Portland Choir to Sing on Jan. 27

The Portland Symphonic Choir will appear at the McMinnville High School gymnasium-auditorium January 27, 8:00 p.m., in a special concert. Virginia Ward Elliott of McMinnville and Arthur Diamond, assistants to the conductor, C. Robert Zimmerman, will direct the Women's and Men's voices in a program closing in a finale of the 100 hundred voices in two numbers from Randall Thompson's works, The Peaceable Kingdom, The Humorous musical prank, The Grasshopper by Clokey.

A popular quartet, The Men About Town, will sing entertaining selections. Mrs. Margaret Chiawell, Portland pianist, will accompany.

The McMinnville High School vocal department is sponsoring the concert and proceeds will be used for the school's musical needs. Tickets may be obtained from members of the school choir or at the door the evening of the performance.

Miss Barbara Culbertson A Bride

The First Methodist Church was the scene of the marriage of Miss Barbara June Culbertson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar M. Culbertson, and Roger Norman Busch, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Busch of Burlingame, Calif., on Sunday afternoon. It was at 3:30 o'clock that the Rev. Harold Black, pastor of the West Salem Methodist Church, officiated at the nuptials.

Herbert Brower was the soloist and Prof. Josef Schnelker the organist. The altar was decorated with bouquets of daffodils and acacia with ivy entwined on the candelabras. The pews were marked with clusters of violets and acacia.

The bridal gown was of French imported lace over net and satin designed with a flared skirt ending in a chapel train. The bodice was enhanced with a jeweled scalloped neckline combined with net and fashioned with a Peter Pan style collar, which was also scalloped and jeweled. A lace cap trimmed with seed pearls held in place her fingertip illusion veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis surrounded by lace.

Precede the Bride
Miss Judie Burdette was the honor maid and Mrs. Edward Young and Miss Janice Coffel were the bridesmaids. They wore yellow lace dresses over matching taffeta with length skirts and rounded necklines with cap sleeves. They carried old fashioned nosegays of violets with clusters of yellow rosebuds in the center. The attendants wore lace caps trimmed with seed and teardrop pearls.

Thomas Carr of Burlingame stood with the groom's best man. Seating the guests were Ernest Snarr and David Townsend of Burlingame, Roland Bliss of Sacramento and John Burdett of Newport.

Mrs. Culbertson chose a navy blue lace and taffeta afternoon gown for the nuptials with pink accessories and corsage of pink rosebuds. Mrs. Busch, who came north with Mr. Busch for the rites, wore a powder blue sheer wool afternoon gown with pink accessories. Her flowers were pink feathered carnations.

Newlyweds Receive
A reception followed in the Carrier Room. Mrs. Grant Hyames, aunt of the bride, Mrs. Roy E. Smith, and the groom's grandparents, Mrs. H. S. Wolverton and Mrs. W. H. Busch, poured. Cutting the cake were Miss Beulah Courtney of Portland and Mrs. Ronald Cross. Assisting were Misses Margie Barge, Jody Boyer, Anna Mae Lockenour, Sandra Sanderson and Linda Busch, younger sister of the groom, who passed the dream cakes.

When the couple left on their wedding trip the new Mrs. Busch wore an aqua faille suit with black accessories and white fleece top coat. Later in the year the newlyweds will be at home in Burlingame, Calif.

Miss Rasmussen Is Engaged

BUTTEVILLE — Mr. and Mrs. John Rasmussen have announced the engagement of their daughter, Joyce Lorraine, to Norman Roy Colvin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Colvin of Aurora.

No definite date has been set for the wedding, but it will probably take place in the later summer.

Miss Rasmussen is a graduate of North Marion Union High School and is employed as a receptionist in the personnel department of the First National Bank Portland. She also attended Pacific Lutheran College for two years.

Mr. Colvin is now engaged in farming and logging operations in the Union Hill district. He attended Canby Union High School and was discharged from the U.S. Air Force about a month ago, having served his tour of duty.

Mrs. Gerald Horn entertained with a birthday party for her son, Johnny, who was seven years old. Guests were Mrs. Lester Orton, Lorie and Keith, Mrs. Gean Fety, Claudie and Jim, Mrs. Keith Layman, Dannie, Dickie and Jimmy, Mrs. John McCrea and David Horn. Mrs. Horn used the "cowboy" theme for decorations with a tent over the serving table, cowboy favors.

Turner—Coming as a surprise to her many friends here is the marriage of Mrs. Lettie Spencer to Robert Garr in Newport. They are making their home in Newport.

On tour around the world, Isaac Stern and his wife found that U. S. musicians are treated like goodwill ambassadors by people of the countries they visit.

