Brass Ensemble to Play At Festival

ASHLAND—The Portland Symphonic Brass Ensemble, a group of musicians from the Portland symphony orchestra, will present a musical program as a part of the Oregon Shakespearean festival's expanded Elizabethan music program this year. The Portland group will appear in the Festival theater in Ashland on August 9.

The second concert of Elizabethan music, to be held in Ashland on August 23, will be an informal and varied one, featuring the festival madrigal singers, Elizabethan dancers, a small instrumental group, and an ancient instruments group. The music program at the festival this year is under the direction of Bernard Windt, supervisor of music for the Ashland schools. He is an authority on Elizabethan music, particularly that involving ancient instruments. In addition to the concerts, Mr. Windt will direct the incidental music of the four plays in the season's repertoire and supervise pre-show musical activity. Plans for the 1953 season include a group of strolling players, a feature of the 1950 season which the director has revived. The group will circulate through the audience before the plays, playing a variety of informal Elizabethan airs.

The music program is endowed by Tom D. Cooke, Los Angeles, a festival and Elizabethan music enthusiast. Mr. Cooke's offer to pay the salary of a music director if the festival association would begin such a program was accepted in 1952 by the board of directors of the organization. Tickets for either concert may be had by writing "Shakespeare", Ashland.

Miss Betty Lou Beckman Bride Of Jack Grimes at Church Rites

The First Presbyterian Church was the setting for a beautiful summer wedding on Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock uniting in marriage Miss Betty Lou Beckman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Beckman, and Jack W. Grimes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Grimes of Jefferson.

Dr. Paul Newton Poling performed the nuptials. Miss Shirley Kight was the soloist and Mrs. Walter Hart of Seattle the organist. The sanctuary was decorated with pink gladioluses, white Esther Reed daisies flanked by white tapers in white candelabras wound with ivy. The alternate pews were marked with clusters of sweet peas tied with white satin bows. Miss Joann Brown and Miss Joan Seamster, wearing white and pink frocks respectively, lighted the candles.

For her wedding the brunette bride chose an exquisite floor length gown of nylon net and Chantilly lace over faille, fashioned with a full, pleated skirt and a lace bolero with Peter Pan collar and long sleeves. Her fingertip illusion veil cascaded from a crown of lace edged with aged pearls and stephanotis. She carried a gold wedding ring adorned with white orchids, stephanotis and ivy. For "something old" she carried a lace handkerchief which her grandmother had made and carried at her wedding.

Four attendants and a flower girl preceded the bride to the altar. Miss Louise Owens, the maid of honor, and Mrs. Gene H. Beckman, the matron of honor, wore waltz length dresses of white organdy over azalea pink faille with sashes of the azalea. Miss Judith Carlson, the bridesmaid, wore a waltz length gown of white organdy over mist pink with pink sash. The junior bridesmaid, Lee All Beckman, the bride's sister, wore a similar gown, only floor length. They all carried white nylon net fans with rubrum lilies and sweet peas. Frances Ann Beckman, niece of the bride, was the flower girl and wore white organdy and carried a miniature fan. Larry Dean Seamster was the ring bearer.

Bob D. Rasmus was his cousin's best man. Seating the guests were Donald Paterson, cousin of the groom from Cottage Grove, Kenneth Sharp of Jefferson, Alan Russell of Brooks, Ron Baker and Merton Meeker of Sandy.

Mrs. Beckman chose a rose crepe afternoon gown with white accessories and orchid corsage for her daughter's nuptials. Mrs. Grimes attended her son's marriage in a grey crepe afternoon gown with red accessories and orchid corsage. The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Anna Beckman wore a blue gown with black accessories and an orchid corsage for the wedding. The newlyweds greeted their guests at a reception at the Kingwood Heights—home of the bride's parents on Westwood Drive. Presiding at the urns were Mrs. Henry Rasmus of Cottage Grove, Mrs. Bob Rasmus, Mrs. Paul Grimes of Springfield, aunt of the groom, and Mrs. Robert Boynton of Dayton. Cutting the cake were Mrs. Harold A. Taylor of McMinnville, Mrs. Anna Beckman, Mrs. Warren Baker and Mrs. E. E. Beckman, aunt of the bride. At the punch bowl were Miss Nan Steel and Miss Dolores Brunkal.

