

Trio of Viking Touchdown Makers Set for Albany

This trio of Salem High football backs, who have helped the Vikings rack 21-0 and 40-0 wins in their first two games, next face the Albany Bulldogs Friday night at Waters Field, the home and district opener for the Salems. From left to right are Quarterback Herb Triplett, Fullback Terry Salisbury and Halfback Mike Campbell. All are lettermen.

That was a nice throng OCE's Wolves and SOCE's Raiders drew for the Myrtle Bowl Shrine clash at Coos Bay (reports varied from 3,000 up to 6,500 persons) . . . While happy in their 40-14 victory, Bill McArthur, John Chamberlain and the assorted OCE personnel are also wondering how come they were subjected to so many boos from the assemblage . . . After tallying two touchdowns in the first four minutes, seemed like the OCE's got the razberries every time they turned around . . . And, mind you, from what was supposed to be a strictly neutral crowd . . .

Booing is most times distasteful but particularly so in a benefit contest where athletes are risking their profiles for the sake of a bunch of crippled children . . . Eugene followers of the Webfoots were in an extremely frustrating situation last Saturday. Here the Oregon-Nebraska fracas was the TV Game of the Week—BUT no TV in Eugene . . . So you found a number of folk from the Lane County metropolis heading north to rent video-equipped motels in the Salem area . . . Maybe six bucks rental for a couple hours of screen-peering. But most of 'em likely would have dished out ten times that amount for the privilege . . .

Mel Allen and Lindsay Nelson did a fine job in the TVing of the Nebraska contest. But Mel, a product of the eastern seaboard, had a fault in common with most of the rest of 'em when he insisted on calling Len Casanova's men the AR-egons . . . Incidentally, the eloquent Allen again will be in on the World Series 'casting next week . . .

The All-Time Wow Here . . .

Rasslers, Fans in Hot Brawl During Mat Card

There'll be no more triple tag team mat brawls at the Armory. At least not until the one of last night cools off. Even Matchmaker Elton Owen deems the "triples" too tough on rasslers and fans alike. Last night's wound up in the granddaddy of all riots at the Ferry Street Garden. And for a time it appeared that it would take half the village police force to again restore peace.

The Tony Ross-Luther Lindsay-John Henning team was doing battle with the Eric Pederson-Jack O'Riley-Red Vagnone trio. It was the first triple tag team ever held here. And it was out of control of both Referees Harry Elliott and Danno McDonald almost from the beginning.

All six grapplers were in the ring in a maze of mayhem when Henning was declared winner over Vagnone for the first fall. Ross took one of the worst beatings about the face ever seen in the local ring—all three members of the meanie side took turns teasing off on him.

When blood spurted from Ross' wounds, the packed crowd grew irate. No fireworks took place after Ross was finally pinned for the second fall, and the three villains remained in their corner throughout the intermission.

Ross had to be carried from the premises, a bloody mess. Doctor's orders kept him from returning for the third fall.

When the three started teasing off on Henning in the final fall, the more excitable fans started climbing into the ring to help out. Then is when the most rip-sporting few minutes in Armory history took place.

Fans, rasslers and referees were swinging, bouncing and flying all over the ring. One fan was physically thrown out, over the top rope. Another—and a little guy at that—had Pederson down and was giving the blond bicepper a real tussle, as other fans hammered on him from outside the ring.

The uproar brought Ross booming back into the ring to join the melee, and he more than got even with his assailants. In fact just about everyone did before it was through.

Vagnone and O'Riley finally had enough of the unadvertised war, and took off on the dead

Preps, Silverton Blaze Trail to 40-18 Win Before 1,000 Fans

ESTACADA—(Special)—Mt. Angel's Preps and the Silverton Silver Foxes led the Souths to one-sided 40-18 victory over the Norths Tuesday night in the annual Willamette Valley League Football jamboree, played before slightly more than 1,000 fans and students.

Mt. Angel, led by a flashy halfback named Darrell Fershwiler, sent the visitors roaring far to the front with a 20-0 verdict over Canby's Cougars in their quarter of action after Woodburn's Bulldogs and the Estacada Rangers had opened the proceedings by battling to a 6-6 deadlock in the No. 1 period.

Molalla's Indians got the Norths back into contention by blanking the Dallas Dragons 12-0 in the third quarter of action, but Silverton sewed it up for the Souths via a 14-0 decision over Sandy's Pioneers, as Quarterback Dean Stiles took the limelight.

