

U.N. Demands Reds Account for 3,404 PWs '... or Else'

944 U.S. Captives On List

By SAM SUMMERLIN
MUNSON — The Allies Tuesday emphatically demanded an accounting of 3,404 United Nations war prisoners believed held back by the Communists, including 944 Americans, and added ominously: "...or else."

The demand was made at a meeting of the Korean Armistice Commission. Gen. Blackshear M. Bryan, senior Allied armistice commissioner, submitted a carefully checked list to the Communist members and said those were the men believed still in Red prison stockades.

He added that, even discounting the 400 Allied captives whom the Communists say do not want to be repatriated, it still leaves about 3,000 men for whom he said the Communists were responsible.

"Prompt action," Bryan told the Red firmly. He said the list contained this breakdown by nationalities: 944 Americans, 2,410 South Koreans, 9 Australians, 19 British, 3 Canadians, 8 South Africans, 3 Belgians, 2 Columbians, 5 Turks and 1 Greek.

After the 1 hour 35-minute session, Bryan told correspondents: "The Communists have got to give an accounting of them — or else."

The general did not elaborate on the "or else." He said the Communist chief commissioner "reserved the right to comment on it (the list) later" but sharply criticized the Allies. Bryan said the Communist countered by demanding that the Allies return 27,000 North Korean prisoners set loose on orders from South Korean President Syngman Rhee in mid-June before the armistice was signed.

Names contained in the Allied list were not disclosed. Commission leaves. Another phase of the Korean armistice began to unfold with the departure of 74 members of the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission from Tokyo for Korea.

The Commission, including 50 Swedish, 22 Indian and 2 Swiss members, are to be joined in the demilitarized zone by members from Poland and Czechoslovakia. They will consider the disposition of nearly 23,000 Chinese and North Korean war prisoners who say they do not want to return home.

Also in their jurisdiction will be U.N. prisoners who the Reds say refuse repatriation, including 20 non-Koreans. To Reveal Names. A dispute has been brewing since the end of the 33-day prisoner exchange Sunday on the number of other prisoners believed held by the Reds. The names of the Americans on the list were to be announced in Washington.

Girl in Toilet Starts Czech, U.S. Incident

BERLIN — The United States and Czechoslovakia had a diplomatic skirmish Tuesday which was apparently started by a little German girl who accidentally locked herself in a toilet.

The Czech Military Mission here is located in the American sector next door to a children's home. Last Aug. 31 a West Berlin police car was sent to the Czech mission after a man reported he heard screams for help coming from the building.

Police investigation showed the screams actually came from a child in the home who had locked herself in. Tuesday the Prague radio said Czechoslovakia has protested to U.S. authorities in West Germany the "surrounding" of the Czech building by West German police.

The radio denounced the police action as designed to ridicule Czechoslovakia. It has the same purpose as the recently arranged riots in Berlin.

Nerve Inflammation Bothers Pope

VATICAN CITY — Vatican sources said Tuesday night Pope Pius has a slight nerve inflammation in his right arm and he will be unable to do any writing for several days.

Persons attending audiences at the Pope's summer residence at Castel Gandolfo have noticed recently that the pontiff has extended his left instead of his right hand for kissing of the ring.

TRUMAN DUE AT FUNERAL. KANSAS CITY — Former President Harry S. Truman's office announced Tuesday night he would attend the funeral of Chief Justice Fred Vinson in Washington Thursday.

One-Way Pattern May Begin Oct. 1

By ROBERT E. GANGWARE
City Editor, The Statesman

Salem may put additional one-way streets in operation by Oct. 1 when the remodeled Center Street bridge is due to reopen. Plan for an expanded one-way street system in downtown Salem gained preliminary approval of the Salem City Council Tuesday, but aldermen decided not to act on the necessary legislation until after a public hearing at City Hall Monday at 8 p.m.

Aldermen said they had heard nothing from citizens favoring or opposing the one-way grid since it was publicized in the past week.

Special Meeting
The street plan incorporated in the new legislation was developed by state and city engineers and at a special council meeting yesterday received the recommendation of City Manager J. L. Franzen, City Engineer J. H. Davis and the state highway officials.

The grid is generally bounded by Front, Union, 12th and Trade Streets, though those border streets remain two-way. Direction of traffic follows the alternating couplet pattern of present one-way streets.

