

Miss Genevieve Ashford Bride Of John Topping on Sunday

The First Presbyterian Church was the scene of a beautiful wedding ceremony on Sunday afternoon when Miss Genevieve Emily Ashford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Ward Ashford, became the bride of John Stanley Topping, son of Mrs. Robert C. Topping.

It was at 3 o'clock that the Rev. B. J. Holland officiated at the nuptials before a setting of yellow and orchid chrysanthemums.

Frank Groh of Portland, the bride's sister, was the soloist and Mrs. Ralph Dobbs the organist.

Three attendants preceded the bride to the altar. Mrs. Frank J. Dye was her sister's matron of honor and Mrs. Groh the bridesmaid. They wore yellow dresses fashioned with lace bodices designed with a nylon yoke and full length skirts of nylon net over tulle. They had matching lace mitts and carried colonial nosegays or orchid and yellow chrysanthemums with an orchid frill.

Linda Lee Dye, the bride's niece, was the junior attendant and she wore a lavender lace and nylon net frock made identical to the other attendants. She carried a miniature nosegay with a yellow frill.

Net and Lace Gown

Of white nylon net and lace was the handsome bridal gown fashioned redingote style. The strapless floor length gown of net was designed with an inset of lace down the front of the full skirt. The lace redingote was made with long sleeves and Peter Pan collar. Tudor style cap of nylon tulle held in place her fingertip illusion veil. She carried a white prayer book marked with a purple throated white orchid.

O. T. Logan stood with the groom as best man. Seating the guests were H. E. Ashford of Seaside and Jason F. Ashford, brothers of the bride, Frank J. Dye and Jesse Jones.

For her daughter's nuptials Mrs. Ashford chose a mink brown crepe afternoon gown with beige and brown accessories. Mrs. Topping selected a peacock blue wool costume dress with brown accessories. Their corsages were of pink rosebuds.

The newlyweds greeted their guests at a reception in the church dining room. Bouquets of asters and zinnias in the autumn shades were arranged about the room and the bride's table was covered with a green cloth. Yellow roses and smilax encircled the cake.

Presiding at the coffee urns were Mrs. Glenn F. Powers and Mrs. Sidney Powers of Molalla, cousins of the bride. Mrs. Verne L. Atkinson cut the cake. Assisting were Mrs. Richard Christpher, Mrs. Alden Addie, Mrs. Don Humphries, Miss Colleen Powers of Corvallis, the bride's cousin, Miss Marion Mulcahy, Mrs. Jason Ashford and Mrs. James Gemmill, who passed the guest book.