Mt. Angel's Fershwiler, probably the outstanding back on the field Tuesday night, tallied all three of the Preps' touchdowns on runs of 20, three and 45 yards. Tom Traeger booted the two Mt. Angel extra points. Jerry Miles scampered 65 yards for Canby in a drive that sputtered out on the enemy 12.

A 31-yard pass play from Del Kiggins to brother Ron Kiggins accounted for Estacada's touchdown in the initial period. Woodburn came back to knot it up via an aerial from Jerry Plank to Gene Ficek, good for 70 yards. Neither team uncorked any other material threats. A 34-yard pass involving the same Kiggins combination set up the Estacada scoring aerial. The entire drive was good for 74 yards.

Molalla Back Scores

Len Fyre punched three yards, capping a 43-yard march, to give Molalla the first score against Dallas. The second Indian six-pointer resulted when Ray Howell bulled five yards after Molalla took over on downs on the enemy 23. The Dragons best drive of the mix, to the Molalla 20, was ruined by a fumble.

Stiles passed 13 yards to Jim Black for the initial Silverton score against Sandy and the Silver Foxes' quarterback went three yards for the second TD, culminating a 54-yard thrust. Stiles also kicked both Silverton conversions.

One strong Sandy drive was thwarted by a fumble and the Pioneers also were hurt by a blocked punt.

The Jamboree served as a warmup for the Willamette Valley League campaign openers Friday night which finds Molalla at Dallas, Mt. Angel at Canby, Sandy at Silverton and Estacada at Woodburn.

KOCO Meet This Weekend

The annual KOCO Shortstop Golf Tournament, one of the most popular events on the local links calendar, will pull a throng of entries to Salem Golf Club this Saturday and Sunday in pursuit of numerous merchandise prizes.

Red Smith of KOCO, the tourney director, announces that the field will include around 100 swingers. The field will be divided into flights according to abilities. Smith reports that pairings will be made this evening.

Saturday's first action will consist of two rounds of nine holes each. Two more nines are slated Sunday. Local merchants are donating the many prizes.

The top flight will consist of 16 divoters.

Viking, Oregon State Ducats at Wicklund's

Reserved section tickets for Salem High's four scheduled football games at Waters Field, starting with Friday night's clash with Albany, are now on sale at Wicklund's Sporting Goods Store, 372 State St. They are $4 per ticket, and the supply is limited.

Also, Wicklund's has tickets for the Saturday Oregon State vs. California game at Portland, as well as ducats for other Oregon State and U of Oregon games for the 1953 season.

Bears' Defense Satisfies Coach

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—The defense of the California Golden Bears is beginning to shape up to the point where some attention can be paid to offense, Coach Lynn Waldorf opined Tuesday.

Waldorf said he would hold an offensive scrimmage Wednesday after working the Bears on defense for two days.

Waldorf said that Jim Kotler, tackle who broke his finger in the Baylor game last week, will not be able to play against Oregon State at Portland Saturday.

Tough Tussle Seen for Viks With Albany Here Friday

The first District 8 football class of the season for the undefeated Salem Vikings, with Albany's Bulldogs at Waters Field Friday night, is expected to be anything but easy for Coach Lee Gustafson's free-wheeling Viks despite the fact that they have rolled up 61 points, to exactly 'V' for the opposition in their first two games.

Stan Crech's Bulldogs, annually one of the top rivals for the Vikings, and one that holds its own against Salem football are sure to be an ugly mood Friday The Bulldogs have dropped their first two games, to Central Catholic of Portland and to Lebanon. They'll be "up" for the Vikings, for sure.

Crech has practically an all-letterman starting lineup with a line average of 176 pounds, to 162½ in the backfield. The Vikings are just about as big in both departments.

At ends the Bulldogs have Ted Abernethy, a 165-pounder, and Dave Shelby, a whopping 220-pounder. Shelby can also play tackle. The Albany tackles are 175-pound Don Bremer and 190-pound Ray Fisher. The guards are Co-Captain Bill Johnson at 160 and Eugene Fisher at 155. The center is Dick Kropp, 165. The line is Dave Ludlow, 164, does the Bulldog quarterbacking in the T-formation offensive system Czech uses. At halfbacks are Co-Captain Dan Casebier at 155-pounds and Bob Amble, 165, a transfer from Nyssa High. The fullback is Bruce Ridinger, 165-pounder.

Stayton Bows 12-0; Crusaders Tally Six Points for Norths

Sam Bell's Central Panthers were the big factors Tuesday night as the Souths knocked off the Norths 12-6 in the annual Capitol League Grid Jamboree at Waters Park. The six-school affair was enacted before a turnout of around 600 persons.

