

County Polio Record Said Near Normal

The polio record for Marion County this year is believed by Dr. William J. Stace, county health officer, to be "approximately equal to that expected."

The county health report for the week Nov. 7-14 lists three polio cases. Salem Memorial Hospital has three such cases now being treated there.

Still "doing fine" after almost three weeks in a respirator at Salem Memorial is 22-year-old Richard O'Connor, 4710 N. River Rd. Other polio patients undergoing treatment at the hospital and considered "good" Tuesday by hospital authorities are Norman Havercroft, 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Havercroft, Mill City, and Sally Schori, 23, daughter of Mrs. Muriel J. Schori, 608 Tryon Ave.

Three weeks ago Salem Memorial, which has the only local facilities for treating polio, had eight cases under surveillance. Most of these have since been discharged.

Last year (through Oct. 31) Marion County records indicate 25 cases of polio were recorded and this year for the same time 20 cases were reported. However, from Oct. 31 to Nov. 17 five additional cases were reported this year. "For some unknown reason the month of October has been the peak period for the disease during the past few years," Dr. Stace said. County records show that October, 1952, there were 13 cases of polio and this year nine cases were reported for the same month.

Both years accounted for one death, each by polio.

Other diseases reported in the weekly county report for Nov. 7-14 were three cases of measles in Salem and one case of tuberculosis. Reported for the rest of the county were one case of mononucleosis (glandular swelling), three mumps, and one pneumonia. Three cases of venereal disease were reported—one for the rest of the county and two at state institutions.

Allies Drop Plan for World Atom Control

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The Western Big Three have quietly dropped any mention of the U.N.-approved Baruch Plan for the international control of atomic energy from their new disarmament proposals.

This touched off a flurry of speculation Tuesday that a major policy shift was underway, but authoritative spokesmen denied it.

Both the British and American delegations said the plan still had their support. They said the resolution was on the books and they did not feel it was necessary to reaffirm it each time the question of disarmament came up.

Russia has violently objected to repeated references to the U.N. plan and it is understood the new Western reference was partly motivated by a desire to pass this year's disarmament resolution with a minimum of Soviet opposition.

The proposals are scheduled to be voted on in the 60-nation Political Committee Wednesday after three postponements—two of them requested by the Soviet Union.

They ask the U.N.'s Disarmament Commission to continue its two-year-old efforts to end the arms race and suggest that the commission set up private talks among the big powers to help the task along.

Jack Nelson Bound Over To Grand Jury

Jack McReed Nelson, 22, of 685 Court St., waived preliminary examination in Marion County District Court Tuesday and was bound over to the grand jury on a charge of larceny.

The charge resulted after he allegedly stole a car Nov. 10 belonging to Thomas Smith, 660 Hawthorne Ave. This car was abandoned in Milwaukie and Nelson was apprehended Nov. 11 by Portland police in a car which they identified as one stolen in Portland.

Nelson was held Tuesday in lieu of $3,500 bail.

One of the largest single blocks of marble in the United States is incorporated in the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Washington, D. C.

Ex-Salem Woman Helps to Prepare Medical Article

Dr. Robert E. Rinehart of Wheeler, Ore., was among those preparing papers at the annual meeting of the American Association of Tropical Medicine and Hygiene at Louisville, Ky., recently.

His paper, on amoebic infection, was prepared with the assistance of Miss Helen Marcus, medical technician at the Rinehart Clinic at Wheeler. Miss Marcus is a former Salem woman, daughter of Mrs. A. F. Marcus, 1411 State St.

Miss Marcus flew from Portland Nov. 7 to attend the meeting, and is now vacationing in New York City.

Japan Reds Demonstrate Against Nixon

TOKYO (AP)—Japanese Communists demonstrated against Vice President Nixon here Tuesday but the vice president was 400 miles away receiving the applause of 500,000 other Japanese.

It was only the second Communist march in nearly six weeks of Nixon's goodwill tour during which the Reds have, on the whole, maintained a surprising silence.

Approximately 1,000 leftist-dominated students paraded without violence in a Tokyo drizzle with placards saying "go home, Nixon, merchant of death."

The meeting, addressed by Communist Masao Iwana, dispersed quietly under the eyes of 250 watchful policemen.

At the time, the vice president and his pretty wife, Pat, were touring Japan's cultural capitals of Kyoto and Nara and its bustling industrial center, Osaka, before an officially estimated total of 500,000 flag-waving Japanese.

A surging crowd, all carrying paper American flags, momentarily blocked the vice president's motorcade in the heart of Osaka, but there was no hint of trouble in that city, the center of Japan's Communist strength, or elsewhere along a 130-mile tour of temples, farms and shops.

Lawyers Support Sheriff, D.A. of Lincoln County

DELAKE, Ore. (AP)—Eight of Lincoln County's 12 practicing attorneys expressed confidence in the integrity of the sheriff and the district attorney in a letter to Gov. Paul Patterson Tuesday.

The letter stated: "We the undersigned members of the Lincoln County bar wish to convey to you our expression of confidence in the integrity and competence of William P. Hollen and W. A. Kuhlenbeck, respectively the district attorney and sheriff of our county, and we further wish to advise that it is our belief that these officers have provided and will continue to provide Lincoln County with effective law enforcement."

