Yank PWs Hit Trail Home; More Freed

By JIM BECKER

PANMUNJOM — Americans freed from long months and years of Communist captivity were home ward bound Tuesday while the traffic down Freedom Road moved again in the seventh day of prisoner exchange.

One hundred Americans and 300 other Allied prisoners were the Tuesday liberation quota. The exchange began promptly at 9 a. m. (4 p. m. PST, Monday). The first American arrivals appeared healthy.

The Communists had said there would be no sick and wounded prisoners in the day's group. There were no amputees in the first contingent passing through Panmunjom.

The Americans jumped from the high tailgates of the Russian-built trucks and responded to roll call eagerly: "Yes sir. But some were choked with emotion as they reached freedom."

The Communists reported they would return 400 Allied prisoners Wednesday. The figure included 100 Americans. Of the total 125 were classed as sick and wounded.

South Koreans returned Tuesday appeared to be wearing newly-issued uniforms. The Americans and Turks wore faded blue uniforms. The Turks, more demonstrative than the British or Americans, rolled into Panmunjom singing and shouting. They littered the road with caps, shirts and shreds of prison garb.

Several British in one truck were survivors of the "Glorious Gloucesters"—the Commonwealth Division outfit which held off human wave attacks north of Seoul early in 1951 before it was engulfed.

"Has our colonel been through yet?" shouted one of the Britons. He was referring to Lt. Col. E. J. Carne, who thus far has not been returned.

Youth Injured, Bike Damaged By Accident

Twelve-year-old Ralph Morgan of 4085 Cherry Ave., was slightly injured and his bike damaged Monday morning when hit by a car, his father, J. E. Morgan, told police.

The boy reportedly was riding his bike near the Miles Linnen Mill when he was struck by a car and knocked to the street.

Morgan said the driver stopped and asked if the boy was hurt and then drove off. He said his son was too "scared" to tell the driver about his injury or damaged bike.

Della Buckley, Of Woodburn, Dies Sunday

Statesman News Service

WOODBURN—Miss Della Ann Buckley, 19, died Sunday in a Salem hospital following a short illness.

She was born in Central City, Neb., Feb. 4, 1934 and came to Woodburn seven years ago. Her late home was at 1509 George St. She was a member of the Four Square Church here.

Surviving are her mother, Mrs. Opal Buckley Hartzog; brother, Billy Gordon Buckley; and stepfather, E. L. Hartzog, all of Woodburn.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 10:30 a. m. in Ringo Funeral Chapel with the Rev. Arthur Goble officiating. Interment will be at Belle Passi Cemetery.

Photog Waits Medical After PW Release

TOKYO — Frank (Pappy) Noel, Associated Press photographer, Monday was awaiting an Army physical checkup which he expected would put him back in circulation after 32 months in Communist prisoner of war camps.

Noel, 54, arrived Monday to be greeted by his wife, Evelyn, a day after the Reds returned him in the prisoner exchange at Panmunjom, Korea.

The Pulitzer prize winning cameraman said "I'm feeling good. I don't know why they want me in a hospital."

Although Noel was a civilian prisoner of war, military regulations required that he have the physical checkup.

When Noel stepped from the plane he rushed into the embrace of his tearfully happy wife. And when newsreel and still cameramen asked him to repeat the greeting for more shots, Noel obliged with alacrity.

After the third long Kiss Noel quipped "I'd better watch out. It might push my teeth out."

This was an allusion to what he termed the "choppers" the Reds had given him while in prison.

Soldier Meets Brother in PW Exchange

PANMUNJOM — Cpl. Henry Price, Brooklyn, N. Y., volunteered at the start of the Korean prisoner of war exchange to drive correspondents to Panmunjom.

Each day he made the wary trip. Each day he anxiously scanned the groups of arriving prisoners.

When the last truckload of Americans arrived Tuesday, Price called out: "Do you know a man called Price?"

"Dick Price?" a POW queried.

"Yes, that's the man."

"Why, that's the POW said. 'He's right here with us now.'"

Henry leaped over the spectators' rope barrier and clasped his brother Dick, of Stuart, Fla., in his arms.

But Dick collapsed from weakness. His brother followed him into the medical tent.

"At first he smiled at me," Price said, "then he started crying and he's been crying ever since. He said he's been sick since January."