Violinist is Good Will Ambassador

Isaac Stern will be in Salem High School auditorium in concert on January 28 under the banner of the Willamette University Distinguished artist series.

NEW YORK (AP)—A musician on tour is just another rubberneck, says Isaac Stern, just back from his first trip around the world.

He started from Edinburgh, visited New York, Honolulu, Japan, Hong Kong, Manila, Calcutta, Bombay, New Delhi, Israel, Milan, Rome, Zurich, London and New York again.

Tens of thousands saw him in concert halls and heard him play. But he heard and saw things, too, and used his cameras.

He and his violin appeared at 59 concerts.

He told me about it just as he resumed his concertizing.

Was a violinist abroad about the same as a violinist in this country?

"No," he answered, and told of a train ride from Tokyo to Osaka:

"I had played a concert in Tokyo. On the train there happened to be a member of the board of governors that sponsored the concert. Our discussion led him to suggest that I meet some government officials riding on the same train.

"So back he took me to the observation car where I was introduced to a group of Japanese leaders in striped pants and high hats. Among them were such top-ranking men as the speaker of the Diet and the minister of defense. We talked, I went back to my seat.

"As the train stopped at Osaka, we noticed a huge crowd waving flags and holding up banners. I said to my wife:

"They're here to greet the government officials, let's wait a few minutes till things quiet down."

"So we waited. Then trying to escape attention, we left our car quietly, and then discovered that

Miss Othelene Lee is Bride of Mr. Colvard at Church Rites

Exchanging their vows at a beautiful 3 o'clock ceremony Sunday afternoon in the new St. Paul's Episcopal Church were Miss Othelene Lee, daughter of Mrs. Othel Elmer Lee and the late Mr. Lee, and William Douglas Colvard, son of Mrs. R. L. Colvard of Pendleton.

The Rev. George H. Swift officiated at the rites with Ronald Craven the soloist and Miss Ruth Bedford the organist. The altar was banked with bouquets of white calla lilies, carnations and snapdragons. The acolytes were David Rhoten and Frank Shafer Jr.

Of white Chantilly lace over satin was the bridal gown, fashioned princess style with a short bolero jacket with long sleeves and a stand-up collar. Her fingertip illusion veil cascaded from a crown of seed pearls and rhinestones. She carried a white orchid on a prayer book. William MacDonald gave his niece in marriage.

Attendants in Blue Net
Five attendants preceded the bride to the altar all wearing identical frocks of ice blue net fashioned with strapless bodices and stoles. The gowns were sprinkled with rhinestone dust and they wore matching blue shoes and net hats. Their bouquets were narcissus and white camellias. Miss Nadine Woodroffe was the honor maid and the Misses Doris Helen Spaulding and Sue Smyth of Portland, Dorothy Pederson and Mrs. Douglas Raines of Salem were the bridesmaids.

Joseph McLoughlin served as his brother-in-law's best man. Seating the guests were James Hensler, William Bissell, Jerry MacAllister and Larry Standifer.

Mrs. Lee chose an ice blue faille gown with pink accessories for her daughter's wedding and Mrs. Colvard wore a mint green gown with black accessories.

Tent Installs New Officers

New officers of Barbara Fritch Tent, Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War were installed Friday night at the VFW Hall.

Installing officers were Mrs. Irene Lawhead, department of Oregon president, Portland, assisted by Mrs. Frederick Dutton, Mrs. Hazel Ollermann, Portland, and Mrs. Ethel Burns, Newberg.

Officers installed were Mrs. Walter Persons, president; Mrs. William Gardner, senior vice-president; Mrs. Pearl Noran, junior vice-president; Mrs. J. F. Ulrich, treasurer; Mrs. L. Inman, chaplain; Mrs. C. Peyton, patriotic instructor; Mrs. Mary Hilburn, Mrs. Edith McCoy, Mrs. Jack Simkin, council; Mrs. Pearl Simkin, secretary; Mrs. Joseph Bach, press correspondent; Mrs. Harry Hiday, historian; Mrs. Jack Nash, musician; Mrs. Mary Hilborn, guide; Mrs. Marie Caldwell, guard; Mrs. Rose Garrett, assistant guard; Miss Harriet Hiday, Mrs. Francis Langford, Mrs. Hazel Ray and Mrs. W. Tull, color bearers.

The department convention was announced for June 23 and 24 in Portland with headquarters at the Congress Hotel.

There's usually lots of candied orange peel in the house around holiday time. If any is left over, add a half cup of it (finely chopped) to a standard muffin recipe. Just stir the peel in when you are combining the liquid and dry ingredients, remembering never to overheat muffins!
