'Hi Ike' Welcomes President On Opening of Visit in Canada

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
OTTAWA, Ont. (AP)—President Eisenhower got a warm "Hi Ike" welcome on his arrival in this capital of Canada Friday for official talks, an address to Parliament and a round of good neighbor visiting.

The President stepped from the private car of his special train shortly before noon. He was greeted by Gov. Gen. Vincent Massey, by Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent and other officials.

With Mrs. Eisenhower at his side, the President smiled and declared he was glad to be in Canada again.

Saturday morning the President will go before Parliament for an address which he has said will deal with matters of mutual interest to the United States and Canada.

The Canadian welcome began at the border early Friday morning when an Ottawa delegation headed by L. B. Pearson, Canada's foreign secretary, and the U. S. ambassador, R. Douglas Stuart, met the presidential party at Rouses Point, N. Y.

Eisenhower was still in his berth when the train came to a halt on the American side of the border. But a few minutes later he stepped out on the rear platform looking sleepy-eyed and wearing light blue pajamas under a burgundy robe.

"Hi, back there," he called to a crowd of about 100 townspeople who had turned out in the chilly weather in the hope of catching a glimpse of him.

"I'm sorry I'm not dressed," Eisenhower apologized.

Then he remarked with a shriver

"It's cold out here," waved good-bye and ducked back inside.

The President's train arrived at Union Station here 15 minutes behind schedule. A moment after it stopped, the chief executive and Mrs. Eisenhower, whose 57th birthday is Saturday, moved out on the back platform.

A burst of applause from the assembled dignitaries greeted them. The President wore a black overcoat with a white muffler and carried a black homburg in his hand.

Mrs. Eisenhower was pert in a small, bright green hat and a gray suit, over which she wore a fur cape. She wore a double strand of pearls and carried a bouquet of small pink roses and blue orchids presented by Mrs. St. Laurent.

The President and the first lady stepped down onto a 500-foot red carpet which stretched from the trainshed through Union Station to the street.

Eisenhower shook hands first with the Prime Minister and Gov. Gen. Massey, brother of the actor Raymond Massey and the first native-born Canadian to represent the British crown in Canada.

Then the President presented members of his party. These included Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., chief U. S. delegate to the United Nations.

As the President and his hosts left the flag-decked trainshed and walked into the station concourse, a great cheer went up from the crowd. There were cries of "Hi Ike." Beaming, Eisenhower waved greetings.

Outside the station a crowd of thousands cut loose with more cheers and applause as the President walked into Confederation Square.

A 100-man guard of honor snapped to attention. From the distance a 21-gun salute boomed out and the royal 22nd Regiment band played "The Star Spangled Banner."

The day was bleak and gray. Eisenhower inspected the honor guard and then walked 100 yards to the National War Memorial. Along the way there were more "Hi Ike" greetings and more cheers.

At the memorial, Eisenhower inspected another honor guard, this one made up of members of the Canadian legions. Then he placed a wreath of red, white and blue flowers at the shrine as the royal Canadian navy and air force bands played the hymn "Abide With Me."

After the ceremony, the President, with Mrs. Eisenhower drove with the governor general to his official residence, Rideau Hall, situated on an 88-acre estate of lawns and woods.

They remained there as guests of the governor general, who gave a state dinner in their honor at night.

Eisenhower Met White, Aide Claims

NEW YORK (AP)—Fred Smith, a former Treasury Department aide, said Friday that President Eisenhower met Harry Dexter White in a tent in England in 1944.

President Eisenhower, questioned at his press conference last Wednesday about the controversial White case, said he had never met White and knew nothing about him.

Smith, a former assistant to Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, confirmed details of a magazine article he wrote in 1947 describing a conference of Eisenhower, Morgenthau and White in Eisenhower's headquarters tent in southern England.

Smith said he was present also. Existence of the article was disclosed Friday by the New York Post, which reprinted excerpts from it on its editorial page. The article was published in the March 1947, "United Nations World," a private magazine on international affairs. It had no connection with the United Nations.

The article says that at a meeting on Aug. 7, 1944, the "Morgenthau Plan was born." This was a proposal to turn postwar Germany into a farming nation, with no industrial war potential.

The article pictures Eisenhower as advocating stern policies toward Germany, along with White and Morgenthau.