"He said the Chinese gave him pills to sleep but when he woke up, he was still in pain."

Requiem Mass Today for Sister Infeld

Statesman News Service

MT. ANGEL—A requiem high mass for Sister Mathilda Infeld, 88, who died Saturday at Benedictine Convent here, will be sung Tuesday at 9:30 a. m. in the Convent Chapel with interment at the private Convent Cemetery.

Sister Infeld was born in Switzerland in 1868 and came to the United States in 1889, starting her religious work at the convent here in 1891. She had been at the convent ever since.

She had been an invalid for the past several years.

Surviving is one sister, Sister Scholastica Infeld at the convent. Funeral arrangements are under direction of Unger Funeral Home.

Russian Star On Wane Says Former Envoy

WASHINGTON — George Kennan, former U. S. ambassador to Moscow, predicted Monday that revolution will break out eventually "in the Soviet orbit" and he pictured Russia's danger to the outside world as probably on the wane.

Kennan, one of the nation's foremost authorities on Russia, sounded a word of caution, however, against official American interference in Soviet internal troubles.

Such interference, he said, might boomerang by stimulating Communist unity.

Addressing a seminar on Soviet imperialism, sponsored by Baltimore's Johns Hopkins University, Kennan declared:

"Plainly, the edifice of Soviet power is faced today with severe strains and crisis."

"This can be observed in its internal structure which has come to depend on the institution of a supreme and glorified leader but contains no formal provision for the method of his selection."

"It can also be observed in the satellite empire where the nature of Soviet power has been thoroughly exposed, where its devices have worn thin, where it is harvesting the crop of hatred and rejection it sowed with such reckless arrogance some years ago in defiance of the pleas and warnings of the Western world."

Kennan said Soviet ideas no longer have a powerful attraction in the Western world, and in Asia there has been "a certain turn of the tide of battle" toward the forces of realism and common sense.

As for the role of the Western allies, Kennan said the United States and the United Nations could only "stand aside" and maintain "a readiness to be helpful to the extent that we can, when and if the opportunity develops."

Services for P. Engbrecht Announced

Statesman News Service

GERVAIS — Announcement of funeral services were made Monday for Peter Engbrecht, 80, who died Saturday night at Silverton Hospital following a short illness.

Recitation of the rosary will be said at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday at Sacred Heart Catholic Church and at 8 p. m. at Unger Funeral Home, Mt. Angel. Funeral services will be Wednesday at 9 a. m. in Sacred Heart Church with burial at St. Barbara's Cemetery, Salem.

Engbrecht was born in Russia March 10, 1873 and came to the United States at the age of five. He moved to Salem in 1914, later living in Portland. Eight years ago he came to Gervais.

Surviving are his widow, Wanda Engbrecht, Gervais; three sons, John Engbrecht, Ocean Park, Wash., Carl Engbrecht, Portland, and George Engbrecht, Gervais; and five grandchildren.

Driver Arrested On Drunk Charge

Ingolf Theodore Kvale, 549 S. 22nd St., was arrested by a private citizen Monday night and charged with driving while intoxicated. He was booked at the police station and later released on $250 bail.

Police were called to the 1700 block of Chemeketa Street shortly after 7 p. m. where a Salem man and wife had placed Kvale under arrest.

He was turned over to police and taken to the station.

Salem Man Driver In Fatal Accident

PORTLAND — A truck and trailer driven by Ray Valdez, 25 Salem, struck a pedestrian, Lloyd Groa, 53, Ridgefield, Wash., Monday and an autopsy was ordered to determine cause of his death.

Groa was dead on arrival at Portland General Hospital. A physician there said he apparently died of shock.

Valdez was driving for the Williams Truck Service of Silverton.

Binoculars Stolen

A pair of binoculars and leather carrying case valued at $22 were stolen from his car Monday morning while it was parked near Leslie School, LeRoy Wilson, 885 Janet St., reported to city police.

Japs Capture Red Boat on Rendezvous

TOKYO — A Russian motor boat seized 1 1/2 miles off the northern tip of Hokkaido Island Sunday was en route to a rendezvous with a Soviet agent who had been arrested in Japan earlier this month, the newspaper Asahi said Tuesday.