State Highway Engineer R. H. Baldock told the Council Tuesday that the remodeled Willamette River bridge would be ready "no later than Oct. 1, possibly a week before then."

Nearing Completion
When both river spans are open, Center Street bridge will carry eastbound traffic and Marion Street bridge will carry westbound traffic, both connected with the new riverside roadway in West Salem, now nearing completion.

In the proposed one-way grid, westbound streets are Marion, as present, State Street from Winter Street to Front and Chemeketa Street from 12th to Front. Eastbound streets are Center Street, Court from Front to North Capitol Streets, Ferry from Front to Winter.

Additional Changes
Changes in north-south traffic would see one-way northbound traffic on North Capitol from Court Street north to Hollywood; extension of northbound North Liberty Street traffic restriction from Division to Broadway; reversal of traffic flow around Capitol Mall so southbound Summer Street traffic can continue south on west side of mall from Center to Court.

Other northbound streets are Church and Winter Streets. Southbound are High Street between Liberty and Trade, Cottage between Union and Trade.

Traffic lights would be installed at the Liberty-Broadway Streets junction and at Court and East Summer (mall) Streets. The city would install some added stop signs at affected intersections until such time when lights are put in.

OSC Dean's Wife Missing

CORVALLIS — Mrs. Margaret Zeran, 47, the wife of Dean Franklin R. Zeran of the school of education at Oregon State College, has been reported missing from her home here.

State and city police, who are cooperating in the search for the woman, said Zeran told them his wife left home in the family car Sunday morning and has not been heard from since.

Zeran said he thought at first she had driven to the nearby store. When she did not return police were notified.

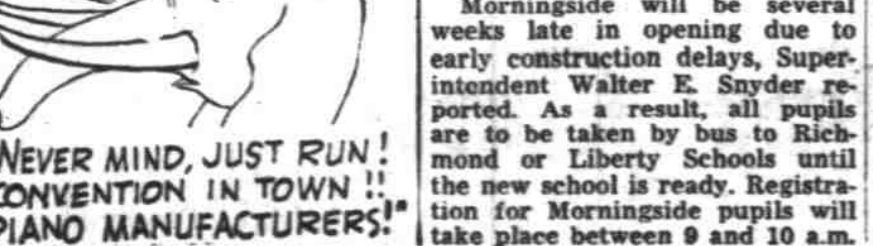

Zeran said he did not know why his wife might have left.

Early Fog, Later Sun On Weather Schedule

Wednesday was scheduled for a bluish of early morning fog according to predictions by U. S. weathermen, but the afternoon and Thursday are expected to be sunny. Highest temperature Tuesday was 77 degrees and the lowest 59. Temperatures today were expected to range about the same.

Eugene Youth Back From Solo Tour of Sweden

NEW YORK — Teddy Lee Berg, 14, Eugene, Ore., returned to the United States Tuesday after a tour of Sweden and visit with the King of Sweden.

Berg, who earned money for the trip by raising pigs and calves and selling newspapers at Eugene, said he talked with the king about three minutes last June 27 at Varnland on the king's estate.

He said he also took 10 photographs of the king. The youth made the trip alone.

Asked what his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Berg, thought of his lone trip, the boy said, "They thought I would make it or else they would not have let me go."

Carpenters Union Returns To AFL Fold

WASHINGTON — The Carpenters Union Tuesday ended a 24-day walkout from the American Federation of Labor by returning to the AFL fold.

The peace pact bringing the 822,000-member carpenters' group back into AFL affiliation was negotiated by a committee from the union and one representing the AFL's Executive Council.

A statement issued by AFL President George Meany and Maurice A. Hutcheson, president of the Carpenters Union, said they had agreed to urge the AFL convention meeting in St. Louis beginning Sept. 21 to adopt some method of settling squabbles between rival AFL unions.

Lack of machinery for handling such scraps was the reason given by Hutcheson for pulling the carpenters out of the AFL at a meeting of the Federation's Executive Council in Chicago on Aug. 12.

Ham Burns in Cafe at Fair

About $100 worth of hog at the State Fair, off the hoof and laying in an oven, was destroyed by fire Tuesday when one of the Golden Pheasant restaurant employees there forgot to turn an oven off.

