Lines are being drawn sharply across the Tualatin Valley, that lovely section west and south of Portland. Roughly, the division is between the upstream resi-dents who want flood control and irrigation and the people living along the lower river and adjacent Oswego Lake, who are fearful of change in water course or level or of possible assessments. In general, the division follows the county boundaries. Washington County residents appear to favor a proposed project while the Clackamas County folk op-pose it. Thus far no border guards have been posted along any 38th parallel or the Willamette Meridian, but the battle will be joined next Wednesday when a public hearing will be held in the high school auditorium

The army engineers have pre-pared a comprehensive plan dealing with water problems of the Tualatin Basin. The plan has been explained at numerous meetings and published in local newspapers. It contemplates ex-penditures for flood control ex-timated at $18,000,000, for iragation at $17,221,000, for domestic water supply about $2,000. 000. The government would be 80 per cent of the flood contra expenditure, the rest being as sessed to landowners. The lat ter would repay the government for its investment in irrigation works but would pay no interest during the payout period. Full Carleson, Rickreall; and Colleen reimbursement would be required for the domestic water supply outlay. A local water district or irrigation district would have to be created to provide lo- uring five Dallas Jaycee members cal cooperation.

Move Aimed To Heal Scar Of Rejection

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER WASHINGTON UM - The United States has decided to vote for India's Madame Pandit as president of the next U.N. General Assembly, which convenes in New York next

Officials hope this will help heal the scars left by this country's fight in the United Nations to block Indian membership in the project-ed political conference on Korea. State Department officials have been concerned that in winning a victory on this issue the United States might suffer losses in its relations with the Indian government and the Indian people that would play into the hands of Communist leaders seeking to extend their power in Asia. India Not Upset At the mc.aent, Washington fears about this seem to be greater than New Delhi's interest in the whole subject. News dispatches, which are understood to be in line with U.S. diplomatic reports, indicate th ' the Indian government and public opin-ion have not been very greatly up-set by the fight in the U.N. By HARRY P. SNYDER WASHINGTON A - Rep. Heller (D-NY) called the new Kinsey report "the insult of the century" Saturday and urged that it barred from the mails until Congress can investigate 1t.

He discharged a blast of criticism against Dr. Alfred C. Kinsey and the book, "Sexual Behavior in the Human Female," in a letter to Postmaster General Summerfield. Heller also announced he will ask the House next January to authorize an investigation to determine if the book is "of a salacious and lewd nature."

The latest Kinsey report, schedaled to go on sale at $8 a copy on Sept. 14, was reviewed extensively by newspaper and magazine critics last week. Heller told Summerfield that he has not seen the book himself but formed his opinions from reading extensive reports in the press. "From these reports," he wrote, 'I am convinced that we should discourage the spread of information such as is contained in the Kinsey book and I strongly ques-tion the advisability of allowing this book to go through the mails before a congressional committee has had a chance to examine it or before the Post Office Department has had the opportunity to determine whether the material contained therein is of a salacious and lewd nature."
