Verbal Elbow Straightener

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Are you one of those uninformed persons who raises a glass and says "skold?" Well, Capt. K. Vadum of Norway, skipper of a freighter Grindesjell which is touring the Great Lakes, says you might as well say "glass." It'd be the same thing.

"Skold" is the Norwegian word for a big wooden bowl from which ancient Vikings once drank, saying this as they lifted it. So, the next time you drink from a crock, for instance, be accurate, say "crock."

If your drinking partner doesn't figure you're calling him "crock," he'll doubtless be impressed.

Trophy Taker Sets Glad Show For Home Folk

Statesman News Service
SILVERTON—Harvey Hallett, who has taken the majority of championships in west coast gladiolus shows this summer, is going to have a show for the home folk at Silverton Saturday from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. The showing will be held in the Stiff Building on South First Street.

With his flowers, Hallett will display the trophies and gifts he has won in the different shows so far this year.

Included in the Silverton grower's winning are nine firsts at the Portland show; two championships at Yakima; a grand champion, for best of recent introductions and the best basket display at Grants Pass, and all top places at the recent State Fair. He also topped the show at Everett, Wash.

While Hallett's Mid-America has in recent years won him the championships at showings, other varieties placed this year. Margery, a deep rose won the purple in the recent introductions. Heirloom was tops at Second A Champion at Grants Pass. Another pink, Nellie Lou, was the State Fair's champion and Trivoli, a big pink, was top at Everett.

Italy has about 412 people per square mile.

Central High School Plans Freshman Day

Statesman News Service
INDEPENDENCE — School bells will ring for freshmen of Central High School at 1 p.m., Saturday. The session is a phase of the freshman orientation program. Purpose is to help freshmen adjust to the high school routine and feel a little less "green" on their first day of classes.

When freshmen arrive Saturday, upperclassmen will greet them and direct them to their homerooms.

Each homeroom will be presided over by an upperclassman acting as a substitute for the regular homeroom teacher. The Girl's League, a service organization, headed by Sylvia Watson, president, is in charge of the teacher substitutes for the homerooms and for the various freshman classes.

In the homerooms, the student handbook will be distributed. In this the freshmen will find answers to questions about school procedures. Then students will be assigned lockers and will attend classes for which they registered last spring. Each class, will be 10 minutes in length for this first session.

The afternoon will be climaxed by a pep assembly. Freshmen will be welcomed by Jerry Noble, student body president, and by Marlene Wilson, president of the Pep club. School assembly procedures and school traditions will be explained.

School yells will be taught freshmen by the varsity yell leaders, Carol Pippin, Barbara Pippin, Pat Posey, Judy Stapleton and by the junior varsity yell leaders, Rahna Harpole, Karen Katter, Sharon Osburn, and Josie Gray.

Public Offered Private Music Lessons at OCE

Statesman News Service
MONMOUTH — Through a change of policy Oregon College of Education is making available to high school students private lessons in voice, piano, organ and selected brass instruments beginning with fall term registration on Monday, according to Dr. Robert J. Maaske, president.

Maaske said, "We feel that the college can render an added service to musically inclined high school students, as well as adults, in the commuting area, through making this opportunity available to those prospective students interested."

The fee per term of 10 weeks without college credit is $22.50 for one half-hour lesson weekly and $37.50 for this period for two one-half hour lessons weekly. Persons desiring and eligible for college credit will pay an additional fee.

Those desiring to register for private lessons should confer with Mrs. Denise Redden of the college music department Monday.
