Fate of 'Unholy Three' Known Soon

Yanks, Chisox Suffer Losses

Dodgers Capture 7th In Row; Nats Win 2

NEW YORK (AP)—Brooklyn held tight to its eight-game lead in the National League Saturday by slugging Pittsburgh 14-6 while Milwaukee blanked Chicago 2-0. The New York Yankees kept their six and a half game lead in the American when both the Yanks and Chicago White Sox lost.

The Dodgers rolled to their seventh straight victory on a 15-hit attack that included home runs by Roy Campanella, Bobby Morgan, Carl Furillo and Rube Walker.

Johnny Lindell hit a two-run pinch homer for the Pirates. Furillo also came through with a double and two singles for four straight hits, boosting his average to .338.

Warren Spahn threw a five-hitter for his 16th triumph. All the Braves ace needed was Joe Adcock's homer with a man on base off Bubba Church in the fourth inning.

The Philadelphia A's dumped the Yanks 9-8 on a winning double by Loren Baker, ex-Yank, in the ninth. Allie Reynolds, called to action in the eighth, suffered his first defeat as a relief pitcher since Aug. 22, 1951. He made 30 relief appearances in that span. The A's matched a four-run Yankee rally in the eighth and came on to win for Morris Martin.

Al Aber's brilliant relief pitching gave Detroit a 5-4 victory over Chicago to prevent the White Sox from gaining any ground. Aber allowed only one hit in 4-2-3 innings after he replaced starter Ted Gray in the fifth.

The only hit was a single by Bob Wilson in the eighth that meant nothing. Bob Nieman's tie-breaking homer in the second put the Tigers ahead to stay.

The New York Giants broke a six-game losing streak by beating Philadelphia in the first game 4-1, but dropped the second to Jim Konstanty's fine relief pitching 5-2.

Mary Grissom, 35-year-old American League refugee won the opener with a six-hitter. Then Konstanty turned back the Giants with two hits in the last 4-2-3 innings to earn an even split.

Washington dropped the Boston Red Sox twice 5-2 and 4-2 although the Red Sox did end Bob Porterfield's string of scoreless innings at 29 when they pushed over a run in the first inning of the second game. Chuck Stobbs won the opener with help from Sonny Dixon.

St. Louis and Cleveland were not scheduled in the American.

In the only night game in either league, the St. Louis Cardinals clubbed the Cincinnati Redlegs for a 10-4 victory and moved within a game of the third place Phillies.

Harvey Haddix hurled five ball for his 15th victory and smashed three hits himself but had to be taken out in the eighth when the Redlegs rallied.

The quick catch was made by the two anglers using spinning tackle, taking only one-half hour. Hardly time to get a line thoroughly soaked.

National AAU Men's Tourney Ends Today

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Burwell Jones chased by twin Scotsmen, broke his own American record Saturday in the 300-meter individual medley and won his sixth national AAU championship in the combination backstroke, breaststroke and freestyle event. His time was 3:46.2.

The University of Michigan husky set the old mark of 3:52.2 two years ago. He was pursued in Saturday's AAU championships feature by teammates Jack and Bert Wardrop from Motherwell, Scotland.

Another two-year-old record was tied in the six-event program in huge Broad Ripple Pool. John Dudeck, 19-year-old Michigan State College sophomore matched the AAU record of 1:08.4 in the 100-meter breaststroke. It was set by John Davies of Michigan.

Blond Bob Clotworthy of Mountaineer, N. J., former Ohio State performer, regained the 3-meter springboard diving championship he won in 1951 and lost last year to D. S. Browning of the University of Texas. Browning didn't compete.

The Cherry Point (North Carolina) Marine Fliers won the 300-meter medley relay, in 3:21.9, less than six seconds off the record.

With unattached swimmers not counting in the team scoring, the New Haven Swim Club led with 20 points going into Sunday's final session. The Cherry Point Marine Fliers had 16.

Penalties Due For Violations

Irish, Sparts, Tempe Said Guilty Schools

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Association's powerful council fiddled with track records and football television Saturday while speculation sizzled over the fate of three colleges expected to be socked for athletic code violations.

The so-called "unholy three" haven't been identified but grapevine reports are that they're Michigan State, Notre Dame and Arizona State at Tempe.

Walt Byers, executive director of the NCAA, said the council wouldn't get its teeth into these important matters until Sunday with an announcement not expected before Monday noon.

15 Originally Accused
Byers said 15 institutions originally were accused of athletic code violations but 11 were found innocent and another had its case returned to a membership sub-committee for further review. That leaves the mysterious three.

Notre Dame's predicament is said to stem from the Charley Sticka incident of last January. Sticka, a standout freshman full-back at little Trinity College in Hartford, Conn., showed up on the Notre Dame campus. Trinity's coach and officials accused the Irish of "robbery."

Notre Dame, contending it was all a misunderstanding, quickly advised Sticka he would be ineligible with the Irish. Sticka thereupon went back to New England.

CRAZY HAIRCUTS

Thriller Expected at Armory Tuesday Night As O'Reilly Goes After Stojack's Mat Title

The biggest mat feature of the summer—one that local fans have been waiting a long time for—comes Tuesday night at the Armory as Frank Stojack defends his Pacific Coast junior heavy-weight championship against Jack O'Reilly, the burly challenger from Australia.

O'Reilly, one of the most feared gladiators in the land and one of the best ever to come from "down under", earned the right to meet the champ after disposing of the Masked Marvel via two straight falls in last week's eliminations.

Stojack now divides his time between the mat game and duties of city councilman in Tacoma, but remains in top condition and is as dangerous as ever inside the ropes. The champion has the greatest airplane spin in the game and supplements that with a giant swing and a short arm scissors.

But O'Reilly himself is not exactly a blushing violet in the ring. Jack has gained wide respect from his opponents with ample use of a much-feared step over toe hold with face twist and a twisting hammerlock.

Add to these wicked weapons the fact that O'Reilly wants the crown badly—and it's plain that Stojack is in for a busy time Tuesday night.

Matchmaker Elton Owen has lined up a highly promising semi-final Tuesday night in person of Jack Kiser and John Henning. The ex-navy frogman. This tiff should also be a first-rate crowd pleaser.

The Masked Marvel comes back in the special against Greg Jacques, the capable Spaniard. This one shapes up as a real rough and tumble brawl. The 8:30 curtain-raiser pits Mr. Sakata against the fast-improving Danny O'Rourke.