The 'Jam' consisted of three 20 minute contests, split into 10 minute halves.

The first mix of the evening saw the Panthers top Stayton's Eagles 12-0, with a 75-yard scoring run by John Clark the big feature. In fact that was the longest jaunt of the entire evening. In the program's second clash Leo Grosjacques' Sacred Heart Cardinals of the North scrapped to a scoreless tie with Bob Stewart's Cascade Cougars.

Bob Fuhk's Salem Academy Crusaders tallied the only points for the Norths in the final encounter as they tripped Philomath 6-0.

Central, which appears to be one of the strong threats for the Capitol League crown in its maiden season as a member of the circuit's grid lineup, saw first Clark go the 75 yards to put 'em to the fore against Fred Graham's Eagles. They added padding to their margin in the second ten minutes of the fray when Bob Nelson flipped a pass to End John Freeman that was good for 55 yards for the second touchdown.

McClain Scores

Salem Academy and Philomath, penalized frequently, gained little yardage in their opening ten minutes, but in the second "half" Quarterback Virgil Fadenrecht's passing sparked the Crusaders in a 75-yard thrust that was capped when Halfback Kenny McClain scored from the two.

Sacred Heart's best opportunity in the scrap with Cascade came fairly early in their engagement on a 40-yard drive down to the enemy 20. A pass interception ruined the effort. Cascade marched to the Cardinal 10 late in the contest, only to be stopped by the clock.

At the end of each "game" Tuesday night, the succeeding foes took over the ball at the point where play was ended in the preceding mix.

Toronto or Montreal? . . .

2 Canadian Cities Said Best Bets for Browns

NEW YORK (AP)—A major league baseball executive predicted Tuesday that St. Louis Browns franchise would be transferred to either Toronto or Montreal within the next few weeks.

The baseball official, who asked not to be identified, told the Associated Press he "understood" the American League owners favored the Browns' shift to either of the two Canadian cities over Baltimore. All three cities are currently members of the International League.

A meeting to discuss the Brownie situation is scheduled for Sunday, Sept. 27, in New York. A four-man committee met in Chicago recently with American League president Will Harridge and Bill Veeck, president of the Browns, and announced it would recommend the Browns' franchise be moved out of St. Louis.

"There are at least three clubs who definitely will vote against moving the Browns to Baltimore," the informant said. "Clark Griffith of Washington and the Macks of Philadelphia don't want Veeck in between them, under any circumstances. Don't expect the Yankees to vote for Baltimore, either. They've been trying to peddle the Kansas City franchise off to Veeck, who wants no part of it."

"The way I understand it, the Philadelphia Athletics are eying Baltimore themselves for a possible move there in the future."

"It's my guess the Browns will be in Toronto next year. I'd say it is a 60-40 proposition right now between Toronto and Montreal, with the odds favoring Toronto."

The informant scoffed at any idea the Browns, or any other major league franchise, would be shifted to the Pacific Coast this winter.

60th Ebbets Field Victory

Reynolds Looks Good; Satchel in Triumph On '46th' Birthday

NEW YORK (AP)—The pennant winning Brooklyn Dodgers said goodbye to Ebbets Field Tuesday until the World Series by equalling the best home record ever made in the National League.

The Dodgers edged Pittsburgh 5-4 for their 60th victory in 77 home games. Only the St. Louis Cardinals of 1942 ever have done as well.

Brooklyn's overall victory total now is 103, one short of the club's all time mark set in 1942 when it finished second to St. Louis. The Dodgers have three games left in Philadelphia this weekend.

Allie Reynolds of the New York Yankees warmed up for his World Series job by striking out 11 men in seven innings against the Philadelphia Athletics. He gave up only two hits.

The Yanks beat the A's 7-2 with both Philadelphia runs coming off Bob Kuzava who took over in the eighth inning. Gus Zernial hit his 42nd home run for the Athletics.

47TH FOR MATHEWS

Milwaukeeke split a doubleheader in St. Louis, winning the first game 4-3 on home runs by Eddie Mathews, his 47th, and Joe Adcock, and losing the second 10-7 as the Cards rallied for five runs in the sixth and three in the seventh.

Fred Baczewski, traded by Chicago to Cincinnati early in the season, shut out his former mates 1-0 on six hits in the first game of a doubleheader at Cincinnati for his 11th victory against three defeats. The Cubs won the second three defeats. The Cubs won the second game 4-1 on a three-run homer by Bill Serena.
