pinned a yellow orchid to her ensemble. The justweds will spend their honeymoon at Westshore Manor on the Oregon Coast and will be at Strawberry Lake in California for ten days. After July 15 the couple will be at home in Berkeley, where Mr. Lattin is engaged in research work and studying for his doctorate at the University of California.

When the couple left on their wedding trip to Canada the bride was wearing a navy wool suit with navy and white accessories accented with a navy and white polka dot scarf. The newlyweds will live in Salem for the summer and in the fall will go to Minneapolis, where Mr. Lattin will attend Northwestern School.