Eisenhower, in his book, "Crusade in Europe," published in 1948 confirms that the meeting with Morgenthau took place, but he does not mention White. He relates that Morgenthau brought up German economic problems, and adds:

"I candidly told him that I had been far too busy to be specifically concerned with the future economy of Germany, but that I had an able staff section working on the problem."

In Canada where Eisenhower is visiting, an aide said there would be no comment on Smith's article. Morgenthau's office said there would be no comment.

Pay Boosts Favored at OSEA Session

Six resolutions urging pay raises or adjustments were passed by the Oregon State Employees Association in annual council at Astoria Friday morning. The present state payroll is $127 million per biennium.

The employe group will "vigorously petition" the State Emergency Board to approve the immediate reserve of a portion of the emergency fund for wage and salary adjustments one step in salary range, if found justified.

All state employes who regularly work at night should get a minimum of five percent additional pay. Delegates agreed in another resolution. Employees will seek over-time pay in cash rather than the present practice of payment in days off. Longevity salary rates will be asked as a future objective, OSEA delegates agreed. Holiday time worked should be compensated by later days off, another resolution states.

James Clinton, retiring state civil service director, told the employe group that a pay increase before the 1955 legislature is impossible because of depletion of the emergency fund. Clinton said he believed state employes should get a 10 per cent salary increase to compare with rates in private industry.

Nominations for officers and directors of OSEA include: President, V. G. O'Neil, re-election, and V. J. Bell, vice president, Webb Ross, A. E. Johnson and G. Einarson; secretary-treasurer, Everett Holt and Kenneth Connor; director of civil service, Gordon Shattuck; public relations, Genevieve Morgan; director of retirement, re-election, P. M. Brandt; laws and legislation, Gatlin Brandon; insurance, Fred Champagne; and membership, Inez Cummins, for re-election, and Lyle Searc.

Election will be held Saturday afternoon at the closing session of the employes' parley.

Other resolutions include: (1) establishment of a fair and equitable parity; (2) enacting of parity legislation; and (3) continued opposition to reducing the present wool tariff now at little over 24 cents.

Jones approved other possible programs suggested by U. S. Department of Agriculture. These included: (1) restoration of the 34 cent wool tariff; (2) establishing a processing tax in lieu of tariff in combination with present tariff and processing tax; (3) continuation of the Credit Commodity Loan; or applying a quota to foreign wool importation 12.00-12.50; young cows to 13.50; utility-commercial bulls 11.00-13.00; one heavy bull 13.25.

He asked whether anybody in the crowd had a bloodhound. "Sure," someone replied, and produced a hound that soon slipped away from the posse. They found the dog peacefully snoozing under a myrtle bush.

Then it developed that it was Hamilton's dog. So Perrin asked where the dog was during the burglary. "Asleep under the house, I reckon," said Hamilton.

Parity-Based Tariff on Wool Wins Backing

By LILLIE L. MADSEN
Farm Editor, The Statesman

PORTLAND (AP)—A wool tariff, based on a "fair and equitable parity" was favored by J. M. Jones, secretary of the National Wool Growers Association, Salt Lake City, Utah, as a possible means of taking wool growers out of their present doldrums.

Jones was featured speaker at the Friday afternoon session of the Oregon Wool Growers in convention at Imperial Hotel.

The national secretary explained the three steps to the program he favored: (1) establishment of a fair and equitable parity; (2) enacting of parity legislation; and (3) continued opposition to reducing the present wool tariff now at little over 24 cents.

Jones approved other possible programs suggested by U. S. Department of Agriculture. These included: (1) restoration of the 34 cent wool tariff; (2) establishing a processing tax in lieu of tariff in combination with present tariff and processing tax; (3) continuation of the Credit Commodity Loan; or applying a quota to foreign wool importation 12.00-12.50; young cows to 13.50; utility-commercial bulls 11.00-13.00; one heavy bull 13.25.

Stocks Climb Again, Near Old Standing

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market made its second straight advance Friday, holding to a steady course throughout.

Gains at the best in key areas went to around 2 points while losses were cut of at about a point.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks gained 20 cents and stood at $107.80. The average was up 20 cents Thursday, but the two days of gain were not enough to recapture the losses of the first two days of the week. The market was closed Wednesday for Armistice Day.