The fire, created by the overheated hams, was extinguished by firemen located on the fair grounds. No other damage resulted, they said.

Another fire put out by the fairgrounds firemen Tuesday was at John Boston's Grill when a deep fat fryer suddenly blazed up. An overhead metal canopy prevented more serious damage by fire, firemen explained. Badly burned was an electric motor and the fryer.

Twins Born to Salem Couple

Two boys were born to Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Boyd of 1915 Berry St., at Salem General Hospital and both the youngsters were described as "doing fine" Tuesday night.

The twins bring the Boyd family to three which includes two-year-old Marsha at home. They were weighed in at 6 lbs., 8 1/2 oz. and 6 lbs., 12 1/2 oz. and are named Donald Phillip and Michael Wallace. Daddy, a correctional officer at the State Penitentiary, was said to be fine Tuesday night, too, and Mrs. Boyd was resting nicely, authorities said.

School Board Plans Deferred Morningside School Opening

Salem School Board Tuesday night planned for a deferred opening of new Morningside elementary school, an expanded school lunch program and other phases of the new school year starting Sept. 21.

And looking to the future the board set an Oct. 6 bid opening date for the new administration building at Ferry and 13th Streets and reported continued negotiations with the city over long-proposed widening of D Street.

'Junior Judges' Show Approval of Cake

By LILLIE L. MADSEN
Farm Editor, The Statesman

Mrs. O. W. Olson, prettily dressed and youthful-looking grandmother, was on the State Fairgrounds Tuesday afternoon shortly after she was notified at her Silverton home that for the third time she was the fair's Queen of the Kitchen.

Mrs. Olson's reaction was complete surprise this time, as she stammered that "I just can't believe it," in reply to the announcement. Baking light breads is Mrs. Olson's biggest forte, she modestly admitted, adding that she did "like to make most everything."

To win her title she garnered 105 points, with 11 firsts, 14 seconds, and eight thirds in breads, cakes, cookies, candies and canned foods.

Mrs. Olson won her title for the first time in 1948 and repeated in 1950. Last year she was in second place, topped by Mrs. Donald Hood of Gervais, who was fourth this year.

Mrs. Thomas D. Pomeroy, 3935 River Crest, Salem, who was third last year, tallied 89 points for second place this year, and Mrs. Dale Mallico, 2475 Fisher Road, Salem, was in third place.

Mrs. John Schwizer of Tillamook, topped the canners with Mrs. Blanche Critser, Canby, second place.

Attendance Tally
With pleasant weather throughout the day at the fairgrounds, attendance topped last year's gate during the day, with the 6 p.m. count at 8,648 against last year's 8,583 at the same hour.

With nightfall, however, attendance dropped again, and at 7 o'clock was 500 under the 1952. Final count for the 1953 Tuesday gate was 14,560 against last year's total of 14,953. Last year's Tuesday rodeo attendance was 2,050, the smallest day of the week, and compared with the 1953 Tuesday crowd of 1,540, while revue figures this year were 2,850 which compared to the 1952 Tuesday revue attendance of 3,036.

Jersey Queen
Mrs. Olson wasn't the only queen named during the day. Mildred Oman of Scholls was named State Jersey Queen in that dairy breeds' annual royalty selection. Five princesses who paid her honor were Glanda Curtis, Astoria; Pamela Baker of Monmouth; Gloria Sturges, Albany; Verna Hickey of Silverton and Charlotte Finnigan of Oregon City.

Fourth Jersey heifer awards were also made during the day to outstanding 4-H and FFA boys. The Oregon Jersey Cattle Club presented a calf to Gordon Stobel of Prineville, the calf being presented by Herbert Coleman of Woodburn. Gary Turner, 4-H, Bend, won the heifer given by Floyd Bates of Salem. The Fred Meyer, Inc., awards went to Fred Mueller, Albany, 4-H youth, and Lynn Rasmussen of Wy-East FFA chapter. Course of True Love Not Smooth

BUTTE, Mont. — In the altercation, the girl picked up a beer bottle and bashed her boy friend over the head early Tuesday. The bottle shattered, cutting his face and her hand.

They repaired to a Butte hospital for treatment — and apparently by time to cool off. Police reported: "They apologized to each other, kissed and left the hospital arm in arm."