Japanese maritime safety officers trapped the vessel by flashing a light toward the sea, just as the admitted spy had been instructed to do, the newspaper reported.

Four members of the crew of the 25-ton "Raznoiz," headed by skipper Philip Panovitch Kulikov, 36, were handed over to authorities on suspicion of attempted illegal entry and violation of Japanese territorial waters, Asahi said.

Oregon Zoned For Handling Milk Control

PORTLAND — The State Board of Agriculture Monday divided Oregon into nine market zones for milk control purposes.

Price hearings are to be held in each zone twice a year.

The zones:

1—Clatsop, Tillamook, Lincoln, Coos, Curry and coastal areas in Lane and Douglas counties.

2—Columbia, Washington, Yamhill, Polk, Multnomah, Clackamas, Marion, Hood River and Wasco counties.

3—Benton, Linn and Lane counties.

4—Douglas, Josephine and Jackson counties.

5—Jefferson, Crook and Deschutes counties.

6—Klamath, Lane and Harney counties.

7—Gilliam, Morrow and Umatilla counties.

8—Union and Baker counties.

9—Malheur County.

The board also:

Decided, over the protest of some producers, to continue the Portland marketing pool and to expand it to include all of Zone 2.

Paper Claims O'Dwyer Wife Gains Divorce

MEXICO CITY — The morning newspaper Excelsior in a copy-righted story will say Tuesday that Sloan Simpson O'Dwyer bypassed Catholic Church approval and has obtained a Mexican civil divorce from former Ambassador William O'Dwyer.

Excelsior said the former New York model filed suit for divorce in Cuernavaca Feb. 18 and that the divorce was granted June 3.

Grounds for divorce were mental cruelty stemming from O'Dwyer's alleged irascible temper, Excelsior said.

Acorns From The Oak Rooms

"My gosh, here it is well into August, and I haven't yet given you the particulars on our forthcoming Fashion Luncheon. Guess I follow the pattern of most men, always wait to the last moment to inform that little woman of my plans, but as the old saying goes "Better Late Than Never." You can't really keep anything from the ladies anyway it seems, as the reservations for the Fashion Show on August 18th have been pouring in fast and furious. A good many Mother and Daughter duos are on the docket as John Johnson has arranged a showing of the latest in Back to School Fashions as well as many stylish numbers for Mother. So Mom, if you don't have time to call in your reservation I am sure that Daughter will be glad to oblige, perhaps she might even want to ask a friend or two and make a party of it. Luncheon is at 12:15, Fashion Show at 1:05 p. m., August 18th. Call The Marion Hotel for Reservations."

Indian Groups Appeal to Ike To Veto Bill

WASHINGTON — New appeals were made Monday to President Eisenhower to veto a bill that would give five states civil and criminal jurisdiction over Indians.

One protest came from Sam Akheah, chief of the Navajo Indian Tribal Council, who called the measure "oppressive and unjust."

The Congress of American Indians threw its weight back of a veto plea from the Paos Indian Pueblo of New Mexico. The Paos said that, among other things, they did not want to be "subjected to state politics."

Officials of the Congress said several other tribes either have asked preparing to do so.

The Association on American Indian Affairs already has gone on record against the legislation.

Specifically, the bill would grant jurisdiction over Indians within their borders to California; Minnesota; Nebraska; Oregon, with the exception of the Warm Springs Reservation; and Wisconsin, with the exception of the Menominee Reservation.

Radio, Video Men Discuss Price Code

Establishment of uniform prices for installation and repair of television and radio sets was the chief topic of discussion Monday night at a joint meeting of Salem TV and radio store operators and representatives of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, local 280, AF of L.

Also under discussion at the dinner meeting in the Hotel Marion was union organization of employees in Salem television and radio shops.

About 30 stores were represented. Members of the IBEW present included Burt Landon, business manager of the local, Louis duBuy, assistant manager in electronics field, and Carl Cummings, president of local 280.

Guest speaker was C. A. Vibbert, president of the Salem Chapter of the National Electrical Contractors Association.

Landon said there is currently a difference in repair and installation costs of TV and radio sets in the city and an attempt is being made to make these prices uniform.

It was pointed out at the meeting that "racketeers" who sold inferior sets and profited on repair and installation contracts have left Salem and business is "getting back to normal."