Assisting were the Misses Claudia and Clarice Waters, Nancy Rust, Janice Coffell, Coralie Roseberry, Darlene Paterson of Cottage Grove, Jackie Jones, Nancy Meeker, Kay Meeker, Sally Kay Seamster, Patricia Sunderland, Jane Foreman, Mrs. Charles Ferris, Mrs. George Meeker and Mrs. Ed Seamster. Bouquets of calla lilies, sweet peas, gladioluses and Esther Reed daisies decorated the rooms of the Beckman home. The bride's table was covered with a white organdy cloth with embroidery inset over pale pink and centered with the tiered cak encircled with pink water lilies and maiden hair fern.

When the couple left on their wedding trip to Southern Oregon the new Mrs. Grimes donned a brown and blue skirt with powder blue jacket and beige accessories. After July 15 the newly-

Don Patton, Salem, and Mrs. Nadene Jones, Portland, grand royal patron and matron, of the Order of the Amaranth, who will make their official visit in Salem at Hanna Rosa Court Monday night at the Masonic Temple at 8 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm McDonald will head the social committee for the evening.

Worth more, and why

THERE ARE TWO generally accepted meanings of the word "worth." One comes down to cold hard dollars and cents value. The other is personal: what something is worth to you in usefulness, in pride of possession, in reliability, and so on: Either way you look at "worth" we feel that you'll find the new '53 Ford worth more. And here's why:
If you could check the used car prices of last year's cars, you'd find that Ford keeps the greatest part of its original cost in resale... a greater portion than any other car at any price.
Now, as everyone knows, the amount of value a car loses between the time you buy it and the time you sell it is the actual cost of the car to you. With Ford's low original cost and high resale value, a Ford costs you less to own.

And apparently a lot of folks have a lot of personal reasons why Ford's worth more to them. For that's why people are willing to pay more for a used Ford.
To help you evaluate these reasons for yourself, we have supplied the illustrations on this page... and we offer you a "Test Drive" in the '53 Ford at your convenience. Check the features that you want in a car and compare them with even the costliest cars. It's our feeling that once you do, you'll never pay more than the price of a Ford.

Ford's 5-cross member frame has rugged box section siderails for great strength. And Ford's husky K-bar member up front resists twisting force. It's no wonder, then, that Fords stay young so long.

Ford's Crankshaft is built-tight to keep out dust, drafts and weather. You'll find it welded where many other cars are bolted... to eliminate water-catching cracks where rust can get a foothold.

Here's where you ride in a Ford. You sit on roomy, foam rubber cushioned seats—a match in comfort and size for most more expensive cars. And the interior fabrics would be a credit to any car.

Here is the only V-8 in the low-price field, the same type engine powering most of the costliest cars. It's the packed product of Ford's experience building more V-8's than all other makers combined—over 13,000,000.

The Ford Mustang Maker Six is the industry's most modern low-friction six. And with all its great high-compression "Go," it lives on a lean diet of regular gas, thanks to Ford's Automatic Power Pilot.

Fordomatic Drive gives you the smoothness of a torque converter plus the savings and response of automatic gears. Ford also offers you gas-saving Overdrive or easy-shift Conventional transmission.

Ford's brakes and clutch pedals are suspended from above to operate more easily... to eliminate dusty, drafty floor holes... to make more footspace. It's just one of Ford's "worth more" advances!

Center-Fill Fueling is a Ford exclusive in the low-price field. It allows easy filling up from either side of the gas pump... prevents hose from mar-jarring fender. Short fill pipe gives you trunk space for an extra suitcase.

No longer does a car need to be box-car heavy to gentle you over the bumps! Ford's new ride cuts front end road shock alone up to 80%... babies you over the bumps... and cuts sideways on turns.

Ford's almost effortless steering, handling and parking makes all driving a real pleasure. And if you prefer power steering, Ford offers you the newest and finest for less money than you probably think!
