

Western Bohemian Fraternal Anniversary Noted at Mill City

Statesman News Service
MILL CITY—The thirtieth anniversary of the Western Bohemian Fraternal Association of Mill City was celebrated Sunday with an all-day meeting here at the WBFA lodge hall.
A business meeting for the Oregon district of WBFA convened in the morning with Charles Dolezal of Mill City, president, presiding. There were reports from delegates from lodges in Scio, Richardson Gap, Malin, Portland and Albany. Mrs. Olga McCellen, district organizer, from Seattle, spoke.
Officers elected were Charles

Dolezal, Mill City, president; John Tannich, Albany, vice-president; Joe Talfous, Portland, Czech secretary; and Mrs. Jack Carey, Mill City, English secretary.
A dinner at noon was served by Mrs. Charles Dolezal, Mrs. Joe Podrabsky, Mrs. Joe Toman, Mrs. Wendell Heller and Mrs. Jack Carey.
Of the original 17 charter members, six were present for the anniversary celebration Sunday. They were Mr. and Mrs. Anton Moravec, Mrs. Mary Fencil, Charles Dolezal, Carl Podrabsky, and Frank Rada.

Opening Near For Mill City Kindergarten

Statesman News Service
MILL CITY—With the acquisition of a desirable building, plans are being made for the opening of the P-TA-sponsored kindergarten early in October.
About 40 children have already been registered and it is expected that there will be additional late registration. Mrs. Elaine Kiersey, who is conducting the morning session, will begin her classes on Thursday, Oct. 1. The afternoon class, under the guidance of Mrs. Agnes Allen, will hold first classes on Monday, Oct. 5.
The house secured for use of kindergarten is located on Douglas street, in Shepherd's addition. It is the former home of the Courtland Rues. Tuition for kindergarten is $6.50 a month.

Dick Haymes Gets 7-Minute Divorce, to Marry Rita Today

By JAMES BACON
LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Crooner Dick Haymes got a divorce in seven minutes Wednesday from Nora Eddington Flynn Haymes, then two hours later obtained a license to wed Rita Hayworth.
They plan to marry Thursday. Told that four minutes is the local record for an unbitching in this quickie divorce town, Haymes told a reporter:
"If I had known I had a chance for the record, I would have talked faster."
Dist. Judge Frank B. Gregory of Carson City granted the decree to the singer after Haymes and two witnesses testified. Mrs. Haymes was represented by counsel but he asked no questions and raised no objections.
"Incompatibility"
Haymes testified that his third marriage fell apart because "of general incompatibility."

Prompted by his attorney, Harry Claiborne, Haymes said, "I couldn't live with her and enjoy good health. I couldn't tackle my work with a clear head. I lost weight. I couldn't sleep."
He added, "Mrs. Haymes became indifferent toward our marriage relationships and refused to go with me on my tours. It caused many arguments."
Rita was not present at the divorce hearing. In fact, she was just getting out of bed about the time Dick was getting freed from Nora.
Visibly tense
At the license bureau she was visibly tense as she wrote out her application.
"I feel so nervous," said the thrice-wed actress.

When County Clerk Helen Scott Reed asked Haymes for the final $5 license fee, Miss Hayworth quipped: "Have you got it?" Haymes had it.
The singer seemed just as nervous as his bride-to-be. He stumbled momentarily over the spelling of his own name.
But both chatted affably with reporters as they left. Haymes said they planned no honeymoon because "I have to work. I have to make some money."

Rita's final words to newsmen "This one is for keeps."

Hubbard Church To Use Parsonage As Parish Hall

Statesman News Service
HUBBARD — The congregation of the Hubbard Community Church recently voted to use the present parsonage as a parish hall. The house lends itself well to this new function but required certain things to be put in good working shape. The church building committee listed the most pertinent needs and Saturday members and friends of the church started the necessary work inside and outside. Following a no-host supper donations for labor, materials and money were listed to further the work on the parish hall. These needs may be volunteered by individuals or groups and will be appreciated.