2 Held in Mehama Burglary

Statesman News Service

TURNER—Four burglaries, including the Sunday night Mehama entry, were believed cleared late Tuesday night with the arrest of two young Turner men.

Lodged in Marion County jail in lieu of bail Tuesday were Dale Zitic, 23, and Bobby Stilwell, 18. Arrest of the duo ended several days and nights of searching and investigation by state and county officers.

Recovered after the arrest was $350 in cash and much of the loot from the four burglaries at the Frere's Lumber Company in Jefferson (Sept. 1); the Aumsville Central Sawmill and Manufacturing Company (Sept. 2); the W. J. Roberts Grocery Store at Aumsville (last Friday), and the Ken Collier general store at Mehama Sunday night, officers explained.

Car in Hiding
The recent wave of burglaries in the Willamette Valley has plagued county and state officers. Marion County Sheriff Denver Young explained that he and his deputies had been suspecting that something would "break" in the Sublimity area and had been hiding in a car there for several nights. Saturday night a car with three young men drove back and forth through the town and after one such pass they stopped them. One of the men was Zitic, the sheriff said.

A further check of Zitic and his residence in Turner resulted in the arrest and apprehension of Stilwell. Only $350 Found. Young explained that the only cash recovered was the $350. Young, a deputy, State Police Sgt. Robert E. Baker and State Patrolman Robert Dunn apprehended the pair Tuesday night.

Highly Dangerous Patient Escapes From Hospital

State, county and city authorities were alerted Tuesday that Roy Enberg, 54, of Astoria, had escaped from the criminally insane ward at the Oregon State Hospital sometime during the day.

State records indicate Enberg is highly dangerous. He escaped by jumping down a laundry chute, hospital attendants explained. He is described as 6 feet tall, 205 lbs., dark blue eyes (one blackened from a recent fight at the hospital), brown hair and when last seen he was wearing blue pants and shirt, the regular hospital uniform.

Stevenson Says Foreign Policy 'Not Bipartisan'

NEW YORK — Adlai Stevenson says our present foreign policy is not in the least bipartisan, is losing us prestige abroad and is a "likely target" for the Democrats in 1954.

"I hope that if it is attacked," he adds, "it is attacked constructively, not just with epithets like 'bungling' which was a favorite expression of the Republicans a year ago."

SCHOOL SIGN-UP HIGH

PORTLAND — Portland schools opened Tuesday with a record enrollment of 58,842, about 4,000 above the first day registration last year. Officials said they expected the final enrollment to be about 61,000.

Farmers Face Boxcar Shortage in Mid-Valley

By LILLIE L. MADSEN
Farm Editor, The Statesman
Farmers who have been faced with a difficult harvest season, are now facing a shortage of cars in the Willamette Valley, George Dewey, executive secretary of the Oregon Farm Bureau Federation said Tuesday while visiting the state fair.

Both the Valley Farmers Co-op at Silverton and the Pratum Warehouse were turning away grain haulers Tuesday, Dewey said, and added that a telephone conversation with Buchanan-Cellers confirmed a report from there that this warehouse had only enough cars for one more day for bulk grain.

A check revealed that Marion County alone needed 186 cars for the rest of the month to handle the late harvest. In a break down this showed that Aurora needed 25; Buchanan-Cellers, 35; Woodburn Feed and Seed Warehouse, 40; Pratum, 70 cars; and Valley Farmers around 15. On Tuesday five Marion county warehouses received nine cars out of the 37 ordered. The cars that came in Tuesday went two each to Mt. Angel, Pratum, and Woodburn, with three going to Amity. Mt. Angel, after building its new warehouse this past year on the Oregon Electric Railway, was no longer having difficulties.

Salem Boy Hurt In Fall From Trail At Crater Lake

William Karsten Jr., 17-year-old son of William Karsten Sr., Salem Route 3, is in a satisfactory condition in Valley Hospital, Klamath Falls, recovering from injuries suffered in a fall from a trail at Crater Lake Sunday.

His father returned to Salem from Klamath Falls Monday and reported that young Karsten suffered a slight concussion and a possible slight internal injury. He will be hospitalized for at least a week.

Karsten and two companions were hiking along a trail from Rim Village when the accident occurred. He lost his footing and fell about 60 feet, Karsten Sr. said. He was rescued by a ranger.