Three of the four men who did not sign the letter have been identified with the group that has charged prostitution and gambling have been permitted to operate throughout the county.

Any way you look at it!

At first glance, this may seem to be a strange point of view. But it is true that sometimes you can save a lot of money by spending just a little. When illness strikes, don't "economize" with home remedies. Call on your Doctor promptly. Let him get you back on the Road to Recovery. Ceiling Falls In Room of Japan Palace

TOKYO (AP)—The imperial household told a shocked Japan Monday that a massive plaster ceiling collapsed in a room where Emperor Hirohito had been watching television a short time before.

The incident occurred in the Emperor's temporary quarters 10 days ago.

The sitting room ceiling fell 90 minutes after Hirohito had left and walked to a laboratory where he studies marine life.

In Japan the expression "let the ceiling fall" has a legendary meaning about the same as making an attempt to assassinate the ruler.

Some 200 years ago a powerful feudal lord was executed on the charge that he attempted to "let the ceiling fall" on the shogun, the military regent of the Emperor, who was about to be a guest of the lord.

Soviet Zone Police Claim Spies Caught

BERLIN (AP)—Soviet Zone police announced Tuesday night they have smashed an "American operation" German spy ring in two Baltic Sea ports and made 11 arrests.

The announcements, carried by the East German news agency (DN), called on shipyard workers to assist security police in suppressing agent groups in the important ship-building ports of Rostock and Wismar and to help "safeguard our state."

Western observers said the announcement indicated growing anti-Red resistance in East Germany's ship-building industry.

The announcement said the "agents" were part of an American-backed West German organization headed by a former Wehrmacht general.

It said two of those arrested already have been sentenced to 25 years imprisonment.

NONSENSE

NEW YORK (INS)—There's a new comedy book on the market which its publishers claim can elicit hearty chuckles from even the most staid citizen. The book is Dick Hyman's "Nonsense, U. S. A.," a collection of nonsensical Americana.

Permit Sought For Portland TV Channel

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Communications Commission was asked by a commission examiner Tuesday to authorize Oregon Television, Inc., to operate a Channel 12 television station in Portland.

Oregon Television is one of three concerns competing for the grant. The others are Columbia Empire Telecasters, organized by the Oregon Journal and other Northwest Television and Broadcasting Co., headed by John D. Keating, who has extensive radio and television interests. Oregon Television is headed by Henry A. White, retired Portland shipbuilder and broker. Several Portland businessmen are associated with him.

The examiner's recommendation was made after extensive hearings in Washington, D. C. The other contestants have 40 days in which to file exceptions. If none are filed, the grant will be made. Representatives of the other two concerns, however, indicated in Portland that they would contest the recommendation.

White said in Portland: "We will make plans just as soon as we can determine how soon equipment will be available and how long it will take to get the station completed."

Two stations already are on the air in Portland, and a construction permit has been granted for a third in the area. KPTV operates on Channel 27, on the ultra-high frequency band, and KOIN-TV on Channel 3, on the very high frequency band. KVAN, Vancouver, has been given a construction permit for a station, the transmitter for which will be on Healy Heights, in Portland. It expects to begin operations around the first of the year.

Interstate Bridge Said Obstruction

PORTLAND (AP)—An organization of towboat and barge lines filed a complaint with the Corps of Engineers Tuesday contending that the present Interstate Bridge across the Columbia River is an obstruction to navigation.

The complaint was filed only two days before a scheduled hearing on plans for a new bridge, which would parallel the present span.

L. Rex Gault, chairman of the Columbia Basin River Operators, said the draw of the present bridge which connects Vancouver, Wash., and Oregon is too narrow, and is located too close to the Washington shore. He said any new bridge should have a higher vertical clearance also.

Snake River Dams Opposed By Fish Board

PORTLAND (AP)—The Oregon Fish Commission Tuesday opposed construction at this time of any dams in the middle Snake River which would block salmon runs.

In a policy statement approved at a meeting here Tuesday, the commission said:

"It is felt that all areas which are already blocked to anadromous fish throughout the Columbia River drainage should be fully developed before building dams which would be harmful to these runs."

The statement went on to say that the Corps of Engineers was experimenting with methods of passing fish over dams.

"It would therefore seem to be very unsound planning to construct dams which would do further harm to the fisheries resource until the findings of this research program can be incorporated in the construction plans for dams proposed for areas which are utilized by anadromous species."

"The statement is to be read at a federal hearing Friday at Orofino, Idaho, on selection of possible water storage sites in the middle Snake River."

The commission also reported it will hold several preliminary hearings soon to discuss proposed salmon fishing seasons and regulations for the Columbia River.

Polio Poster Boy Selected

NEW YORK (AP)—Debbly Dains, a tiny four-year-old boy with big blue eyes and a haunting smile, Tuesday was named poster boy for the 1954 March of Dimes. His home is in Gooding, Idaho.

His picture will appear throughout the nation in January when the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis opens its annual fund raising campaign. He also will make personal appearances. Debbly was stricken with polio at the age of four months. He has never walked without crutches or braces—and may never do so. He cannot remember a life outside the Idaho hospitals where he has been treated.
