LA Nabs 2-1, 8-0 Victories

Portland Slips Deeper Into Second Division

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Bob Talbot's home run in the eighth inning — his 14th this season — gave Los Angeles a 2-1 victory over Portland in the first game of a Pacific Coast League doubleheader here Sunday. Los Angeles won the second game 8-0.

The Angels' margin in the second game might have been even larger had it not been for a triple play by Portland in the third inning.

Frank DiPrima hit a ground ball to third base. Don Eggert tagged out a runner there, then threw to Eddie Basinski at second who tagged out another. Basinski threw to Hank Arft at first and Arft tagged out DiPrima.

Doubles by Bob Usher and DiPrima brought in two Los Angeles runs in the first inning; Usher doubled and was scored on Gene Baker's single for another in the third inning.

Dick Smith opened the fourth inning scoring surge with a homer. Usher's homer behind a walk and a single by Randy Gumpert accounted for three more.

In the first game, Los Angeles tied the score at 1-1 in the fourth inning on Usher's single and two-base hit by Les Peden.

Portland's lone run of the day came in the first inning when Fletcher Robbe singled, went to second on an infield out and was scored on Bob Marquis' single.

The leading Hollywood Stars upped their PCL margin to seven games with a pair of wins over San Diego by 2-1 and 3-2 scores.

Second place Seattle whipped San Francisco 14-5 in the first game but the Seals came back to notch the nightcap 2-4 on John McCall's tight hurling.

Sacramento beat Oakland 4-3 and then dropped a 6-1 decision.

Salem Merchants Face Mt. Angel...

Softball Playoff Due; Gals Await State Meet

Salem's softball gals, the South Salem Merchants, will be among a 12-team field which vies for the state women's crown in the annual tournament starting Thursday at Portland's Normandale Park.

The tourney runs four days and is a double elimination affair. Meanwhile the Salem Merchants, champs of the City League, play host to Mt. Angel Tuesday night at Phillips Field in the first game of an intra-district playoff. Winner meets Oregon City for a berth in the coming State Tournament at Mill City.

The Salem girls, runnersup to Canby in the Silver Falls League race, get their first tourney test at 7 o'clock Thursday night against the Oswego Mermaids, second place finishers in last year's meet. Other first-round tilts Thursday find The Dalles against Corvallis, Canby against Oakridge, Eugene vs. Hillsboro, Eagle Point, Roseburg, Klamath Falls and Gales Creek make their debuts on Friday.

The state champion earns the right to participate in the Northwest Regional Meet at Tacoma.

Seattle Boat Race Winner

III third with 694. Miss United States had 294 and Such Crust V 225, but neither made the last heat due to mechanical trouble.

Although the Slo-mo-shun is Seattle-owned, two Westerners wheeled her to her triumph. Joe Taggart of Detroit drove the first and last heats. Lou Fagel of Kent, Ohio, drove the middle heat. He was to have piloted the Slo-mo-shun V, which was unable to compete after ripping her bottom out during a practice run last week.

Six boats answered the starter's gun for the first heat. Miss Great Lakes, piloted by Danny Arena, barely got into the first turn before conking out. The Such Crust V completed the first heat but lost a prop in the second and went out with mechanical trouble in the second lap of the final heat.

Miss United States ran two heats but had to pass up the third when it was found her shaft mountings were out of line.

Salem Girls Lose

WASHOUGAL, Wash. — (Special) — The Washougal girls softball team won an 11- decision over the South Salem Merchants Saturday night. Only Salem run was a homer by Carol Peterson in the seventh inning.

Rollin' Along

Stopped over in Medford a few days ago and just long enough to hear a couple of citizens venture the opinion that the pear-growing center ought to be able to support a WIL franchise—if one ever was obtained. . . . No denying it's a thriving and sports-loving community. . . .

Minus pro ball after the ill-fated Far West League was torn asunder, Medford finds solace in its semi-pro entry in the Southwest Oregon circuit. . . . Lots of interest, too. . . . Fact is, this league has built white hot rivalry throughout the southern portion of the state and not surprising, for there are many natural rivals in that sector. . . .

The ordinary hazards of fishing don't include eye strain. But that's what lots of the boys risk carrying home with if they've happened to pick the Seaside sector as their hunting ground. . . . We know of at least a couple of cases where the guys forgot all about angling, once they ogled the bathing beauty display along the Seaside beaches. So intriguing the gents used up all their fishing time just watching! . . . Looking at it another way, maybe the guys were merely giving the fish a break. . . .

The Musial Express Picks Up Speed

Stan Musial, burdened by a slow, slow start this season, has got his average up to around the .310 figure. And since Stan is not in the habit of being the droopy violet type in the stretch, he must be rated a strong threat for another National League batting title. . . .

Joe Steiger, former Salem club professional, has taken a job at a Eugene course. That indicates Steiger has given up plans of taking a serious crack at the big-time tourney trail, an idea he at one time harbored. . . . Anyhow, there are plenty of tournaments here in the Northwest to keep a gent busy—and Joe can find satisfaction in fact that he's rated among the top ten in the NW area.

From time to time there comes the question as to whether the state's most highly acclaimed amateur linkster, Dick Yost, will eventually turn pro. The three-time winner of the local Elks crown isn't here to answer, but several years ago he told this writer he had doubts that he'd make the jump. . . . That, we repeat, was several years ago. . . .

Little Jehosie Heard, the Portland Bevos' No. 1 hurler, has a natural swagger in his movements that sometimes occasions the cry "Showboat" from the stands. . . . But when Jehosie was winning that eight in a row he could have donned a top hat and spats and got away with it. . . .

May to Jump Tam's Purse To $100,000

CHICAGO (AP) — Soon after watching Lew Worsham's sensational windup in the Tam-O-Shanter "World" Golf Tournament Sunday, Promoter George S. May announced that next year's event will be increased to a purse of $100,000 for the men pros' division, with the winner to get $50,000.

"Watching Lew get that eagle 2 gave me one of my greatest golf thrills," said May. "It also decided me to boost next year's top prize to $50,000."

The $25,000 award boosted the 36-year-old Worsham from 20th to first place on the PGA money-winning list with a total of $32,000.

The only Pacific Northwest man to finish in the money was Henry Martell of Edmonton, Canada, whose 289 was good for $400.

Al Zimmerman of Portland, Ore., closed out with a 76 for a 291 total.

Patty Berg, Stranahan Win

CHICAGO (AP) — Patty Berg, a runner-up for the title in each of the last five years, Sunday won the "World" golf championship for women pros to complete a grand slam at Tam O'Shanter.

The stocky little redhead, who lives in Minneapolis but registers out of Chicago, picked up the $5,000 first prize in the world field with a scorching last round of 38-36-74 for a 72-hole total of 300, four under par.

The victory was her second of the week. She won the All American Women's open last Monday, good for $1,000.

Louise Suggs of Atlanta, 54-hole leader with 224, drifted to a 40-30-79 for a 303 total to collect the $1,600 second prize.

Babe Zaharias made a great bid for the title to climax a comeback in tournament golf after a cancer operation April 17.

Her 81 gave her 307 for third place and a check for $1,000.

CHICAGO (AP) — Frank Stranahan easily won his fourth straight "World" golf title for men amateurs at Tam O'Shanter Sunday with a final round of 36-38-74 for a 72-hole aggregate of 289, one stroke over par.

Ted Given Ovation After Long Soak

BOSTON, (AP) — Ted Williams, extending congratulations to the tall slugger.

Williams showered quickly and left the park before sports writers could talk with him. He also dodged several hundred fans who waited for him outside. One fan seeking Williams had a ball which he said was the one Ted had belt ed.

TED WILLIAMS

Manager Lou Boudreau said in the seventh inning he glanced down the bench toward Williams.

"I asked him what about it and he said 'sure,'" Boudreau said. "But before that he had used the rosin bag and was going through the motions of batting."

In the Cleveland dressing room Garcia, a big righthander, said "The first three pitches were sliders and the next two fast balls."

"Well, anyway, now the rest of the pitchers in the league can relax," Garcia added with a wry grin. "He hit the first one off me."

Cleveland Manager Al Lopez said: "That ought to make him feel good. He's really swinging."

The homer was the 325th of Williams' major league career. He belted his 324th on April 30, 1932, in his final Boston appearance before leaving for a second tour of duty as a Marine Corps pilot.
